AMALGAMATOR

WHAT SAVES ALL THE FREE GOLD, AT A COST OF NOT OVER 25 CTS. PER TON.

This Amalgamator is an invention whereby the pulverized pulp or sand is forced down in contact with quicksilver in motion. Long explanations are useless. For prices, etc., address,

R. EAMES, JR. & CO.,
Agents for North Carolina and Georgia,
SALISBURY, N. C.

DESCRIPTION.

The ore to be treated passes by means of an automatic feed through the hopper stationary disk, the bottom of which is covered with a series of broken rifflers, directly beneath this disk is a revolving pan containing a reservoir of quicksilver, and when the apparatus is set in motion the disk is lowered to within 1-16th of an inch of the bottom of the revolving pan, upon bottom of which the quicksilver is placed and forms a wall round the periphery. A very thin stream of water is introduced into the sand or ore as it falls through the hopper into the center of the revolving pan, and is forced backwards and forwards between and under the rifflers; by this means the gold is freed from the sand or quartz by difference in specific gravity, and is then freed from the water by coming in contact with the quicksilver. The surface of the pan is caught by the wall of quicksilver formed around the periphery by centrifugal force.

ROYALTY.

The king of Denmark is tall with a compact figure.

The Princess of Wales is said to look every inch a princess. Empress Eugenie's health has been improved by a stay at Amsterdam.

The king of the Belgians is tall and straight, with a full chest and broad shoulders.

The Prince of Wales wears one of the few white hats to be seen in London during the summer months.

The king of Saxony is said to have the appearance of a retired merchant with a small income who lives a peaceful, narrow life.

Prince Bismarck is the most decorated man in Europe. Should he ever appear wearing insignia of all the orders conferred on him he would resemble an Oriental prince.

George, second son of the Prince of Wales, has awakened the jealousy of his elder brother by raising a beard. It is not however, a hirsute ornament of very great beauty as yet.

Prince Ferdinand, of Saxe-Coburg, is an enthusiastic naturalist. He possesses one of the finest ornithological collections in the world and a notable cabinet of precious stones.

The king of the Belgians has just invested £1,100,000 in the purchase of estates in Hungary and Austria. They are nominally to become the property of his majesty's sons-in-law, the Crown Prince of Austria and the Prince Philip of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, but it is generally believed that this step has been taken in view of possible mishaps. The late king invested largely both in England and in America, and his son has followed in his steps and has considerably increased the stores accumulated by his provident sire.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS.

It is said that Carlyle read on an average a dozen books a day.

Mrs. Henry Wood is said to have left five or six posthumous novels. Rider Haggard is only 31 years old and is a practicing barrister of Lincoln's Inn.

Susan Coolidge has a parrot, and it is said that the bird can recite whole passages from the novels of its owner.

Oscar Wilde, ex-apostle of aestheticism, just appears as a novelist in a serial story, "Lord Arthur Savile's Crime." It is a story of

The highest price ever paid for a book in Germany is said to be $1,650, given for a copy of the original Latin edition of the "Letters of Columbus," printed in 1493.

The literary education of women to prevail in England in the early part of the Seventeenth century. In 1630 neither of Shakespeare's daughters could write.

Mr. Walter Besant's acquaintance with Mr. James Rice began with the chance contribution of an article by the former to "Once a Week," the periodical of which Mr. Rice was owner and proprietor.

"Reinert de Vos," or "Reynard the Fox," a satirical poem, written about 1250 by William Van Utenhoven, a priest of Aardenburg, was for centuries the most popular work ever written. It was translated into many languages.

Kate Vannah, whose verses are very well known, is of Irish and German extraction, and is 30 years old. She was educated at St. Joseph's academy, at Emmitsburg, Md., graduating in 1874. She is a Roman Catholic, a fine musician, a respectable artist and an admirable horsewoman.

Not many know that the jolly, light-hearted "Madge Elliot," of Harper's Magazine and Young People, is the wife of the artist, Sol. Eytinge, whose spirited "darker" pictures in Harper's publications have so often amused the public. Mrs. Eytinge has a heart full of sympathy for the poor, the outcast and the oppressed, as well as love for the children. "Madge Elliot" has been truly called "the sweet singer for the sorrowful."

Lassoed by a Boston Girl.

"I don't believe in this tomfoolery about leap year," said a Boston Maiden to her lover; "It is all nonsense. No girl could be so imprudent as to make a downright proposal of marriage to her beau."
"You are undoubtedly right," assented the young man; "the young ladies are not near so anxious to get married as the young men."
"Oh, as to that!" rejoined the maiden. "I think you are mistaken. The girls are anxious enough to get married. Few of them would refuse an offer. I would jump at the chance myself."
"Would you, really?"
"Try me and see."
He did try her, and there is another added to the list of marriages to take place after the season closes.

Some physicians say disease is transmitted by kissing. Heart disease is and the only remedy is matrimony.—Call.

Anecdotes, Incidents, Sketches.

Shiel, in his "Sketches of the Irish Bar," relates how a Claire jury of old, in a case of felonious gallantry, acquitted the prisoner of the capital charge, but proved him guilty of "a great undecency."

This is nothing to the verdict of a Welsh jury: "Not guilty, but we recommend him not to do it again." It is also related that an English jury, not very bright, having before them a prisoner charged with burglary, and being unwilling to convict him capitally, and as no personal violence accompanied the robbery, gave the safe verdict: "Guilty of getting out of the window."

But the most original was that of an Irish jury, before whom a prisoner pleaded "guilty," throwing himself on the mercy of the court. The verdict was "Not Guilty." The judge, in surprise, exclaimed: "Why, he has confessed his crime!" The foreman responded: "Oh, my Lord, you do not know that fellow, but we do. He is the most notorious liar in the whole country, and no twelve men who know his character can believe a word he says." So the prisoner escaped, as the jury adhered to their verdict.

Of the verdicts in the United States we may mention the following:

A Rhode Island jury were for days debating in a hog case involving seven dollars, and then came in, found the hog not guilty, but recommended both plaintiff and defendant to the mercy of the court.

A Pekin, Ill., coroner's jury rendered a verdict that a man whose body was found in the river, came to his death by a blow on the head, "which was given either before or after the drowning."

An Indiana jury returned a written verdict of "Blode to pees bi the biler bustin."

The substance of a verdict of a recent jury, on a man who had died in a state of intoxication, was: "Death by hanging—round a rum shop."

But for grim humor, no verdict of a jury we ever heard of, quite equals the opinion of our court that "three is a majority of seven."

Kalakaau's Troubles.

It is said to see a great nation passing away, passing away. I have watched with tearful eyes the inexorable forcing of the red man, step by step, from his wigwags and hunting grounds, from his few traditional pleasures and scaples, his traditional and his firewater, taking nothing with him but his grand, earnest nature, a breech cloth and a few scattered beads. He is crowded mile by mile from effete civilization, tanglefoot and post-traders, and slowly and ruthlessly compelled toward the setting sun; and as I gazed with wet cheeks upon his passings, I have thought how true, how pathetically true, was the sympathetic remark once made, that it was mighty rough on the setting sun.

And now comes another blow. An army of insurgents, numbering over 150 effective troops, including two pack mules and a quartermaster, are preparing to detrone our royal and illustrious brother, Kalakaau, king of the Sandwich Islands, and as his forces consist of only sixty-four generals, nine colonels, two privates and a rotary drum major, it is feared he must fall. Kalakaau is a man of great spirit. He has been famous for his spirit ever since he was old enough to draw corks for his father, King Kamekama I., from whom he inherited his taste and his brunette complexion.

The Sandwich Islands no longer produce sandwiches. The most important staples are cane sugar and leprosy. Of these the cane sugar is entirely controlled by Mr. Claus Speckles, of San Francisco. King Kalakaau controls the rest, and is allowed a salary of $22,000 a year.

He ascended the throne in 1876. He began drawing his wages several years before that, and paid a visit to the United States, where, after a long tour, he got a design for a throne which suited him, brought it back, mounted it, and, giving it out that henceforth his domain should be called the Highwine Kingdom, ruled with more spirit than ever.—Henry Guy Garleto in New York World.

The Durham Plant gives the following as the business of last week among the manufacturers: Smoking tobacco shipped, 25,456 pounds worth $8,705.41. Cigarettes, 11,394,330, worth $37,491.28. Revenue receipts for the week, 9,309.22. The Plant also reports large breaks at the warehouses during the week.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Beech's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to in case the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung Troubles, have, perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized country. Sample bottles for 10 cents return the same size.

The Fastest Boat in the World.

Messrs. Thornycroft & Co., of Chiswick, in making preliminary trials of a torpedo boat built by them for the Spanish navy, have obtained a speed which is worthy of special record. The boat is twin-screw, and the principal dimensions are: Length 147 ft. 6 in., beam 14 feet 6 in., by 4 ft. 9 in. draught. On a trial at Lower Hope, on April 27, the remarkable mean speed of 26.11 knots was attained, being equal to a speed of 30.05 miles an hour, which is the highest speed yet attained by any vessel afloat.

Boys who will not Get Drowned.

If you have a boy named Bill, or Bud, or Sam, or Tom, you need not fear that he will be drowned during the swimming season. The boy who has a plug name, and whose hair stands up straight like a hazel-brush, and who has stone bruises on his feet, is not in danger of drowning. But if your son has curly hair, and if he wears shoes in summer, and has a pretty name, you had better let him swim in a washbowl.

Indispensable to the Toilet.

Darby's Prophylactic Fluid cures chafing, eruptions and inflammation of all kinds; cures inflamed or sore eyes; relieves pain from bites of insects and sore feet; destroys all taint of perspiration or offensive smell from any part of the body; cleanses and whitens the skin. Used as a dentifrice it purifies the breath; prevents the teeth and cures toothaches, sore gums and canker. A little of the Fluid in the water used in bathing is very refreshing and especially beneficial to the sick.

The Nashville American says: "Seventy-five thousand copies of 'She' have been issued in this country. Hundreds of married men would be rejoiced to get rid of the copy they have." That is just the kind of a "He" many a woman has to deal with and "It" would give her pleasure to see the dissatisfied creature go.

The Raleigh Signal devotes a half column editorial to our town commissioners for trying to pass an ordinance prohibiting ladies from wearing Mother Hubbards on the streets of Mocksville, and says that the Board of Commissioners must be "Red Mouthed Democrats." The truth of the matter, Mr. Signal, is that the last one of the town commissioners are "Red Mouthed" Republicans, and the ordinance was intended to stop colored Republican ladies from appearing on the streets in Mother Hubbards.—(Davie Times.)

Contagion in Rag Mattresses.

A newspaper man in San Francisco paid a visit the other day to a mattress factory, which was conducted upon a plan admirably adapted to the purpose of propagating disease by which, in a rough sheet were two machines technically known as teasers. These implements were revolving at a high rate of speed. Sharp teeth of iron were tearing the rags of the filthy and disgusting remnants of old clothes and other woolen articles into shreds, until the entire factories were reduced to fine filaments. In a rough sheet known as patent wool, used principally for filling the bed coverings of chints sold in the stores under the name of comforters. The first heading which the remnants of garments receive is by the Chinese rag-pickers, who convey them into Chinatown and there pick out the cotton and linen fabrics from the woolen ones. The former find their ultimate destination at the paper mills, while the latter are used by mattress and bed comforter makers after being teased by machinery. Without being disinfected in any way, these materials are liable, from the uses they are put to, to become a source whereby many valuable lives may be lost.—Boston Herald.

A Scientific View.

A scientist says that a woman who weighs 100 pounds here would weigh 2,700 pounds if on the surface of the sun. But not one woman in 1,000 will start on a journey to the sun in order to increase her weight. Now, if it were the moon, it would be different. There is a man in that job.—Norristown Herald.

A Creaking Hinge.

Is dry and turns hard, until oil is applied, after which it moves easily. When the joints, or hinges, of the body are stiffened and inflamed by Rheumatism, they cannot be moved without causing the most excruciating pains. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by its action on the blood, relieves this condition, and restores the joints to good working order.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has effected, in our city, many most remarkable cures, a number of which baffled the efforts of the most experienced physicians. Were it necessary, I could give the names of many individuals who have been cured by taking this medicine. In my own case it has certainly worked wonders, relieving me of after being troubled with it for years. In this, and all other diseases arising from impure blood, there is no remedy with which I am acquainted, that affords such relief as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.—R. H. Lawrence, M. D., Baltimore, Md.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me of Gout and Rheumatism, when nothing else would. It has eradicated every trace of disease from my system.—R. H. Short, Manager Hotel Belmont, Lowell, Mass.

I was, during many months, a sufferer from chronic Rheumatism. The disease afflicted me grievously, in spite of all the remedies I used, until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took several bottles of this preparation, and was speedily restored to health.—J. From, Independence, Va.

WHAT WAILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, lifeless, irascible, and indifferently miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "gout," or "empire of stomach," in the morning; tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth; irregular appetite, distaste, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flashes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, or insupportable feeling of drowsiness, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms, and the more difficult it is to direct your treatment for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and render a later, indeed a fatal, termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures any and every ailment of the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it recommends itself and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In medicinal doses, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

CONSUMPTION.

Which is the result of the Liver, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvellous power over this terrible fatal disease, when first offering this new world-renowned remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "Consumption Cure," but the name which from its wonderful combination of tonic and strengthening, alternative and nutritive properties, is unequalled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the
