Fit Observance of Holidays

Two demands are just now beginning to make themselves felt, one for a more sane celebration of the Fourth of July and the other for a more reverential observance of Memorial Day. These two holidays, radically different in origin and spirit, are now celebrated in much the same fashion, which in the case of Memorial Day is unbecoming and little short of sacrilegious. Only a small portion of the population now observe Memorial Day in the spirit in which it was originally set apart. As a rule, it is given up to sports and frivolity or dissipation of one kind or the other, and is observed in a reverent and becoming manner only by those to whom the civil war, with its suffering and sacrifice, is a living, ever-present memory. It was perhaps inevitable that this should be so, but the fact is not the less deplorable.—Cleveland

Roosevelt Still a Possibility

If Theodore Roosevelt persists in his present course; if he continues to wage war against official corruption; if he continues to fight corporate greed; if he persists in being the President of the people, it is highly probable that he may not be a candidate of any party for the presidency of the United States four years hence, but how about the people? They may insist that Theodore Roosevelt be their candidate for the presidency, and in such an event Theodore Roosevelt could not decline. Just at present Theodore Roosevelt is neither president, measured by party standards. He is, however, progressing along lines that will win for him the admiration and commendation of the a man of Roosevelt's individuality, brain and courage, would be irresistible in American politics.—Augusta (Ga.) Herald.

The Satisfactory Drug Store

It's a satisfaction to trade at some drug stores—they always have what you want and the quality you want.

Our store is that kind.

Our stock is so ample that you can depend upon finding anything in the drug store line here if it is to be had. Another feature that adds to the satisfaction is that people never go away with that "overcharged" feeling. Our prices are the same to all and are always reasonable. Just try us and see.

May 20-1m

Concord, N. C., April 12, 1905.

Mr. A. W. McAllister, Vice President, Southern Life and Trust Company, Greensboro, N. C.:

Dear Sir: When the organization of your life insurance company was first announced, I was doubtful as to its success on account of the difficulties of a small company confronted by the strenuous competition of a large number of old and strong companies, but after looking into your plans and seeing the care and conservatism which you had exercised in embarking in this business and having some knowledge of your success in other departments, I was convinced that you would be successful in your life insurance business, and became a policy holder in the company, although I had many life insurance propositions from other companies. I am very much pleased with the policy I hold in the Southern Life and Trust Company and believe that a safe, sound and conservative home life insurance company like yours can perhaps accomplish more than any other single agency in conserving and building up the wealth of the State, and I believe that the security afforded to your policy holders by your surplus resources and by the deposit of your legal reserve with the insurance department of the State of North Carolina entitles your company to the loyal patronage of the people of North Carolina.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. W. CANNON.

The First Thing Needed

Mayor Dunne, of Chicago, ought to have gumption enough to know that before the city government can operate a street railroad or any other public utility he must first have a city government. This first requisite he is proved to be incapable of supplying except when the people voluntarily keep the peace. In a time of stress men are slugged, and these crimes are committed with impunity, so far as the mayor and his force of police are concerned. Government owner-implies a government, and this city of Chicago lacks a good deal of having under such a mayor as the one now in office.—Marion (Ind.) Chronicle.

Rheumatism, gout, backache, acid poison, are results of kidney trouble. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea goes directly to the seat of the disease and cures when all else fails. 35 cents.

The Renter's Advantages

"If we economize," said the hus band, "we will soon have a house of our own instead of having to live in rented property."

"But I'm not sure I would like that, answered the wife. I couldn't drive nails anywhere I pleased in the walls or wood work of our own house, you know."—Chicago News.

Good advice to women. If you want a beautiful complexion, clear skin, bright eyes, red lips good health take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. There is nothing like it. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets.

Trees That Make a Noise.
A curiosity is known in the tropics as the sand bark tree and also as the monkey's dinner bell. It has a round, hard shelled fruit about the size of an orange, which when ripe and dry bursts open with a sharp noise like the report of a pistol. Its juice is poisonous. The South American trumpet tree might furnish a band with musical instruments, inasmuch as its hollow branches are utilized for horns and also for drums.

His Bitter Experience.
"Can't you swallow even a sugar coated pill?"
"No. You see, the blamed thing seems to take its coat off before starting on its trip."
