CITY ITEMS.

More delightful showers Tuesday. Town Creek was on a big boom Tuesday, and was visited by a number of sight-seers.

A new cotton platform that will hold 400 bales of cotton will be built at once at the depot.

Attend the meeting of the Salisbury Improvement Association, it is of great and vital importance.

We are glad to see the street force at work again, improving streets, cleaning ditches, cutting weeds, etc.

Mr. J. H. West will run an excursion from this city to Asheville on the 24th. The fare for the round trip is very low, only two dollars.

The newly organized real company is now ready, and are only waiting for the action of the board of commissioners. A meeting will be called at an early date.

J. D. Gaskill is now running full force at his tobacco factory. He has received the last week more orders for manufactured tobacco than in any three weeks before. His business is improving very rapidly.

The cantaloupe crop this year is the largest ever known before. Every day between 10 and 25 wagons loaded with this delicious fruit comes to town, and sell from 1 to 25 cents each.

Rev. C. B. King, pastor of our Lutheran church, will preach to the Lutheran congregation at Hanover, Pennsylvania. Mr. King will then return home, to the great satisfaction of his members and friends who have missed him very much.

Mr. Graeber Miller is the champion in a great many things, and we believe he is in cantaloupe raising. Last Monday he brought in one that weighed 20 pounds; he did not leave it with us long enough to appreciate it thoroughly.

The Jamestown High School, Prof. J. M. Weatherly, Principal, will open on the 22nd of this month. The ability and character of Mr. Weatherly as a school teacher is well known and guarantees a brilliant future for this already popular school.

Railroad fare to the Grange Encampment and Fair at Mount Holly, Aug. 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13, will be one fare for the round trip. All our farmers ought to avail themselves of this opportunity to exchange views and swap experiences.

The Catawba, on Tuesday, was higher than since May, 1886, being in some places over the tassels of the corn. The Yadkin was only six inches above its usual height. The crops are suffering for rain at all points between here and Richmond.

Gilbert, Taylor & Co., at Elmwood, N. C., are doing a very large business in sawed lumber. Last week they received an order for 268,000 feet of oak plank. This seems to be a large order, but they say they could fill one like it every week in the year.

During the absence of the pastor in the month of August, the pulpit at the Presbyterian church will be supplied as follows, viz.: 2nd Sabbath of August, by Rev. J. W. Laflerty, of Davidson College; 4th Sabbath of August, by Rev. Wm. R. Atkinson, Principal of the Charlotte Female Institute.

Capt. J. R. Nicholas, one of the most popular freight conductors on the W. N. C. R., has been promoted to pull the bell cord on the passenger train. We congratulate Nich. upon his promotion, which we consider well and deservedly bestowed upon one who has always been at his post as a faithful and conscientious railroader.

People on the Yadkin river have been very much surprised by the sudden and inexplicable moving of a very large rock, weighing about 200 tons. It left its location about 25 feet from the bank of the Yadkin, between the Point and Sowers' Ferry, and one good morning the identical rock was found within a few feet from the bank. They are at a loss to explain this phenomenon of nature.

The Charlotte Observer office was closed on Tuesday and business suspended. The fate of the Observer is the natural result of the political course pursued by the late editor for some years past. In some respects Col. Jones has shown remarkable qualifications for running a daily paper. But the most brilliant talents can avail nothing in an editor, unless he walks in a straight political path.

Tobacco in Rowan. A close calculation based upon a thorough investigation shows that the tobacco growing in Rowan is not exceeding 25 per cent. of the amount of last season, while in quality it is the finest ever raised, and will no doubt bring nearly as much, if not as much money as the large crop of last year.

Own Your Homes. A man that lives in a house worth $500, usually pays $5 rent a month. Now if he bought the house at $500 by paying $2 a week he can pay for it in 6 years. By paying $1.75 a week he could pay for it in 7 years and 1 month; by $1.50 a week, in 8 years and 4 months; by $1.25 a week, in 12 years, and by $1.00 a week in 18 years.

Salisbury District Conference.

The Salisbury District Conference met in this place last Thursday, and was in session during the remainder of the week. The attendance was large, almost every charge being fully represented.

Bishop Jos. S. Key was present and presided to the delight of all present. He inquired carefully into all the interests of the Church, and by his kindness and geniality endeared himself to the members of the Conference and the citizens of the town.

He preached three times during his stay. His sermons were of great power, and will live for many long years in the minds of those who heard them. He seems to have but one aim, and that is to save souls. We are glad to learn that the Bishop will spend most of the time between this and the 1st of December in this State.

The Methodist church, we predict, will feel the impulse of his presence and labor in the State.

There were a large number of visitors, both of the laity and the clergy, from other Districts. Among them we were glad to see the Rev. F. L. Reid, editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, and the Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, D. D., editor of the Methodist Advance. These are both live energetic editors and are making most excellent papers, which we hear are largely patronized by the Methodists of North Carolina.

The Conference made a fine impression, we think, for Methodism in this town, and we hope it will not be the last that shall be held here. Most of the pulpits of the town were filled by members of the Conference on Sunday, and we hear the preaching favorably spoken of generally.

Here is a bit of truth culled from an exchange: A little item in a newspaper will sometimes make a man an enemy to the paper for life, but it won't stop him from reading it. It merely changes him from a subscriber to a borrower. Every publisher can recall the names of citizens who come under this head.

The County Institute began on Monday, with a large attendance of teachers. The instructors are paying special attention to the different methods of teaching, and our county teachers will be better prepared to "teach the young idea how to shoot" than heretofore. The services of Prof. Noble and Moses, the able instructors, are highly appreciated by the teachers, as is evidenced by the large attendance and close attention. The Institute is open and free to everybody, and all who are interested in the cause of education are invited to attend. The lectures on the different subjects are interesting and instructive.

Attention, B. & L. Stockholders. Expecting to be absent from Salisbury for one or more Saturdays, Mr. Thos. Marsh has been authorized to act as secretary and treasurer of the Building and Loan until I return. He is authorized to receive and receipt for all moneys due the B. & L. Until I return, persons whose monthly instalments are due must pay without notice through the mail.

F. J. MURDOCH.

The Red Hill Nuisance in Davie. Our Davie correspondent has something to say about the impassable red hill on the Rowan side of South River. Yes, we know it is bad, in the language of the pious man, a blessed bad hill. We do not know of any other remedy but to apply to the county commissioners, and if they fail to do their duty then there is the Superior Court Judge; indict the commissioners for wilful and premeditated negligence in office. That generally levels roads and makes hills and creeks passable.

B. and L. Statement. The statement for August 1st is as follows:

This picnic will be conducted by the Masonic lodges of Davie county, and its object is to raise funds for the Oxford Orphan Asylum. The annual address will be delivered by Rev. Edward Rondthaler, D. D. Several impromptu speeches will be made by distinguished gentlemen. Dr. B. F. Dixon will also deliver an address which will be followed by exercises by a chapter of the orphans. Music will be furnished by the Lexington cornet band. The refreshments will be under the control of S. J. Swicegood, Esq., and the whole profits of his sales will be given to the Orphans. Everybody is invited to attend. Exercises will begin at 10 a. m.

Death of Mrs. J. W. Bethel.

The many friends in this city of Mrs. J. W. Bethel, nee Miss Annie Seales, daughter of Maj. John M. Seales, of Rockingham, will regret to learn of her death, which occurred last Thursday, at her home at Byrdsville, Va., after a few days' illness from purpural fever. The body arrived in the city yesterday morning at 2 o'clock, on the Richmond & Danville train, under escort of Major and Mrs. Seales, Mrs. Ledbetter, a younger sister of the deceased, Mr. Walter Seales, Mr. C. T. Bethel and Mr. J. W. Bethel, reared husband. It was escorted to the Carolina Central train at noon, and conveyed to Rockingham for interment. The deceased lady was one of the fairest daughters of the Pee Dee section, and was a universal favorite throughout this section of the State. She had many friends and admirers here, who sympathize with the afflicted family in the loss which has befallen them.—[Charlotte Chronicle.]

Mrs. Bethel has been often a visitor to our town, and by her winning ways and rare accomplishments, she made a great many friends who sincerely bemoan the death of this estimable young lady.

A Good Investment. Is that which yields large returns from a small outlay. Reader, the way is clear! No speculation, no chance, big returns! If you are like most of mankind you have somewhere in your mind a little nest of money just as you'd like to—headache to-day, backache to-morrow, down sick next week—all because your blood is out of order. A small outlay and what large returns! You invest in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and soon pure, fresh blood courses through your veins, and you are another being!

Called Meeting. Salisbury Improvement Association. At the request of many citizens a meeting of the above association will be held in the Mayor's office Thursday evening 4th inst., at 8 o'clock, to consider the question of offering inducements to the Roanoke and Southern R. R. to come via Salisbury. All citizens are invited to attend.

THEO. F. KLUTZ, President.

Organize a Camp. To the Editors of the Herald: Why is it that our "relies of the war" do not organize a Camp of "Confederate Veterans"? Have they forgotten the days from '61 to '65? There are many of them left in and adjoining our county who would be glad to join such an organization. Other sections are moving and organizing. Old Rowan should not be behind, but come to the front as she did during the struggle. Let the Camp be organized and named for the lamented Charles Fisher, whose memory North Carolinians, and especially the people of Rowan, love to honor. In their Camps they could enjoy themselves, fighting the war over with their tongues, and no one would be hurt thereby.

ROWAN.

MOCKSVILLE, N. C., Aug. 1, '87. To the Editors of the Herald: On the opposite side of the river at Foad & Lindsay's mill, on the Rowan side, is a hill just after you cross the ford. The people of our county have begun to complain very grievously of the road supervening for not putting that hill in a condition to be travelled over. I had the exquisite pleasure of passing over it a few days ago, and before I got to the bottom I felt (I imagine) like a man who had been turned loose at the top of the Washington monument on a bicycle, for that hill is composed of rock placed one above the other, forming steps, making it almost impossible for any kind of vehicle to pass over it safely. Unless the road is fixed the people of Salisbury will lose a portion of our wagon trade. It is a matter of importance, and should be looked after immediately.

"DAVIETTE."

In Morgan Township, June 25th, Mrs. Betsey Morgan, known by everybody as Aunt Betsey Morgan. When she first saw the light of day, it was 1790. She is there for 97 years old. Her maiden name was Hoffner, a long-lived race. She was married nearly seventy years to Mr. David Morgan. Their immediate issue are ten children, while the grand and great grandchildren are so numerous as to defy enumeration.

Living Witnesses. Ask any one who has used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets as to their merits. They will tell you that pimples, blotches and eruptions disappear; that the bowels are regular; that the system is purified; that the blood is renewed; that the whole system is regulated and renovated beyond conception by these little wonder-workers. Being purely vegetable, they are perfectly harmless; being composed of concentrated, active ingredients, they are powerful! Purge and purify the system, and disease will be unknown. Of all druggists.

Wanted.—A lot of lumber 1 and 1 1/2, and 1x12, first-class, at P. H. Thompson's shop, Salisbury, at once.

MINING NOTES.

New machinery is in course of erection at the Ienbour mine, in Cabarrus county. This mine is on the trend of the Gold Hill belt.

Mr. John Jacobs, superintendent of the Yadkin Chlorination works informs us he is kept busy all the time, sampling, assaying, and working concentrates from several mines and turning out bullions every week. The owners of mines having a sulphide ore find it to their interest to ship their concentrates to him and receive the bullion therefrom. This bullion goes to the Charlotte mint, and our State gets the credit for her ores.

Haywood County, N. C. A Northern company are opening and developing a nickel ore property on Scott's Creek. We were shown samples of ore lately taken from this mine that show a large per centage of the metal. This was from outcrop on side of mountain. The ore appears to be an emerald color, with a vitreous luster, though earthy in some portions, and attached to the country rock is a pumelite. The main body of the ore examined by us some time previous to this date occurs near the summit of a ridge in massive beds, with occasional partings dipping at a slight angle, intercalated with small seams of chrysoptase. A tunnel is now being driven into the mountain to cross these beds, and large quantities of ore are taken out for dressing and shipping under the superintendency of R. Eames, Jr., and his assistant, Davis.

We visited last week the proposed site on the Yadkin river, in Stanly county, of the Stanly Freehold Gold mines water supply, and found a large force of men employed excavating for the water race on the west bank of the river, and Engineer John A. Ramsay, with his corps of assistants leveling and staking beyond those at work near the inlet for the race. The line to be traversed by the flume is over bold rocky points that will require blasting out for its bed. The levels are taken very accurately, and show on profile to the site of pumping house the exact curvature of the arc in the distance traversed by the flume. The work of putting in the wing dam across the river is a gigantic operation. The immense amount of rock that will be required to sustain the wooden structure for a distance of over 600 yards against the current of water running at the rate of more than 400 feet per minute over ridges of metamorphosed slate and rounded, water-worn boulders. This structure will be supplied with a tram and cars to carry the rock to the point of delivery, and it is estimated that it will take over 50,000 cubic yards of stone to hold down the woodwork that forms the wall of dam. The pumping house will be supplied with two 18 feet wheels driving four large force pumps that will form a continuous supply of water for ever four miles to the mines for sluicing purposes and milling, through 12-inch pipes. These pumps are fitted with automatic pressure valves, and double cylinder stroke of 41 feet. The pipes are wrought iron flange. All this hydraulic machinery is ordered at Tamer & Delaney's iron works, Richmond, Va., on contract. They commence delivering the outlet pipes this week. It will require 20 wagons to every car load to haul the pipe to the pipe line. We understand this work will go through on time under the systematic management of Capt. W. Nanco.

Greatly Excited. Not a few of the citizens of Salisbury, N. C., have recently become greatly excited over the astounding facts, that several of their friends had been pronounced by their physicians as incurable and beyond all hope—suffering with that dreaded monster, Consumption—have been completely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the only remedy that does positively cure all throat and lung diseases, Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Bronchitis. Trial bottles free at Theo. F. Klutz & Co's. Drug Store, large bottles $1.

We are in receipt of many applications by letter for situations as book-keeper, foreman and other positions. Therefore we will state that all positions on the works are filled at present.
