THE TRIAL HELD THIS MORN-ING.

Persons Entered Mr. Hammill's bar or Sunday. - No Proof That he Sold Liguor on That Day.

The trial of Mr. J. W. Hammill, who was charged with a lowing persons to enter his saloon and for selling liquor on Sunday, was held this morning before Mayor Lord.

Eight or ten witnesses were examined, several of whom testified that they had entered the saloon on Sunday but all of them denied that they had ever bought any whiskey on that day. Mr. L. H. Clement was present as council for Mr. Hammill.

After hearing all the evidence in the case Mayor Lord imposed a fine of $20 on Mr. Hammill for permitting persons to enter his saloon. On the charge of selling on Sunday the defendant was not

The trial grew out of a statement made by Rev. H. L. Atkins in his pulpit last Sunday that men had been seen entering bar-rooms here on Sunday.

In a conversation with Mayor Lord last night he stated to the TRUTH-INDEX representative that no blame was attached to the police officers for their failure to dis cover that liquor was sold at this place on Sunday, owing to the fact that there was an entrance to the bar from within the hotel. This statement is made in simple justice to Salisbury's officers who are as vigilant as any in the State in enforcing the ordinances of the
