ONE of Nan Patterson's lawyers telegraphed to the J. Morgan Smiths: "Keep your mouth shut." Wish a lot of our acquaintances would get telegrams like this.

WITH some possibility of peace in the Far East, it is feared that there may be another outbreak of the Balkan troubles. Same way in this section. Hardly was Salisbury through with its mayoralty contest before they took to mixing it up at Asheville.

UP IN Norristown a runaway cow dashed into an ice cream parlor and ate the contents of the plates while the panic-stricken customers fled through the rear door. But if bossies are so scarce that people take to the woods at the sight of one, the milk they have in that section must be pretty close to chalk mixture.

THE Raleigh News and Observer in answer to a question of a correspondent says, that North Carolina wrote for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1903, fire insurance in the sum of $136,770,167.19 on which the insurers paid premiums aggregating $1,947,957.70. The losses paid amounted to $1,045,240.61, leaving to pay expenses and profits $801,717.09 in one year. This is another proof that we pay too much for insurance.

THAT Yazoo City negro who claims he was beaten and driven out of town because he got a job as postoffice clerk has had the bottom let out of his story since it has been shown that he, in writing, withdrew his application, acting under the advice of more sensible men of his race, and that the real reason that he skipped was because he expected to be arrested for carrying concealed weapons. Thus are the sensation-lovers of the North spoiled of another golden opportunity to stir up sectional feeling.

A Beaumont, Texas, man who robbed his employer was given his choice of going to jail or marrying the boss's daughter and chose the latter. Next week he came back and asked to be allowed to go to jail for life, that is his wife's life.

Florence Maybrick is now trying to prove that she owns a lot of land in three or four states. Anybody would think that getting out of jail would hold her for a while, but some people are never satisfied.

The Food Value of a Soda Cracker

You have heard that some foods furnish fat, other foods make muscle, and still others are tissue building and heat forming.

You know that most foods have one or more of these elements, but do you know that no food contains them all in such properly balanced proportions as a good soda cracker?

The United States Government report shows that soda crackers contain less water, are richer in the muscle and fat elements, and have a much higher per cent of the tissue building and heat forming properties than any article of food made from flour.

That is why Uneda Biscuit should form an important part of every meal. They represent the superlative of the soda cracker, all their goodness and nourishment being brought from the oven to you in a package that is proof against air, moisture and dust—the price being too small to mention.
