KILLED ACCIDENTALLY

MR. GIDEON MISENHEIMER SHOT.

Accidentally Killed Himself While Hunting Yesterday.

While Mr. Gideon Misenheimer, his father and his brother were out hunting yesterday, the young man named, accidentally shot himself and died an hour and a half later. He was carrying a 22 calibre rifle and the dogs were chasing a rabbit which they caught. Just how the accident was caused is not known. It is thought that the rifle was cocked and the trigger pulled, but in an unaccountable way.

When young Misenheimer was shot, his brother ran to him and asked him if he had hurt himself. He replied that he had and that he would not have done it for all the rabbits. The bullet entered the right side of the face, ranged upwards and lodged in the brain.

Mr. Misenheimer leaves a young wife to whom he was married a year ago, and her lot is a sad one. The accident took place in Morgan township sixteen miles from here.

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING.

Miss Wiley E. Barber Weds Mr. Wm. A. Monroe.

Last night at 8:30 o'clock at the residence of Capt. J. Frank Barber, the father of the bride, Miss Wiley Ethel Barber and Mr. William Asby Monroe were joined in matrimony, Rev. Dr. F. J. Murdoch officiating. Mrs. H. H. Spedden played the wedding march—Lohengrin.

The attendants were Miss Grace West, maid of honor, beautifully dressed in green mull, and Mr. Albert Monroe, cousin of the groom as best man. The groom entered the parlor with the best man, Mr. Monroe, and the bride followed leaning on the arm of her father who was handomely dressed in white silk carrying white chrysanthemums. The parlor was tastefully decorated in white, yellow and green.

The presents were numerous and handsome. The bride, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barber, is an admirable and lovely young woman. The groom, a son of Mr. W. A. Monroe, Sr., is an employee of the Southern shops and is much respected by all who know him. An informal reception was held after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe are at Mrs. Bradshaw's on North Main street for the present.

2 DEATHS IN COUNTY.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN PERSONS.

Mrs. Knox and Mr. Steele, of Cleveland, Are Dead.

Mrs. Ben Allen Knox, of Cleveland, died yesterday morning at her home about 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Knox had been ill for several weeks with typhoid fever and during the early part of her illness gave promise of her recovery. She passed the crisis, however, in a weakened condition and her death was not unexpected.

Mrs. Knox, before her marriage was Miss Kittie McKinnon, of Robeson county. She was of a Scotch-Irish family and her devotion to the Presbyterian church, the national religion of Scotland, was one of the dominating characteristics of her life. She was 67 years old, a brief period of time, but seems of usefulness they were. Mrs. Knox leaves a husband, one of Rowan's prominent farmers and citizens, a man of wealth and influence. She is also survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. B. Johnston, of Mocksville, and Miss Katie James Knox, of Cleveland. Mrs. J. B. Council, of this city, is a niece.

The funeral services were held today from Cleveland and the interment made in the Presbyterian burying grounds.

Salisbury is especially saddened today over the sudden death last night of Mr. J. W. Steele, of Cleveland. Heart failure was the direct cause of his unexpected taking off, there having been nothing throughout the day indicating less than his customary health.

He ate heartily of the good things prepared for his Thanksgiving, and there was not the slightest warning of the end which took place at 9:30.

Mr. Steele was past the allotted life of man but had unusual vigor for a man deprived of one of his useful members. Twenty-six years ago he lost a leg by having it caught in a mowing machine and so badly mutilated as to make amputation necessary. He continued to live on his farm until eight years ago, when he moved to Cleveland, where he lived with his daughter, Mrs. Frank Thompson.

Mr. Steele is well remembered here and his intense love for his party and the cause of the Confederacy were things that died with him. He was a man of most exuberant spirits and at the last Democratic rally here in November took an amusing part in the parade.

Mr. Steele was a Presbyterian in religion and took great interest in his church. As a farmer he was very successful and his care for his family was most assiduous. About twelve years ago he lost his youngest son, John, and later lost another son, Matthew. Mrs. Annie Ford, of Cleveland, Mrs. W. T. Kincaid and Mrs. Lee Kincaid, of Statesville, Mrs. J. P. Knox, of Waynesville, Mrs. W. F. Thompson and Mr. Joe Steele, of Cleveland, survive him.

The funeral services will take place tomorrow from Third Creek church.

A Deserved Compliment.

The city editor of the Sun takes the privilege of copying and endorsing this editorial paragraph from the Charlotte Chronicle:

In noting the sale of that paper to Messrs. H. B. Varner and Carl Hammer, the Salisbury Sun says that Mr. Joe X. Rouché, one of the founders of the paper, will engage in other business. The newspaper fraternity will regret this, we are sure. While not a performer before the grand stand, Mr. Rouché is a practical newspaper man and a hard worker.

AN ARTISTIC TRIUMPH

WAS "SCENES FROM THE BIBLE"

And This Show of Beauty Was Too Poorly Attended.

The second production of the Scenes from the Bible, at the Opera House on Wednesday night, gained much over the first in the technical excellence that comes from practice, and lost nothing of the beauty which delighted the audience of the first night. Everything went with remarkable smoothness for an amateur production, several scenes which were omitted on the first night were presented, the intervals between the pictures were as short as could possibly have been expected, and some charming musical numbers were introduced during the periods of waiting.

Taken altogether, it is the merest justice to say that the production of these scenes from the sacred text has been an artistic triumph. Nothing has ever been seen in Salisbury to equal these living pictures in beauty of conception, in richness and picturesqueness of spectacular effect, in poetic grace of composition and in fidelity of detail.

As the curtain rose upon scene after scene, each if possible more striking and more beautiful than the other, and each telling its story with the dramatic force and with a marvelous loveliness of color, form and pose, wonder grew in the minds of the spectators, not only for the effects presented, but for the artistic knowledge and skill which had produced such effects under difficulties which might well have seemed insurmountable.

For it was an undertaking as difficult as it was ambitious, to present these Oriental scenes, demanding such splendor of setting and warmth of coloring, such picturesque costuming and such accuracy of accessories, without the resources of stage and scenery which are only to be found in metropolitan theatres.

And yet, lacking these resources, genius and untiring energy achieved results so wonderful that they can never be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to witness them.

That the number of these spectators was comparatively small is a matter for regret on more than one score. It is not to the credit of Salisbury that such an entertainment, given for such an object, should not have received the liberal patronage it deserved. And it may also be truly said that those who failed to attend lost an opportunity of realizing in a very striking manner—some of the most famous scenes in the beautiful stories in Holy Writ.

The treatment of every theme was as reverential as it was artistic, and was dominated throughout by a good taste and a deep religious feeling which made no mistake. Whether it was in the rich splendor of Belshazzar's Feast, the spiritual dream of Jacob, the tender grace of the exquisite idyl of Ruth, or the beautiful choir of white robed angels telling their tidings of great joy to the shepherds of Bethlehem, the same spirit of reverence, of fidelity to the sacred text and of poetic interpretation was apparent, and conveyed a lesson which only the dullest could possibly misinterpret. It is such pictures as these that the whole world flock to see given in the Tyrolean village of Ober-Ammergau, and so Salisbury—at least the cultured and appreciative portion of its community—owes a debt of gratitude to those whose taste planned and whose labor executed this beautiful and elevating exhibition.

Not a Sick Day Since. I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility. This is what E. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c. at all druggists.

VERY FRIGHTFUL FALL

WORKMAN GOES DOWN CHIMNEY.

Several Attempts Made Before it Was Accomplished.

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—Horrible and sickening was the scene at the masked execution of Otis Loveland, who was electrocuted in the death chair this morning in the penitentiary for complicity in the murder and robbery of George Gayer, near Alton, O., a year ago last June. The first shock failed to cause his death and the electrodes were readjusted. When the second shock was administered Loveland's body jerked and twisted, the straps not having been properly fastened. The body was badly burned where the contact was made.

Spencer, Nov. 23.—Mr. Adam Hartley, an employee of the Southern Railway shops at this place, had a frightful and dangerous experience here last night which came near costing him his life. Having been detailed to do some work in the large new smokestack which is about 80 feet in height, Mr. Hartley was some distance from the bottom on the inside of the huge chimney when in some unaccountable manner he fell to the ash pit below, sustaining what is feared a fracture of his skull besides other severe injuries. He was promptly rescued from the pit by fellow workmen and medical attention rendered as soon as possible. The injured man was carried to his home in Salisbury and it is thought he will soon recover.

The Southern shops closed down tonight for a Thanksgiving holiday and many of the employees went to old homes in various States for a short visit. A large party of business men, shop men and office men went to Richmond tonight to witness the great football contest at that place tomorrow between the University teams of Virginia and North Carolina. Among the party were Capt. E. M. Patterson, a popular conductor on the Southern, who chaperones the company; and Dr. J. W. Carlton, who is prepared to do any repair work that may become necessary on the grounds.

The Spencer Railroad Young Men's Christian Association now has on hand an interesting membership contest which has already added more than 100 new members to its roll. Two teams of 12 men each are in the field, the "Reds" being in command of Capt. E. L. Simpson, a conductor on the Southern, the "Blues" in charge of Capt. J. J. McDaniels, chief car inspector at this place. The Reds now have to their credit 61 applications and the Blues 29. The contest will close December 31st, at which time a banquet will be given by the ladies auxiliary and the winning team will be waited upon by the losers in the contest.

Mr. J. N. Reeder, formerly of Spartanburg, has been installed as agent of the Southern Railway and Southern Express Company at this place instead of Mr. A. H. Holder who has held the position for several years. Capt. E. A. Adams, formerly yard conductor at this place, has accepted a position with a railway in St. Louis for which city he left several days ago. He is succeeded here by Capt. J. H. Camden, formerly of Greenville, South Carolina.

EXONERATES POLICE

But Scores the Judge. Recommends Establishment of Court.

London, Nov. 25.—The commission appointed to consider the case of Adolph Beck imprisoned because of mistaken identity finds he was badly used by the trial judge but exonerates the police and recommends the establishment of a court to pass upon all criminal appeals instead of sending them to the home office as at present.

JEW TO HELP SULTAN.

A Conditional Loan of Twenty-Five Millions to Turkey.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—It is learned that a group of wealthy Jews have offered to extricate the Sultan of Turkey from his financial difficulties by a loan of twenty-five million dollars on condition that the sultan permits the Jews to colonize in Palestine unhindered.

Opposition to Standard.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 25.—The Russian petroleum companies, which control fifty per cent. of the petroleum exported, have formed a combination in opposition to the Standard Oil Company and will ask for government support.

PAYNE'S DISCOVERY IS POPULAR

Grateful People are Visiting Sales Rooms Daily to Thank Mr. Payne.

Payne's New Discovery the wonderful new remedy, which is being so successfully introduced here by Payne the advertiser, seems to be accomplishing all that is claimed for it. To our representative Mr. Payne said today, "A man or woman who has been benefited and made well again in a comparatively short time, is the most grateful person in the world, to the outsider to the many calls that I receive after the first week in town, from people who are taking the new discovery and come to tell me what it is doing for them, seems to be very unusual, but in the past few years I have been going through this experience in very city I have visited, and have come to take it much as a matter of course, after my first few days in town when people who have tried one bottle and come back to the remainder of 5 bottles for $1, is enormous. Probably, you do not know it but there are more people in North Carolina suffering with catarrh than any other disease. Catarrh is not only a most disgusting and offensive disease, but when allowed to continue, becomes constitutional and the foul secretions which form in the cavity of the head, dripping downward are carried through the membranes to every part of the body poisoning the whole system, that Payne's New Discovery cures this disease and cures it permanently is shown by large numbers of people that are calling daily to express their gratitude.

If troubled with a weak digestion try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will do you good. For sale by James Plummer, druggist.

A FIRE YESTERDAY.

MR. J. N. MAUPIN'S HOUSE INJURED

Origin of Fire Unknown. About $3000 Loss.

Yesterday evening about 4:30 the fire alarm was sounded and the pretty residence of Mr. J. M. Maupin was discovered to be ablaze. Neighbors and firemen responded promptly and did all they could do, succeeding in subduing the flames and saving the greater part of the household goods. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The greatest loss to Mr. Maupin is the impairment of his house, the second floor being badly damaged, and the destruction by water, of many of his fixtures about the house. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The Weather Forecast for North Carolina for 24 Hours.

Washington, D. C. Nov. 25.—The weather forecast for North Carolina for the ensuing 24 hours is: Fair tonight, and Saturday, cloudy.

A FAMINE FEARED.

Hurricane Devasted Portion of Honduras—Destroyed Villages and Crops.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 24.—A special from Mazatlan, Mexico, says:

Advices received from Tegucigalpa, capital of Honduras, state that a hurricane has devastated the northern shores of that country. Entire villages have been destroyed and crops of fruits and cereals ruined. The loss of life among the coast Indians is said to have been considerable.

Contributions are being raised for the homeless sufferers in various parts of the country. The government has ordered a cargo of corn, rice and beans from San Francisco. There is a fear of a famine in the country, as crops in the interior section were partly ruined by storms some time ago.

Scarf Missed.

To the actors in "Scenes from the Bible:"—Has anyone taken home by mistake a white silk scarf hemstitched on each end or one side? If so please return to Miss Bessie Henderson. She has several pairs of wings in her possession.

"PEOPLE WILL TALK!"

Yes, people will talk! It has ever been so! You can't stop them. It is one of the privileges that cannot be taken from them. But they should always talk wisdom, and act with discretion. And that's why the L. Thomas Co. Furniture House is the general topic of conversation among housekeepers and others who contemplate buying furniture. They are talking wisdom and they use discretion when they come to see us before buying—
