SALISBURY A WINNER.

McAdenville and Salisbury Play This Afternoon at Fulton Park

The score of 7 to 11 when the game between the Spencer and Salisbury base ball teams was ended yesterday afternoon in favor of the Salisbury team was not a fair index to the battle royal that took place at Fulton Heights Park. There were errors and errors but they were fortunately bunched and until the last half of the seventh inning the result was doubtful. The diamond was exceedingly slow for five innings and to this condition may be credited half the errors. But both teams played ball and played it with a vengeance. The Spencer boys never despaired for a moment and fought for a victory to the last inning. Some of their star players, however, were not in the best of shape and several costly errors gave Salisbury three runs. The teams are well matched and not fifty of the five hundred people who witnessed yesterday's game will lose an opportunity to see the next contest between these well matched teams.

Salisbury has every reason to feel proud of her ball aggregation. It is to be doubted if a better team can be found in the South. The only essential lacking is team work and that Salisbury did not have yesterday for three innings.

This was due in a great measure, however, to the fact that many of the players were brought together for the first time. Regular practice will give the snap and understanding necessary to entirely clean work. Yesterday's attendance encouraged the Salisburyans who have invested their money in the park and employed players and the crowd should be even larger at every succeeding game. At 4:30 this afternoon Salisbury crosses bats with McAdenville at the park.

GYPSIES' FESTIVAL.

Will be Repeated To-night at Mercury's Opera House.

Some of the numbers on the program, to be given again tonight at the opera house, are worth alone the price of admission, for instance: Miss Geneva Bradley, in her "Kentucky Dialogue," "Kentucky Philosophy." GUN TOTERS.

A Serious Trouble Narrowly Averted This Morning.

Two well known Salisburyans armed to the teeth threatened to do serious damage with their guns this morning and but for the intervention of Chief-of-Police Miller some damage would have resulted. One of the combatants had a rifle, the other a pistol. Both were disarmed, however, and peace restored. The trouble occurred on Main street.

HAS THE CRAZE.

The Baseball Fever Strikes Salisbury With a Vengeance.

Salisbury has the base ball fever with as much vengeance as Raleigh experienced in the year 1901. The material secured by the Salisbury management (and this relates to the splendid respectability of every man on the team as well as playing quality) captivated every Salisbury man who witnessed the game of yesterday afternoon. If the team is held together until September Dr. J. M. Flippin, the manager, predicts that it will win the championship of the South.

To repeat, Salisbury has the base ball fever and a very, very bad case.

LIFE GROUND OUT.

Lloyd Stafford Mangled by Wheels Under Which He Falls.

Asheville, N. C., June 30.—A fatal accident occurred on the yards of the Southern Railway this morning shortly after 8 o'clock, when Floyd Stafford, a white boy, 15 or 16 years old, of the Reems Creek section of the county, in attempting to swing up on a freight car of a westbound train was thrown beneath the wheels and crushed to death.

The fearful accident was witnessed by several parties, who immediately went to the unfortunate boy's assistance. It was found that the right leg was crushed and mangled; the left leg broken and an ugly gash on the head; and that he was also crushed about the middle of the body and injured internally.

When the boy was picked up he was still alive and exhibited a wonderful amount of nerve. He told those about him that his name was Floyd Stafford; that he lived Reems Creek township and that he was making his way to Tennessee. He looked at his mangled limbs and took considerable interest in his hurts. He lived about an hour, when death relieved him of his suffering.

One of them hit a guest squarely in the mouth and the other grazed the pastor's head.

Passaic, N. J., June 30.—When Mail Clerk Samuel Bailey of the Passaic postoffice opened the mail bag, containing a number of letters from Philadelphia and New York this morning, a cat, much the worse for travel, crawled out and fell exhausted on the floor.

After being fed a good meal of milk and bread, the cat picked up, and this afternoon was running around the postoffice as lively as if it had never traveled in a mail bag. Several of the letters in the bag were torn by the cat.
