OUR NEW LOCAL EDITOR.

With pleasure we announce to the public that Mr. Robert L. Ramsay, a promising and energetic young gentleman, has attached himself to our staff in the capacity of local editor.

CITY ITEMS.

There are now 886 shares in the Building and Loan.

New streets are being laid out at the Zion Wesley College.

A. C. Harris gave to the breeze a very handsome sign yesterday.

Building is still going on at the Presbyterian church property.

$5,600 have been so far loaned by the Building and Loan for building purposes.

Mr. Alfred Johnson says he will have 400 bushels of sweet potatoes to store away for winter.

J. J. Hawkins, Bros. & Co., received a car load of tobacco Wednesday from Reidsville, N. C.

Capt. B. H. Marsh completed a large engine house Wednesday, adjoining his machine shops.

We are reliably informed that a large United States distillery will shortly be erected near Salisbury.

C. D. Vernon has shown us some beautiful cards, advertising his hotel. He knows the value of advertising.

Twenty-three car loads of cattle came down the Western road last week and were shipped to Broad View, Va.

We are glad to know our commission merchant, J. D. McNeely, is doing a larger business than ever heretofore.

We find agricultural machinery arriving at the depot by the carload. This shows that the farmers are wide awake.

Salisbury tobacco men are still on the go. Mr. R. H. Foard left last week to sell tobacco for the firm of Rice & Foard.

Large shipments of Kluttz's tobacco liniment, the great external remedy, is being made to Baltimore, where they have an agency.

Mrs. M. L. Holmes has built a new and beautiful greenhouse on the north of her residence, which is quite an improvement.

Great herds of patent medicines of the kind that is shaken before taken has been stored in Charleston, the Quaker city of the South.

Reed Crawford shot a heron on T. H. Vanderford's farm one day this week, which is the second one to our knowledge ever killed in this section.

Mr. C. G. Viele left our city Monday to attend the fair at Hickory. He is representing the New York Weekly Tribune, an agricultural paper.

Read the new ad. of Messrs. Kluttz and Rendleman, in another column. They are now in their double store and invite their friends to call and see them.

The registration books are open at J. S. McCubbins' store. If you fail to register you will lose your vote. J. Frank McCubbins is ready to attend to all who call.

Our friend, C. A. Jacobs, of Zeb P. O., Franklin township, brought us, last week, the best sweet potato. It is his own raising and weighs just six pounds. Mr. Jacobs is entitled to the belt.

Messrs. Risley and Bilbeimer, the gentlemen in charge of the preliminary survey for our newly proposed R. E. left here on Monday morning for the head of the survey beyond Wilkesboro.

At the Farmers' warehouse we see something that looks like business. The proprietors, Best & Foard, are having 100,000 pounds of tobacco cut into trash, out of which smoking tobacco will be made.

Personal.

C. Y. Cheatham was in the city Tuesday.

B. P. Beard is with Meroney Brothers.

W. A. Alison, of Third Creek, was in the city Tuesday.

N. P. Murphy is recuperating a little in Columbia, S. C.

We are glad to learn that J. D. Gaskill is improving slowly.

Mr. L. H. Clement left on Tuesday to attend court at Mocksville.

Mr. S. H. Wilky left the city on Tuesday, going South on business.

Mrs. Hayne Davis, of Statesville, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Blackmer.

Miss Carrie Murphy has returned home, after an extensive trip North.

Mrs. Howard Summerell returned to her home in Tarboro a few days ago.

Charles H. Smith, known as Bill Arp, passed through our city yesterday morning.

R. Eames, Jr., went North last Tuesday on mining business. He will shortly return.

Mr. T. K. Bruner, of this city, will represent Rowan county at the Raleigh State Fair.

Dr. Ruple is assisting Rev. Mr. Boyd, who is holding a protracted meeting at Unity.

James Horah left for Washington Saturday, where he will be engaged in the pension service.

Miss Mollie Murphy left Monday for Walnut Cove, to pay her sister, Mrs. D. Lash, a visit.

Miss Barker, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. E. Steere, at this place.

Mr. J. L. P. Roueche, formerly of Salisbury but now of Statesville, spent several days here this week.

Miss Jennie Bingham has returned, after making a visit of several days to friends near Third Creek.

Mrs. J. S. McCubbins returned home on the 17th, from a visit to her son, Dr. W. L. Crump, at South River.

Mr. J. D. Brown, who is engaged in business with E. S. Jaffery & Co., New York, will arrive in Salisbury next week.

Mr. Luke Blackmer took the train on Tuesday for Charlotte, where he has been called on law business.

Mr. C. A. Rice will leave us next week to travel for a Richmond house. We are glad to know he will travel in North Carolina.

Dr. R. F. Hackett, an eminent physician and politician of Wilkesboro and well known in this city, died last week at the age of 60.

Mr. A. D. Potts and wife came down the Western road last Tuesday. They will spend several weeks here and then go to Florida for the winter.

Miss Lizzie Stack, of Staunton, Va., who has been on a week's visit to friends in this city, left on Monday last for Asheville, accompanied by Mrs. E. E. Lewis.

The Vidette says: "Miss Mary Woolen, the very popular music instructor of Troy High School, left yesterday to make a short visit to her parents in Asheville."

Miss Minnie Kridler returned home, after a visit of several weeks at Mt. Vernon with her cousin, Miss Julia Fleming, who returned with her.

Mr. Clarence Murphy, who has been anticipating a foreign tour, has postponed it, owing to the illness of his friend, Mr. Kyle, who was to accompany him.

Mr. N. E. Seales, C. E., arrived here this week from West Va., to spend a few days with his family. He will leave here for Alabama, where he will attend to his professional duties.

Miss Nannie Richardson, well and favorably known here, will be married at Philadelphia Wednesday evening, Oct. 27th, at six o'clock, p. m., to Mr. Oswald Thompson Hanna. Miss R. has the best wishes of the HERALD.

The Concord Times says: "Rev. T. W. Smith will move to Concord in a few weeks. For a number of years he has been in bad health and last year he thought himself sufficiently strong to enter the ministry and he took active work at Salisbury. His health has failed him again and he will move to Concord. He and his excellent family will find a warm welcome here, where they are held in such high esteem." Yes, and Salisbury will feel the loss of this popular gentleman.

J. H. Verble is having a brick building on Liberty street, between Main and Lee, remodeled, covered and other improvements made. Building is nothing new for us now.

People we know who should go obstinately: Earthquake Wiggins, Motor Keeley, Dynamite O'Rossa. If reading matter is necessary to the happiness of the party, we would suggest "War articles" in the Century.

At a meeting of the directors of the Building and Loan last Tuesday, they concluded to keep the books of the second series open a few days longer. Applications for loans amounting to $2,700 were favorably passed upon.

Our Quail.

An interesting discussion at the Club one evening this week developed the opinion of several of our well known amateur sportsmen that the quail in the vicinity of Salisbury are on the increase.

In course of conversation it was generally agreed that the hunters were also on the increase. The conclusion was that if the hunters increased more, the birds must naturally decrease. It seems that our section of country is fast gaining a reputation for the fine sport it affords, and that every season brings the gunners from the Northern States. Their coming is not objected to; they are, for the most part, gentlemen; but one objection expressed is that the birds are shipped out of the State. This is against the law and will be watched closely this season.

Some North-eastern gentlemen have made arrangements with the farmers and land owners that for a consideration about equal to the taxation, they are awarded the privilege of shooting. At present this seems an agreeable one, but as the hunters increase the farmers should have value received for birds shot on their land. If people come several hundred miles to kill our game they are able and willing to pay for it. If a farmer has the good fortune to own land in a good sporting country, he must reap some benefit.

The habits of this sweet morsel of bird meat were likened to the human family by one of the gentlemen, who stated that at certain seasons of the year the birds mate off and bring forth two broods of chicks. The first lot of eggs are presided over by the female, while the last lot are "sat upon" and hatched by the father. It must be confessed that the resemblance between the bird and the human family could not be seen by the reporter, but as it came from one versed on the subject in question, it must be so. Many bird stories were in order, the worst of which was of a man not very far off, who does the "pig act" in killing 1600 or 1700 birds every year. Some objections were offered to Mr. Hawk taking what he did, but as he catches them on the fly, the base ball gentlemen thought it should be overlooked.

Just received, at Buerbaum's, a fresh lot of oatmeal, cracked wheat and fine Turkish prunes at 10 c a pound.

Speaking at Rowan Academy.

On Friday evening of next week—Oct 22nd—the candidates will address the citizens of Providence township at Rowan Academy. The speaking will begin at, or shortly after dark. A liberal turnout is especially desired. Remember, citizens of Providence, that you have nine judges to elect this year in the State, and that, therefore, the election is one of special importance. One republican judge can, if he chooses, be a greater thorn in your side than two Presidents of the same character.

MINING NOTES.

W. Tregellas, Esq., of Gold Hill, was in town this week.

R. Eames, Jr., went North Tuesday on mining business. He will return shortly.

Capt. Henry Harvey, from Liscard, Cornwall, England, arrived in Salisbury on Saturday last, and went at once to Gold Hill mine, where he will have charge of all underground work.

Col. Wm. H. Stith, who is mining manganese in Virginia, was in the city on Tuesday, looking into our mining interests. He is a successful man and makes a success of whatever he undertakes.

Dr. L. Brothers, of Youngstown, Ohio, in company with Mr. John T. Cramer, one of the proprietors of the Steel mine, in Montgomery county, made us a call one day last week. The forty stamps are at work on good ore and everything looks prosperous.

C. A. Dale, of Marion, N. C., has gone into the mica business at that place on a large scale. His purchases and shipments are quite an addition to the business of that lively little town.

Russell Mine. The Russell mine, 20 stamp mill, in Montgomery county, continues to pound profit out of $3 ore. Notwithstanding the fact that they change superintendents every new moon. The last one, we believe, is Mr. Reed. This gentleman is well acquainted with the mine and we are informed is practical in his methods. Let the stockholders leave him alone, and it is believed he will succeed in making the mine pay. It cannot cost over one dollar per ton to mine and mill that which should leave a profit of at least $75 per day.

Saving Fine Gold. P. L. Bruce, a machinist residing in Six mile canyon, Nevada, has received a patent for an invention to save fine gold in gravel and sulphurets in tailing by electricity. Mr. Bruce has been engaged in experimenting at the Eureka mill with that method of separating sulphurets from the sand in tailings. The inventor claims that the experiments proved highly satisfactory. The process is very simple. The tailings are run over polished copper plates heavily charged with electricity which attracts and holds the metallic substance disintegrating it from the sand.

Two well known mining men have become interested in the invention, one of them foreman and the other a time-keeper at one of the principal Comstock mines. The inventor has practically demonstrated to their satisfaction that the finest particles of gold in sand or gravel are retained on coming in contact with the electrical-charged white flowing over them in sluicing. An experienced California placer miner was sent to Washington territory several weeks ago to locate placer claims where claims where fine gold is found in the sands, and Mr. Bruce will leave for that locality with his gold saving apparatus in a few days. Should the gold be found in paying quantities, the inventor will be followed to the territory by his backers.—[Miner.]
