

NORTH CAROLINA HERALD.

DEVOTED TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

VOL. I.

SALISBURY, N. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1885.

NO. 3.

WILD ANIMALS.

The City Where Largest Assortment of Wild Beasts Can Be Found.

The one place to buy animals, said Prof. Burkhardt, is in Hamburg, and it has really become the animal centre of the world. The largest dealer there is a man named Hagenbach. His place is visited by shovemen from all parts of the world, and his own establishment is a wonderful exhibition itself. I bought from him the following animals for Cincinnati: One pair cougars, five years old, $500; one camelopard, the largest Hagenbach ever saw, with a saddle which will carry six children, $30,000; one pair Asiatic kangaroos, $400; one male great kangaroo, $375; one pair zebras, $1,300; one pair hyenas and Equinaux dog (happy family), $485; one pair brown Russian bears, $525; one pair lion-slayer baboons, $250; one male dog-faced baboon, $275; one pair lambs, $100; two pair eshahere goats, $350; six pairs malagasy geese, $200; four pairs North Sea wild ducks, $100; one Lowenberger dog, $225; one tapir, $1,500; one pair ant-bears, $400; one young chimpanzee, $200; one young orang-utan, $200. I am also negotiating for and expect to receive on the same steamer with the above one pair of handsome black panthers, for which $800 is the price; one pair yowling tigers, $200, and a single-horned rhinoceros for which I expect to get for $3,000, and which will be presented to the garden by a New York City merchant. I have also hired from Hagenbach four fur seals, which are now on exhibition in Paris. They are trained by a Dane, who will come with them. They are taught to fire a gun, lie on their backs and smoke a pipe, play a violin, and fix a cannon. They are on exhibition in a large tank, and the Dane throws his children headlong down in the water, and when they cry for help the seals swim up to them and shake them, supporting them with their fins. They are now the wonders of Paris, and will, I think, be a great attraction in Cincinnati. I will also have an elephant, which is trained to ride a velocipede, and fifteen ostriches and fifteen camels, which are ridden by thirty Zulus in a race.—Charlotte Ledger.

Concerning the Fair.

All the feminine world raves over the new dress materials. They are certainly the handsomest seen for many a day.

The newest bustles are called "Jumbo," because they are of such large proportions. They are simply grand for deformity.

Jewels, says an authority, are only to be worn on ceremonious occasions, and the gem has fled for white wrappers and diamonds.

Miss Flora McFlimsey's new fall hat is so high that it recalls the head-gear of the naughty boy at school sent to stand in the corner.

Veils are to be worn more than over, it seems, and the intelligence may please men who have most to do with the eyes. Veils, like charity, hide sins, cover a great many defects of the complexion.

New bracelets are shown made of pebbles alleged to have been secured on the shores of the Red Sea. People who believe this will believe almost anything.

Large vinaigrettes are almost obsolete now. They had their day in one season, and were quickly regarded as too much of a good thing even for the most pronounced fashionable dame.

Of course, tailor-made cloth suits are to continue in fashion among the ladies. Nothing was ever invented to better deceive in the matter of the human form divine.

American women when old have the most horrible looking feet imaginable—worse than the Chinese. And it is not "all on account of Elixir," but on account of forcing big feet into small shoes in the days of their youth.

INTERESTING NOTES.

From Everywhere.

Drink to-morrow and think to-day.

Mr. Wm. Black's new novel White Heather will be published this fall.

It is proper to speak of an insane Chinaman as cracked china.

"I like your impudence," as a pretty girl said when her beau kissed her.

The New York Sun is the only paper published that will not exchange with its city contemporaries.

This is the patent age of new invention for killing bodies and saving souls.—Byron.

A Russian proverb says: Before going to war pray once; before going to town pray twice; before getting married pray three times.

Miss Marie L. Washburne, youngest daughter of ex-Minister Washburne, was married at Lavermore Falls, Me., on the 7th to A. H. Fowler, of Colorado.

"I never can enjoy poetry when I'm cooking," said an old lady; "but when I step out to feed the hogs, and hist myself on the fence and throw my soul into a few lines of 'Cap'n Jack', it does seem as if this air was made to live on, after all."

The renarrowing record has again been remastered—this time by a Webster Co., Mississippian, whose wife died on Monday, and who buried her on Tuesday, look out a license on Wednesday and espoused her successor on Thursday.

Mrs. Veronica Bulla, who performed a remarkable feat, died in Syracuse, N. Y., on the 8th. Her last began on August 10, and for fifty-nine days she did not touch a morsel of solid food, living entirely upon water in which small quantities of morphia were dissolved.

According to the latest census the people of the United States engaged in active business pursuits are thus employed: in agriculture, 29,000,000; professional and personal services, 12,000,000; manufacture and mining, 11,000,000; trade and transportation, 5,000,000.—Baltimore Herald.

Immigration to the United States is decreasing. Though it is still large. The native increase is nearly two per cent. per annum. In Iowa there has been a gain of 600,000 in five years. Chicago has added 40,000 to her population in one year, and at present numbers 700,000. It is estimated that at the present rate of progress Chicago will overtake New York in population in thirty years.

CONCERNING THE FAIR.

FLORIDA LEMONS.

Judging by the increase in the crop of Florida lemons, the time is not so very far distant when the American demand for lemons will be entirely supplied by our peninsular sister state.

Miss Kate Clayton is playing in "Called Back," in New York.

Miss Anderson will appear this week in New York in "Pygmalion and Galatea."

Theodore Thomas will give his first grand concert on the third of next month.

HE MEANT "GER."—A Western man who was touring through the East, in passing a meadow heard the driver say:

"Abandon the direct progression to the straight thitherward, and deviate by inclinator and aberrant dextrogyration into a destral incidence."

It was an amateur Boston farmer saying "gee Buck" to his yoke of oxen.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

No More Ore to be Assayed at the U. S. Assay Offices or Mints.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, Bureau of the Mint, Washington, D. C., September 8th, 1885.

Assaying and chemical analysis of ores and of furnace by-products at the Mints and Assay Offices of the United States will be discontinued.

The mechanical preparation or pulverizing of ores or other minerals, matters and slags shall be done upon the premises of the Mints and Assay Offices only when a part of the technical processes of these institutions, or when in the course of their regular business.

Assaying or chemical work in a private professional capacity at the hands of officers of the U. S. Mints and Assay Offices, shall not be performed upon the premises of these institutions.

Professional cards and certificates of assay or analysis should be without official captions or signatures. No professional signs shall be displayed upon the premises of the Mints and Assay Offices.

The above provisions will also apply to the Laboratory of the Bureau of the Mint.

All provisions in the general "Instructions and Regulations in relation to the Transaction of Business at the Mints and Assay Offices of the United States," June 25, 1881, inconsistent with this Circular are hereby revoked.

JAS. P. KIRKALL, Director.

DANIEL MANNING, Secretary.

MINERAL PROPERTIES.

Gold, Silver, Copper, Galens, Corundum, Tale, Manganese, Mica and Iron Mines for Sale by the Herald Agency.

Our Mr. Eames, M. E., has visited every property advertised in this column. Our object in advertising is to induce capitalists to investigate and assure them that we shall put them in direct communication with the owners of properties.

No. 1. Property of 100 acres of fine land in a mineral district where the famous 28 lb nugget of gold was found. Contains 3 quartz veins, one developed to the depth of 43 feet 300 tons of ore on dump and 600 in sight in mine. Assays give from $38.50 to $21.00 per ton.

No. 2. 5782 acres. Several houses and farms. Many quartz veins and alluvial deposits of gold, over $75,000 in gold found on the surface. One nugget of four pounds and many other small ones.

No. 3. 640 acres. Farms and houses. Rich placers and quartz veins. Very rich but requires water for hydraulic purposes.

No. 4. 231 acres. Farm and house; fine timber. Mine 60 feet deep, producing gold and copper ore. Very strong and healthy quartz vein.

No. 5. Large mass of low grade gold can be worked on a capital of $10,000, and be made to pay the amount back annually for many years.

No. 6. Galens property 471 acres. Vein well opened. $30.00 per ton in gold and silver. Estimated by English expert $75,000 in sight.

WILD ANIMALS.

The City Where Largest Assortment of Wild Beasts Can Be Found.

The one place to buy animals, said Prof. Burkhardt, is in Hamburg, and it has really become the animal centre of the world. The largest dealer there is a man named Hagenbach. His place is visited by shovemen from all parts of the world, and his own establishment is a wonderful exhibition itself. I bought from him the following animals for Cincinnati: One pair cougars, five years old, $500; one camelopard, the largest Hagenbach ever saw, with a saddle which will carry six children, $30,000; one pair Asiatic kangaroos, $400; one male great kangaroo, $375; one pair zebras, $1,300; one pair hyenas and Equinaux dog (happy family), $485; one pair brown Russian bears, $525; one pair lion-slayer baboons, $250; one male dog-faced baboon, $275; one pair lambs, $100; two pair eshahere goats, $350; six pairs malagasy geese, $200; four pairs North Sea wild ducks, $100; one Lowenberger dog, $225; one tapir, $1,500; one pair ant-bears, $400; one young chimpanzee, $200; one young orang-utan, $200. I am also negotiating for and expect to receive on the same steamer with the above one pair of handsome black panthers, for which $800 is the price; one pair yowling tigers, $200, and a single-horned rhinoceros for which I expect to get for $3,000, and which will be presented to the garden by a New York City merchant. I have also hired from Hagenbach four fur seals, which are now on exhibition in Paris. They are trained by a Dane, who will come with them. They are taught to fire a gun, lie on their backs and smoke a pipe, play a violin, and fix a cannon. They are on exhibition in a large tank, and the Dane throws his children headlong down in the water, and when they cry for help the seals swim up to them and shake them, supporting them with their fins. They are now the wonders of Paris, and will, I think, be a great attraction in Cincinnati. I will also have an elephant, which is trained to ride a velocipede, and fifteen ostriches and fifteen camels, which are ridden by thirty Zulus in a race.—Charlotte Ledger.

CONCERNING THE FAIR.

All the feminine world raves over the new dress materials. They are certainly the handsomest seen for many a day.

The newest bustles are called "Jumbo," because they are of such large proportions. They are simply grand for deformity.

Jewels, says an authority, are only to be worn on ceremonious occasions, and the gem has fled for white wrappers and diamonds.

Miss Flora McFlimsey's new fall hat is so high that it recalls the head-gear of the naughty boy at school sent to stand in the corner.

Veils are to be worn more than over, it seems, and the intelligence may please men who have most to do with the eyes. Veils, like charity, hide sins, cover a great many defects of the complexion.

New bracelets are shown made of pebbles alleged to have been secured on the shores of the Red Sea. People who believe this will believe almost anything.

Large vinaigrettes are almost obsolete now. They had their day in one season, and were quickly regarded as too much of a good thing even for the most pronounced fashionable dame.

Of course, tailor-made cloth suits are to continue in fashion among the ladies. Nothing was ever invented to better deceive in the matter of the human form divine.

American women when old have the most horrible looking feet imaginable—worse than the Chinese. And it is not "all on account of Elixir," but on account of forcing big feet into small shoes in the days of their youth.

INTERESTING NOTES.

From Everywhere.

Drink to-morrow and think to-day.

Mr. Wm. Black's new novel White Heather will be published this fall.

It is proper to speak of an insane Chinaman as cracked china.

"I like your impudence," as a pretty girl said when her beau kissed her.

The New York Sun is the only paper published that will not exchange with its city contemporaries.

This is the patent age of new invention for killing bodies and saving souls.—Byron.

A Russian proverb says: Before going to war pray once; before going to town pray twice; before getting married pray three times.

Miss Marie L. Washburne, youngest daughter of ex-Minister Washburne, was married at Lavermore Falls, Me., on the 7th to A. H. Fowler, of Colorado.

"I never can enjoy poetry when I'm cooking," said an old lady; "but when I step out to feed the hogs, and hist myself on the fence and throw my soul into a few lines of 'Cap'n Jack', it does seem as if this air was made to live on, after all."

The renarrowing record has again been remastered—this time by a Webster Co., Mississippian, whose wife died on Monday, and who buried her on Tuesday, look out a license on Wednesday and espoused her successor on Thursday.

Mrs. Veronica Bulla, who performed a remarkable feat, died in Syracuse, N. Y., on the 8th. Her last began on August 10, and for fifty-nine days she did not touch a morsel of solid food, living entirely upon water in which small quantities of morphia were dissolved.

According to the latest census the people of the United States engaged in active business pursuits are thus employed: in agriculture, 29,000,000; professional and personal services, 12,000,000; manufacture and mining, 11,000,000; trade and transportation, 5,000,000.—Baltimore Herald.

Immigration to the United States is decreasing. Though it is still large. The native increase is nearly two per cent. per annum. In Iowa there has been a gain of 600,000 in five years. Chicago has added 40,000 to her population in one year, and at present numbers 700,000. It is estimated that at the present rate of progress Chicago will overtake New York in population in thirty years.

WILD ANIMALS.

The City Where Largest Assortment of Wild Beasts Can Be Found.

The one place to buy animals, said Prof. Burkhardt, is in Hamburg, and it has really become the animal centre of the world. The largest dealer there is a man named Hagenbach. His place is visited by shovemen from all parts of the world, and his own establishment is a wonderful exhibition itself. I bought from him the following animals for Cincinnati: One pair cougars, five years old, $500; one camelopard, the largest Hagenbach ever saw, with a saddle which will carry six children, $30,000; one pair Asiatic kangaroos, $400; one male great kangaroo, $375; one pair zebras, $1,300; one pair hyenas and Equinaux dog (happy family), $485; one pair brown Russian bears, $525; one pair lion-slayer baboons, $250; one male dog-faced baboon, $275; one pair lambs, $100; two pair eshahere goats, $350; six pairs malagasy geese, $200; four pairs North Sea wild ducks, $100; one Lowenberger dog, $225; one tapir, $1,500; one pair ant-bears, $400; one young chimpanzee, $200; one young orang-utan, $200. I am also negotiating for and expect to receive on the same steamer with the above one pair of handsome black panthers, for which $800 is the price; one pair yowling tigers, $200, and a single-horned rhinoceros for which I expect to get for $3,000, and which will be presented to the garden by a New York City merchant. I have also hired from Hagenbach four fur seals, which are now on exhibition in Paris. They are trained by a Dane, who will come with them. They are taught to fire a gun, lie on their backs and smoke a pipe, play a violin, and fix a cannon. They are on exhibition in a large tank, and the Dane throws his children headlong down in the water, and when they cry for help the seals swim up to them and shake them, supporting them with their fins. They are now the wonders of Paris, and will, I think, be a great attraction in Cincinnati. I will also have an elephant, which is trained to ride a velocipede, and fifteen ostriches and fifteen camels, which are ridden by thirty Zulus in a race.—Charlotte Ledger.

CONCERNING THE FAIR.

All the feminine world raves over the new dress materials. They are certainly the handsomest seen for many a day.

The newest bustles are called "Jumbo," because they are of such large proportions. They are simply grand for deformity.

Jewels, says an authority, are only to be worn on ceremonious occasions, and the gem has fled for white wrappers and diamonds.

Miss Flora McFlimsey's new fall hat is so high that it recalls the head-gear of the naughty boy at school sent to stand in the corner.

Veils are to be worn more than over, it seems, and the intelligence may please men who have most to do with the eyes. Veils, like charity, hide sins, cover a great many defects of the complexion.

New bracelets are shown made of pebbles alleged to have been secured on the shores of the Red Sea. People who believe this will believe almost anything.

Large vinaigrettes are almost obsolete now. They had their day in one season, and were quickly regarded as too much of a good thing even for the most pronounced fashionable dame.

Of course, tailor-made cloth suits are to continue in fashion among the ladies. Nothing was ever invented to better deceive in the matter of the human form divine.

American women when old have the most horrible looking feet imaginable—worse than the Chinese. And it is not "all on account of Elixir," but on account of forcing big feet into small shoes in the days of their youth.

INTERESTING NOTES.

From Everywhere.

Drink to-morrow and think to-day.

Mr. Wm. Black's new novel White Heather will be published this fall.

It is proper to speak of an insane Chinaman as cracked china.

"I like your impudence," as a pretty girl said when her beau kissed her.

The New York Sun is the only paper published that will not exchange with its city contemporaries.

This is the patent age of new invention for killing bodies and saving souls.—Byron.

A Russian proverb says: Before going to war pray once; before going to town pray twice; before getting married pray three times.

Miss Marie L. Washburne, youngest daughter of ex-Minister Washburne, was married at Lavermore Falls, Me., on the 7th to A. H. Fowler, of Colorado.

"I never can enjoy poetry when I'm cooking," said an old lady; "but when I step out to feed the hogs, and hist myself on the fence and throw my soul into a few lines of 'Cap'n Jack', it does seem as if this air was made to live on, after all."

The renarrowing record has again been remastered—this time by a Webster Co., Mississippian, whose wife died on Monday, and who buried her on Tuesday, look out a license on Wednesday and espoused her successor on Thursday.

Mrs. Veronica Bulla, who performed a remarkable feat, died in Syracuse, N. Y., on the 8th. Her last began on August 10, and for fifty-nine days she did not touch a morsel of solid food, living entirely upon water in which small quantities of morphia were dissolved.

According to the latest census the people of the United States engaged in active business pursuits are thus employed: in agriculture, 29,000,000; professional and personal services, 12,000,000; manufacture and mining, 11,000,000; trade and transportation, 5,000,000.—Baltimore Herald.

Immigration to the United States is decreasing. Though it is still large. The native increase is nearly two per cent. per annum. In Iowa there has been a gain of 600,000 in five years. Chicago has added 40,000 to her population in one year, and at present numbers 700,000. It is estimated that at the present rate of progress Chicago will overtake New York in population in thirty years.

WILD ANIMALS.

The City Where Largest Assortment of Wild Beasts Can Be Found.

The one place to buy animals, said Prof. Burkhardt, is in Hamburg, and it has really become the animal centre of the world. The largest dealer there is a man named Hagenbach. His place is visited by shovemen from all parts of the world, and his own establishment is a wonderful exhibition itself. I bought from him the following animals for Cincinnati: One pair cougars, five years old, $500; one camelopard, the largest Hagenbach ever saw, with a saddle which will carry six children, $30,000; one pair Asiatic kangaroos, $400; one male great kangaroo, $375; one pair zebras, $1,300; one pair hyenas and Equinaux dog (happy family), $485; one pair brown Russian bears, $525; one pair lion-slayer baboons, $250; one male dog-faced baboon, $275; one pair lambs, $100; two pair eshahere goats, $350; six pairs malagasy geese, $200; four pairs North Sea wild ducks, $100; one Lowenberger dog, $225; one tapir, $1,500; one pair ant-bears, $400; one young chimpanzee, $200; one young orang-utan, $200. I am also negotiating for and expect to receive on the same steamer with the above one pair of handsome black panthers, for which $800 is the price; one pair yowling tigers, $200, and a single-horned rhinoceros for which I expect to get for $3,000, and which will be presented to the garden by a New York City merchant. I have also hired from Hagenbach four fur seals, which are now on exhibition in Paris. They are trained by a Dane, who will come with them. They are taught to fire a gun, lie on their backs and smoke a pipe, play a violin, and fix a cannon. They are on exhibition in a large tank, and the Dane throws his children headlong down in the water, and when they cry for help the seals swim up to them and shake them, supporting them with their fins. They are now the wonders of Paris, and will, I think, be a great attraction in Cincinnati. I will also have an elephant, which is trained to ride a velocipede, and fifteen ostriches and fifteen camels, which are ridden by thirty Zulus in a race.—Charlotte Ledger.

CONCERNING THE FAIR.

All the feminine world raves over the new dress materials. They are certainly the handsomest seen for many a day.

The newest bustles are called "Jumbo," because they are of such large proportions. They are simply grand for deformity.

Jewels, says an authority, are only to be worn on ceremonious occasions, and the gem has fled for white wrappers and diamonds.

Miss Flora McFlimsey's new fall hat is so high that it recalls the head-gear of the naughty boy at school sent to stand in the corner.

Veils are to be worn more than over, it seems, and the intelligence may please men who have most to do with the eyes. Veils, like charity, hide sins, cover a great many defects of the complexion.

New bracelets are shown made of pebbles alleged to have been secured on the shores of the Red Sea. People who believe this will believe almost anything.

Large vinaigrettes are almost obsolete now. They had their day in one season, and were quickly regarded as too much of a good thing even for the most pronounced fashionable dame.

Of course, tailor-made cloth suits are to continue in fashion among the ladies. Nothing was ever invented to better deceive in the matter of the human form divine.

American women when old have the most horrible looking feet imaginable—worse than the Chinese. And it is not "all on account of Elixir," but on account of forcing big feet into small shoes in the days of their youth.

INTERESTING NOTES.

From Everywhere.

Drink to-morrow and think to-day.

Mr. Wm. Black's new novel White Heather will be published this fall.

It is proper to speak of an insane Chinaman as cracked china.

"I like your impudence," as a pretty girl said when her beau kissed her.

The New York Sun is the only paper published that will not exchange with its city contemporaries.

This is the patent age of new invention for killing bodies and saving souls.—Byron.

A Russian proverb says: Before going to war pray once; before going to town pray twice; before getting married pray three times.

Miss Marie L. Washburne, youngest daughter of ex-Minister Washburne, was married at Lavermore Falls, Me., on the 7th to A. H. Fowler, of Colorado.

"I never can enjoy poetry when I'm cooking," said an old lady; "but when I step out to feed the hogs, and hist myself on the fence and throw my soul into a few lines of 'Cap'n Jack', it does seem as if this air was made to live on, after all."

The renarrowing record has again been remastered—this time by a Webster Co., Mississippian, whose wife died on Monday, and who buried her on Tuesday, look out a license on Wednesday and espoused her successor on Thursday.

Mrs. Veronica Bulla, who performed a remarkable feat, died in Syracuse, N. Y., on the 8th. Her last began on August 10, and for fifty-nine days she did not touch a morsel of solid food, living entirely upon water in which small quantities of morphia were dissolved.

According to the latest census the people of the United States engaged in active business pursuits are thus employed: in agriculture, 29,000,000; professional and personal services, 12,000,000; manufacture and mining, 11,000,000; trade and transportation, 5,000,000.—Baltimore Herald.

Immigration to the United States is decreasing. Though it is still large. The native increase is nearly two per cent. per annum. In Iowa there has been a gain of 600,000 in five years. Chicago has added 40,000 to her population in one year, and at present numbers 700,000. It is estimated that at the present rate of progress Chicago will overtake New York in population in thirty years.

WILD ANIMALS.

The City Where Largest Assortment of Wild Beasts Can Be Found.

The one place to buy animals, said Prof. Burkhardt, is in Hamburg, and it has really become the animal centre of the world. The largest dealer there is a man named Hagenbach. His place is visited by shovemen from all parts of the world, and his own establishment is a wonderful exhibition itself. I bought from him the following animals for Cincinnati: One pair cougars, five years old, $500; one camelopard, the largest Hagenbach ever saw, with a saddle which will carry six children, $30,000; one pair Asiatic kangaroos, $400; one male great kangaroo, $375; one pair zebras, $1,300; one pair hyenas and Equinaux dog (happy family), $485; one pair brown Russian bears, $525; one pair lion-slayer baboons, $250; one male dog-faced baboon, $275; one pair lambs, $100; two pair eshahere goats, $350; six pairs malagasy geese, $200; four pairs North Sea wild ducks, $100; one Lowenberger dog, $225; one tapir, $1,500; one pair ant-bears, $400; one young chimpanzee, $200; one young orang-utan, $200. I am also negotiating for and expect to receive on the same steamer with the above one pair of handsome black panthers, for which $800 is the price; one pair yowling tigers, $200, and a single-horned rhinoceros for which I expect to get for $3,000, and which will be presented to the garden by a New York City merchant. I have also hired from Hagenbach four fur seals, which are now on exhibition in Paris. They are trained by a Dane, who will come with them. They are taught to fire a gun, lie on their backs and smoke a pipe, play a violin, and fix a cannon. They are on exhibition in a large tank, and the Dane throws his children headlong down in the water, and when they cry for help the seals swim up to them and shake them, supporting them with their fins. They are now the wonders of Paris, and will, I think, be a great attraction in Cincinnati. I will also have an elephant, which is trained to ride a velocipede, and fifteen ostriches and fifteen camels, which are ridden by thirty Zulus in a race.—Charlotte Ledger.

CONCERNING THE FAIR.

All the feminine world raves over the new dress materials. They are certainly the handsomest seen for many a day.

The newest bustles are called "Jumbo," because they are of such large proportions. They are simply grand for deformity.

Jewels, says an authority, are only to be worn on ceremonious occasions, and the gem has fled for white wrappers and diamonds.

Miss Flora McFlimsey's new fall hat is so high that it recalls the head-gear of the naughty boy at school sent to stand in the corner.

Veils are to be worn more than over, it seems, and the intelligence may please men who have most to do with the eyes. Veils, like charity, hide sins, cover a great many defects of