DR. MOORE AN ORATOR.

Great Praise of Him By a Well Known Salisbury Lawyer.

Mr. L. H. Clement, who was among the Salisburyans who went to Greensboro yesterday to attend the reunion of North Carolinians, is enthusiastic over the success of the event.

"I shall never regret that I was there on yesterday," said Mr. Clement. "What I saw and what I heard spoken made my heart glad. It was a great occasion and Greensboro was equal to the occasion."

Asked what impressed him most, Mr. Clement, after a few moments thought, said: "It was the oratory of the Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore, president of the union theological Seminary at Richmond, Va. He is a native of our state, having been born and reared at Charlotte. He is a born orator. His eloquence I shall never forget. I didn't recall that I have ever heard anyone who surpassed Dr. Moore on an occasion similar to this one. It was worth the trip to Greensboro simply to listen to him."

THE POTOMAC SYNOD.

CONVENES HERE NEXT WEEK.

A History of the Synod 120 Delegates Expected.

The Synod of the Potomac convenes in Salisbury next Wednesday morning, 21st inst., and will be in session during the remainder of the week. 120 delegates will be present and many will be accompanied by their wives. Among the delegates will be many of the most prominent Reformed preachers in Pennsylvania and Maryland. A brief sketch of the Synod follows:

Just a score and a half years ago, this Synod was organized at Frederick, Md. Previously, the section it occupies formed part of the original Synod—that of the United States. Its territory, slightly larger than at present, included that part of Pennsylvania lying between the Susquehanna River and the Alleghany Mountains, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, and German congregations on the Pacific coast, now known as the Portland-Oregon Classis.

In 1875, the German churches of Maryland were dismissed to aid in forming a German Synod. In 1896, the congregations on the Pacific coast were transferred to the German Synod of the Northwest. Notwithstanding these losses there has been great inter-racial growth. There are 83 ministers, 68 congregations, 15,101 confirmed and 3,667 unconfirmed members, 60 Sunday Schools, and 19,042 scholars more reported today than 30 years ago. In offerings for benevolence, there has been an annual increase of $20,000.

The Synod was formed for aggressive work—particularly in the South. Much work of this sort has been carried on, and the results have justified the hopes of earlier days. The greatest gain has been in North Carolina, the increase being 127 per cent. But in none of the Classes has it fallen below 50 per cent. This is especially gratifying, and indicates what should be the Synod's chief work—missions.

During all its history, the Synod has been actively engaged in the work of education. It possesses an interest in the Theological Seminary and Franklin & Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa. In addition, it has three institutions under its control—Mercerburg Academy, Mercerburg, Pa.; Woman's College, Frederick, Md.; and Catawba College, Newton, N. C. A fourth within the bounds of Synod, but under the care of Virginia Classis, is Massanuttan Academy, Woodstock, Va.

It has only been within recent years that the benevolent work has assumed a distinctively Synodical form, in a Deaconess' Home, York, Pa., and an Orphan's Home, Crescent, N. C.

The statistics for 1904 are as follows: 177 ministers, 307 congregations; 40,688 confirmed and 20,411 unconfirmed members, 2,028 baptisms, 1,397 confirmed, 1,116 certificates, 274 Sunday Schools, 4,176 officers and teachers, 32,252 scholars, 33 students for the ministry, contributions for benevolent purposes, $42,897, for congregational purposes $232,422. The benevolent gifts of the Synod since its organization amount to $884,647.

Judging by her history, her present ability, and her success, the prospects for larger and more aggressive work are great; and for it the Synod now challenges her ministry, her congregation, and her laity.

Kizer, county superintendent, and shows a total of 11,090, of whom 3,930 are in Salisbury township. There are 8,270 whites and 2,830 colored. The net gain over last year is 109, an increase of 163 inside the city limits being partly offset by a loss of 54 in the remainder of the county. Following is the school population of the principal precincts: Salisbury, 2,022; Salisbury Cotton Mill, 664; Vance Cotton Mill, 350; Kesler Cotton Mill, 143; Spencer, 217; East Spencer, 169; China Grove, 428; Gold Hill, 122; Granite Quarry, 115, says the Salisbury correspondent of the Charlotte Observer.

HOITY TOITY.

What the Columbus Ohio People Think of It.

The Columbus, Ohio Citizen says of Hoity Toity, which comes to Salisbury Saturday night: "Bright, musical and with a liberal sprinkling of fun of the best sort, 'Hoity Toity' deliriously prides ourselves on packed house at the Grand Opera House last evening, where it was given up his work with half week's engagement."

Production, which it is claimed is identical with the New York success is given by an excellent company which makes the most of its opportunities. The result is that Columbus is afforded probably the best reproductions of the Weber and Fields burlesque which it has yet been its fortune to laugh at. The company is large and has considerable merit. The chorus is well balanced and sings some very tuneful melodies. There is a variety of costumes rarely seen and lighting and scenic effects are remarkable. The German comedians dispose of considerable amount of dialogue, which possesses the unusual combination of being humorous enough to keep the audience in an uproar and the same time being absolutely without any questionable features. None of the members of the company stand out prominently but all are equal to their parts, and the jumble of music, dances, specialties, splendid lighting effects and Dutch comedians moves with a vim and dash.

"Hoity Toity" is well worth seeing.

"Jack Special."

Mr. C. E. Robertson has received for the Robertson Grocery Company an especially prepared cigar called "Jack Special," so named for Mr. Robertson, who is familiarly known as Jack.
