Temperature, 7 a. m., 65; 2 p. m., 88.
Weather forecast: Fair to night and Sunday.

Miss May Stewart is confined to her bed by malarial fever.

Services in the Catholic church tomorrow morning and night.

There will be no service in St. John's Lutheran church tomorrow.

Several of our local weather prophets say it will rain by Sunday. Let it come.

Bruner Stewart, one of the HERALD boys, is kept at home by an attack of malarial fever.

Presiding Elder J. R. Scroggs will conduct the services for the Methodist congregation at the Y. M. C. A. hall tomorrow.

The Salisbury Stars and Salisbury Cotton Mills teams are contesting for the baseball championship of Salisbury on the grounds of the latter this afternoon.

A countryman going out of town this morning lost a ham, which was soon afterward found by a blind man. The owner soon discovered his loss and returning recovered his meat.

The little daughter of Mr. W. A. Morris died this morning in Brooklyn. We understand that Mr. Morris is in very destitute circumstances and has no money to provide for the burial of his child.

Mr. T. J. Owen tells the HERALD that while breaking some eggs today for cooking purposes one was found that contained three yolks. This was the first time he had ever seen of such an egg, nor had he ever heard of one.

Rev. Jno. E. White, secretary of the Baptist State Convention, will preach in the Baptist church tomorrow morning and night. Mr. White is one of the most talented young men the Baptists have in the State and will be sure to interest all who hear him.

Mr. J. T. Wyatt, of Faith, brought in three wagon loads of granite yesterday afternoon and three more this morning for use in the Shaver buildings on Main street. Mr. Wyatt is one of the largest granite contractors in the county and has orders in hand for a big quantity of rock.

A meeting of the Damon and Pythias Club will be held at the castle hall at 8:30 tonight for the purpose of making arrangements for going to Asheville and to transact other very important business. All members are earnestly requested to attend.

Mr. S. A. Hamilton, of Concord, has been awarded the contract to erect two new brick stores for Mr. Edwin Shaver on Fisher street. Mr. Hamilton will come here Monday to sign the contract and to arrange for commencing work. The stores will be handsome two-story buildings, 24 feet wide, with granite and plate glass fronts.

Rev. T. F. Marr left last night for Thomasville, where he will hold the quarterly conference for Presiding Elder J. R. Scroggs. From Thomasville Mr. Marr will go to Winston, to deliver an address at the Normal school, and to Kernersville, to deliver an address at the high school.

Clean up your premises, abate all foul and noxious odors, and thereby protect the health and contribute to the pleasure of your own household and those of your neighbors.

George Murphy wishes the HERALD to say that he is not a member of the Salisbury Stars ball team and knew nothing about the proposed games until he saw the list published. We make the correction, with the explanation that the names of the players were printed as sent in by a member of the club.

The ladies of St. Peter's Sunday school will serve ice cream and sherberts tonight on the lawn on Horah street next to Miss Bessie Miller's. All are cordially invited to come. Every one buying a saucer of cream is entitled to a guess at the number of grains of corn in a bottle. Prizes, silver button hook and bottle of perfume.

Of the sixteen graduates of Union Theological Seminary, at Hampden Sydney, Va., last week, seven were North Carolinians. Of these seven young preachers three—less than half—will work in their native State. Mr. Walter L. Lingle, of this county, was elected by the board of trustees to assist Dr. W. W. Moore in the Hebrew department and will return to the seminary next year.

Wreck on The Western.

There was a small wreck on the Western road at Cleveland yesterday afternoon. Five cars in a freight train turned over. Conductor J. F. Rickert was hurt about the head. The track was cleared in time for the Western passenger train to pass on its regular schedule.

RUSSELL WINS.

The Nomination Made on Seventh Ballot—Walsler for Attorney General and Douglas for Supreme Court Justice.

The agony is over, and the Republican candidate for Governor of North Carolina is Daniel L. Russell, of Wilmington.

The nomination was made on the seventh ballot, between one and two o'clock this morning.

The candidates before the convention were Russell, Dockery, Boyd, Lusk and Moody. Russell led on the first ballot and made steady gains until the seventh, when he won by a vote of 119 3-7, out of a total of 232 cast.

Zeb Vance Walsler, of Lexington, was nominated for Attorney General, and Col. R. M. Douglas, of Greensboro, was nominated for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Both were made by acclamation. No other nominations were made, the offices of Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Auditor, Superintendent of Public Instruction and one Justice of the Supreme Court being left open for the Populists to fill in case fusion is effected.

H. A. Gudger, a recent convert, and Oscar J. Speares were nominated for Presidential Electors for the State at large.

J. C. Pritchard, J. E. Boyd, C. M. Bernard and Geo. H. White, the latter colored, were elected delegates to the St. Louis convention. State Chairman A. D. Holton was re-elected without opposition.

The convention was one of the longest ever held in the State. The fight was between Dockery and Russell and was long drawn out the fight being made over seating contesting delegations.

Marshall Mott, solicitor of the Winston district, was permanent chairman of the convention.

Every Democrat whom we have seen expresses pleasure at the nomination of Russell. Without exception he is regarded as the very weakest man in the field and it is believed that he can be beaten by a good Democrat. It is the general opinion that the nomination is a bid for Populist support, as Russell is a pronounced advocate of fusion and favors free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

The nomination does not set well on the stomachs of the local Republicans, especially with the colored ones. Several of these expressed disappointment. One confessed that the nomination was a poor one and expressed the opinion that if a clean, able man was nominated by the Democrats he would receive 10,000 negro votes.

We have heard no expression of opinion from the Populists and don't know how they regard the nomination.

THE FIRE LADDIES.

Officers Elected at the Meeting Last Night.

The firemen met in regular business session at the Mayor's office last night. Officers for the next year were elected as follows:

G. G. Seyfert, chief; M. V. B. Capps, assistant chief; C. H. Swink, secretary and treasurer; Haut Meroney, janitor; J. M. Peck and D. L. Sides, captains of the hose reel companies; Luther Miller, captain of the hook and ladder company. Only two changes were made. Haut Meroney succeeds C. H. Swink and Luther Miller succeeds J. W. Glover.

Haut Meroney was elected captain and Walter Linton assistant captain of the running team which will enter the tournament here in August.

Who Should Advertise.

Every one who has anything to sell, whether it is the product of the head, brain or machine, and in cases where those wish to buy, or secure, or exchange anything that they cannot get conveniently, should advertise.

Advertising should be treated precisely as any other investment, and in nine cases out of ten it pays a better profit than anything for which money is spent.

The best evidence that advertising pays is the fact that millions of dollars are invested in it by all sorts and kinds of trade and by the most successful business men in the land. Of course it pays.

No sensible man can believe that successful business houses advertise and become extensive advertisers for the fun of the thing. With them it is business just as much as buying stock or selling products.

There are certain principles of trade that men ought not to ignore and among them the principal one is regular, legitimate and persistent advertising.—Western Stationer.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.

Are All the Our Dogs Worth One Human Being?

Cherokee Scout.

A gentleman who has recently returned from Clay county, told The Stroller about the peculiarly sad and distressing death of Mr. Mack Ledford, who was bitten by a mad dog and who recently died with hydrophobia.

Ledford's dog had been absent for several days, and upon its return Mrs. Ledford told her husband that the dog was mad and would bite some of them and begged him to kill it. Ledford went out in the yard to tie up the dog, and again his wife cautioned him and told him that the dog would bite him. He laughingly replied that if the dog did bite him and he went mad; he would bite no one but her.

Hardly had the words escaped his mouth, and just when he was in the act of putting a rope around the dog's neck, the brute bit him on the hand.

It was not a great while before he was taken sick, and his poor wife was nearly crazed with grief. He continued to get worse, as nothing would alleviate his sufferings, until even the sight of water would throw him into convulsions, between which he was sane and he cried and begged them not to tie him, but to watch him closely. He would get down on his all fours and walk like a dog, snapping and snarling. A cloth was finally put over his eyes and water administered through a tube piece of maulin, but no sooner had it touched his lips than a paroxysm would strike him. This continued until the poor fellow found relief in death.

How Delegates to Chicago Can be Selected.

In answer to an inquiry from S. E. Williams, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Davidson county. State chairman James H. Pou says that the nine Congressional districts of this State will elect two delegates each to the National Convention in such manner as will seem best in each district. The Executive committee of any district can call a convention to meet within the district at any date prior to the meeting of the National convention July 7th, for the sole purpose of electing delegates and alternates to that convention, or for the purpose of nominating candidates for Congress and Presidential electors, or as is frequently done when it is thought best to have a later nomination of candidates. The district committee can call a convention to meet in Raleigh at the time of the meeting of the State convention and this convention can elect delegates. When the latter course is followed the counties have usually authorized their delegates and alternates to the State convention to also act as delegates to the district convention. This was the course followed by the Fourth district in 1892.
