

UNFAIR DEALING.

Miners and Operators Bring Charges to Board of Conciliation.

Pottsville, Pa., July 28.—Charges of blacklisting were made against the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company at the session of the board of conciliation held late today. The company is accused of violating both the letter and the spirit of the award of the president's commission by discriminating against men who took part in the late strike. It is alleged that several hundred men have been put on the blacklist in the Panther Creek valley, while others are still at their homes unemployed. On the other hand Superintendent Luther of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company has a list of grievances charging the miners of that company with having violated the award of the commission. On account of the lateness of the hour these grievances were not considered.

The board decided to hold its next meeting in Pottsville next Thursday. At this meeting the secret session will be abandoned and the public will be fully informed of what occurs. No decisions on any disputed questions were arrived at today. It is stated that the board is deadlocked on every important subject. Superintendent Luther said that the work is dragging to such an extent that the corporation representatives can ill afford to take the time from their regular work.

A Strong Will.

Let the boy who is discouraged read this. There is a tonic in another's successful overcoming.

In his boyhood, Henry Clay made up his mind that he would become an orator. In this he was discovered by his parents and those who worked with him on the plantation, but his ideal was so strongly impressed upon him that nothing could shake it.

Some one gave him a reader, and his first effort was to memorize a number of selections. He asked his friends to hear him recite them, but they laughed at the idea of a barefooted boy being an orator.

Undaunted, young Clay went in the barn almost every day, and recited with the horses and cows for an audience, recited and practiced oratory. These were his first audiences; and as a great statesman, he remarked, in later years, that they were his most patient, earnest listeners. The experience, which now seems ridiculous, was, in fact, a very helpful one, for the brilliant young Kentuckian later became what he said he would from the first—an eminent orator.—Y. P. Weekly.

Set on Fire by the Sea.

Fancy the waves of the sea setting fire to the cliffs they break on? Yet this is what did really happen at Ballybunion on the west coast of Ireland. These rocks, which the great Atlantic rollers have for centuries been slowly breaking down, contain in their depths masses of iron pyrites and alum. At last the water penetrated to these and a rapid oxidation took place, which produced a heat fierce enough to set the whole cliff on fire. For weeks the rocks burned like a regular volcano and great clouds of smoke and vapor rose high in the air.—Ex.

ESCORTED BY TROOPS.

Captain Leaves Jackson for Healthful Locality.

Jackson, Ky., July 28.—Captain Ewen left this morning for Lexington. He will go to Cynthiana Sunday to testify against Jett and White. He was escorted by a detail of soldiers as far as Torrent. The troops got off at Torrent and escorted Charles Green, a witness before the grand jury, who has been threatened, back to Jackson. Green is to testify in the Cockrill case. It is claimed that he saw the men who fired the shot that killed Cockrill.

Lexington, Ky., July 28.—Curtis Jett and Thomas White, indicted for the murder of J. B. Marcum at Jackson, who have been in jail for safe keeping, were quietly spirited away from the Fayette county jail this morning, put on the 7:05 train and taken to Cynthiana, where they are to be tried by Judge Osborne, July 27. They were taken by Sheriff Leach and his deputy under an order of the Harrison circuit court, and only the jailer and the officials knew of the movement.

The Governor an Extremist.

The truth is that Governor Aycock is an extremist of the most extreme type. In the matter of pardons he has not merely carried his ideas of mercy to extremes, but he was wronged every man in the State who obeys the laws. He has turned loose upon society some of the lowest specimens of humanity, and often he has done this without a shadow of moral right simply because he is unbalanced when it comes to a matter of personal feeling.—Greenville Reflector.

It Defies Electricity.

A safety dress of thickly woven wire gauze has been invented for electricians by a German scientist. It is intended to be worn while working in a high tension laboratory. A current of electricity sufficient to kill the wearer can pass through the dress for some seconds without perceptible effect. Standing uninsulated on the ground, the wearer can draw sparks from the terminals of the transformer without danger. Not even the slightest sensation of any current is felt through. The invention of this dress now makes it possible for any scientific operator to perform successfully the most dangerous experiments in electrical research.—Illustrated London News.

Fatal end of Poker Game.

A game of poker at Opeliska, this county, ended fatally Monday night. Thomas Carter took down a big pot and was accused of cheating by Hyer. Instantly five pistols were pulled and four men took sides against Hyer. Hyer was quicker than his assailants and fired with deadly effect, killing Carter instantly and mortally wounding Jensen and Horner. Hyer escaped.—Morgantown W. Va., dispatch.

Saved From Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt, of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. INFLUENCE FOR OPEN DOOR.

By the United States Will be Exerted at Every Possible Step.

Washington, July 22.—Inasmuch as the Chinese government recently expressed its willingness to yield to the desires of the United States for open ports in Manchuria, the officials here are at a loss to understand the communication sent by Prince Ching to Minister Conger refusing this concession. They have received no advice on the subject. Washington officials continue in their belief that the situation ultimately will be clarified and the efforts of the United States be rewarded. In some quarters the objections urged to the opening of ports in Prince Ching's communication are regarded as mere diplomatic quibble designed perhaps to placate Russia. No matter what fresh obstacle may intervene, our government, firm in the conviction that the principle of the open door in China should be enjoyed by all nations, will continue to exert its influence in that direction.

The Quilting Party.

It is refreshing to read among the society notes that down in Clay county they have had an old fashioned quilting and a good dinner. Now, that beats your "at homes" with a little cup of tea in one room, a piece of cake about as large as your finger in another room and then some kind of truck in a saucer in another room. An old fashioned quilting party is a thing of beauty.

All kinds, in big dishes, big cups of coffee and all that topped off with pie and four or five story cake, is not to be mentioned in the same breath with one of these "functions" where style is a plenty and eating slim. And then there is something else that makes us warm up to the quilting party. We never heard any of the good women who attended one getting mad and mouthing and raising the devil because all their names were not in type as big as your hand in the local paper. Blessings on the quilting party, which same we can't say concerning some social "functions."—Monroe Enquirer.

No Dead Line for Justice Harlan.

Although Justice Harlan, of the United States Supreme court has reached what some have been pleased to call the "dead line" of active life, being now three score and ten, he does not propose to recognize that arbitrary limitation, but will continue his duties on the bench for an indefinite time. He sees no apparent reason why he should retire, since he enjoys excellent health and is apparently no older than he was twenty years ago. He walks from Washington to the Chevy Chase club, a good seven miles, to play his frequent game of golf, and he seldom rides to or from the sessions of the court. Probably his fine physical condition is due to his excellent habits.—Leslie's Weekly.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run down people always gain new life strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c.

TORNADO DOES DAMAGE.

One Man Killed and Several are Injured. Trees Blown Down.

Paterson, N. J., July 22.—A terrific tornado visited this city today. During the blow, which lasted about three minutes, one man was killed and at least half a dozen injured. One house was blown down, more than a score of buildings were unroofed and havoc was done to trees, fences, signs and awnings. Half a dozen men were at work patching up a house. When the tornado struck this building, it collapsed. Joseph Van Dam was buried under the wreckage and instantly killed. Four other men were caught but were dug out alive, though unconscious. Two other men were injured in other parts of the city. At St. Joseph's hospital, the patients were thrown into a panic. Big trees in the grounds around the hospital were blown down, the windows were smashed and the awnings carried off.

More Trouble in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., July 28.—A quite general outbreak of street car strike disorder occurred in the city tonight. Two cars were blown up, one in the east end and the other in the west end by what was very like giant powder, but may have been a bunch of torpedoes in each case. Both cars were badly damaged, and one of the motormen suffered so from the shock that he had to be relieved from duty. Then a motorman was shot by a would-be assassin in Barton Heights, and a woman was struck by a stone thrown at a Clay street car.

There also was stone throwing at cars in Fulton. The disorder has the appearance of preconcerted effort to prevent people from riding on the cars. It may be simply the last flicker of the flame of the fight the strikers are making.

Prohibition in Mississippi.

New Orleans, July 28.—The state prohibition executive committee of Mississippi has addressed a statement to the voters to the effect that the success of prohibition is now assured. Letters were addressed to the three candidates for governor and the primary to be held in August, asking their views on prohibition. Only one of them answered, Senator Neal, and his answer was favorable to prohibition. But letters addressed to three hundred candidates for the legislature resulted in all but 12 of them agreeing to submit a prohibition amendment to the constitution. The executive committee declares that if the fight is kept up they will carry Mississippi for prohibition.

Could not be Drowned.

New Bern, N. C., July 23.—A colored employe of Broadus & Ives' mill, name unknown, was knocked overboard this afternoon. Divers searched for him but to no avail. After ten minutes had elapsed a scuffle was heard under the wharf. The drowning man had crawled on the bottom to a post and climbed to the top, clinging in an unconscious condition. He was taken out and rolled and restored to life.

BIG STEAL IN MANILLA.

Valuable Books, Manuscript, Gold Plate and Other Articles Missing.

Washington, July 21.—Considerable agitation arose in Manilla when in gathering exhibits for St. Louis exposition, it was discovered that the magnificent collection of old rare books, manuscripts, gold and silver plate, paintings of almost incomparable value, as treasures, and curious antique furniture, priceless tapestries and other mural hangings which were known to have been in possession of the Spaniards and were in the city at the time of the American contest had disappeared. The war department was informed of the fact, and secret service men in the employ of the civil government of the islands were set to work to ferret out the mystery and either find the lost, or bring the looters to justice. As far as can be learned neither purpose has been accomplished.

Drowned in Three Inches of Water.

M. Brown Williamson has returned from a business trip over South Carolina. While in Spartanburg yesterday, Mr. Williamson told the Journal of a distressing accident at Batesville yesterday by which a woman named Kirby lost her life in an unusual manner.

Mrs. Kirby, whose family works in the Batesville Cotton Mills, was washing clothes on the banks of a stream near her home when she suddenly fell forward into the water which was only about three inches deep. Some children playing in the vicinity saw Mrs. Kirby fall and at once began calling for help. Mr. Williamson, who was on the opposite side of the stream ran to the nearest bridge and crossed over together with several other men to move the unfortunate woman out of the shallow water. She was dead, however, when the party reached her. It is stated that she had been a victim of epileptic fits and it is thought she had one of these fits when she fell in the water.—Charlotte Times Democrat.

A Female Burglar.

Rev. J. C. Johnson, pastor of the Swedish Baptist church, confessed to a charge of burglary and the father is broken-hearted. The mother fainted on hearing the news, and is in a critical condition. The doctors say she is dying of heart-shock. The crime was stealing $51 and a bank book. The money was spent on fine clothes. There were three girls in the scheme.—Denver, Col., dispatch.

Biggest Battleship Launched.

London July 28.—The battleship King Edward VII., the largest in the world was successfully launched by the Princess of Wales at Davenport this evening. Among those present were the Prince of Wales, Princess Henry of Battenburg and the lords of the admiralty. King Edward laid the keel plate March 8, 1902. The vessel cost $7,500,000.

WHAT CARE WE

How he Gets His Goods, and the Real Bargains are There for us?

Some say he's got no better sense, and just throw away his goods.

Some say he's got money to throw away like this.

Some say he knows how to get all the goods he wants without paying for 'em.

Others say he's bought thousands of dollars worth of goods on credit and is fixing to break.

Competitors say it can't be bid.

The drummers say he is the dod-drottedest closest buyer this side of the River of Fate!

But what say you?

Who, me? I say I don't care who or how, but I'm shure going to have my share of them bargains as long as they last.

I know a good thing when I see it, I do.
