CITY ITEMS.

Cool. Dry and dusty. The summer tourists have nearly all returned. Boys get your guns ready—you can shoot birds after the 15th.

Senator M. W. Ransom passed through Salisbury on Monday. We add the name of Victor Wallace to the list of Salisbury cotton buyers.

Marshal Bell, of Mocksville, is spending a few days with his many friends here.

Master Robert McNeely has gone to Asheville to take a place in Capt. McBees' office.

Miss Anna Holmes has returned from a pleasant visit to friends at Hagerstown, Md.

Dr. H. H. Eames spent a few days this week with friends and relatives in the city.

Mountain apples were selling on the street last week from 80 cents to $1 per bushel.

The first load of new tobacco was brought in last week. We could not ascertain the price realized.

Mrs. V. E. McBee and family spent several days here this week, the guests of Miss Fanny McNeely.

Mr. M. Brown has commenced his new residence on Main street, opposite Mr. J. M. Horah's dwelling house.

Tam McNeely is always a welcome guest in our town. He was here Monday and had to do a great deal of handshaking.

Electric Lights, Cotton Mills, Gas, Railroads, and other enterprises keep our progressive citizens in a continual stir.

Mr. W. L. James has purchased and placed in his parlor a grand Upright piano, from the well-known firm of James & Holmstrom.

Mr. John L. Wright has purchased the residence on Bank street formerly occupied by Mr. William Watson, and has moved into it.

Work on the new tobacco factory is progressing very rapidly. It is to be one of the ornaments of Salisbury's manufacturing enterprises.

W. T. Piekler, of Davie county, brought in some of the finest new tobacco ever brought here; it measured 2 feet long by 15 inches wide.

We learn that the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company will take the stores from their cars and heat up same with steam from the engine.

Cotton is coming in in great quantities; the quality is excellent. All we need is a Cotton Factory to consume it and keep more money at home.

The Royal Arcanum paid last week $3,000 insurance of the late J. L. Ritchie. For prompt payment the R. A. stands on the top of the list.

J. D. Gaskill is moving his dwelling house to the corner of his lot preparatory to building an elegant residence on the site now occupied by his dwelling.

McRoney & Bro. offer some excellent bargains in dry goods; their stock is large and choice and they propose to sell very low for cash. Read ad. in another column.

The prospects for a cotton factory are booming up again. We are assured that a company will be formed soon, and the building of a factory commenced next spring.

Miss Annie Bradshaw, daughter of Col. John Bradshaw, formerly of Salisbury, was married in New York City on the 4th inst. to Mr. Thomas G. Smith, of Long Island.

Miss Nannie O'Brien returned to her home at Petersburg, Va., on Sunday last, after a pleasant visit of several weeks to friends in this city. Her many friends hope to see her again in Salisbury ere long.

Klutz & Rendleman are receiving a large stock of goods—larger than ever before; their business is extending. They have always made a specialty of good goods at low prices.

The contract has been given out to erect a Methodist District Parsonage on the lot between J. D. Gaskill's and J. M. Brown's. This is to be the residence of the Presiding Elder of the Salisbury District.

We call attention to the very favorable statement of our First National Bank; great credit is due to the efficient and careful officers of the bank, who, by good business management, can show such excellent results.

Rev. J. O. Crossby, pastor of the Dixonville (colored) Baptist Church, will be married to-morrow, in South Carolina. His congregation are preparing for a handsome reception.

On the occasion of the golden wedding of Rev. S. Rothrock, we intended to give a sketch of his life, but for certain reasons could not produce it until now. The sketch will be found in this issue, on our first page.

A Tobacco Fair will be held at Danville, Va., Nov. 24, 25, 26, by the Danville Tobacco Association. $1500 in premiums will be given away. Mr. Ed. M. Pace, Danville, Va., is the Secretary, and will give all the information required.

The fair to and from Raleigh, including admission ticket to the fair grounds, is only $3.10. We hear of a great many availing themselves of the cheap rates to see the Capitol of the State. Tickets will be on sale from Oct. 16th to 21st, good to return by the 22nd.

A Choice Lot of Sugar-Cured Meats just arrived at A. PARKER'S.

Foard & Rice are closing their tobacco factory to-day; Johnson & Ramsay did so a few days ago, while J. D. Gaskill is working his full force yet. Beall & Co., are working hard to fill orders. Every manufacturer is satisfied with this summer's work, and is looking hopefully into the future.

The beef so abundantly brought to this market is of an excellent quality and sells readily. We need a beef market very badly, and hope that our capitalists will take it in hand to build one soon. It will be a paying institution, a great convenience to our butchers, and would do away with meat stands all over the city.

Married, on Wednesday, at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. B. H. Cosby, in Asheville, N. C., Mr. William V. Lowe and Miss Annie V. Cowan, daughter of the late Canada Cowan, of Asheville. Rev. W. W. Bays, D. D., tied the nuptial knot. The happy couple are at present making their home here in Salisbury.

The return of Gallagher Bro's, photographers, is hailed with pleasure, and persons of undoubted capacity for judging are predicting a fine fall and winter business for them. Why not get your pictures at home, when you can get them just as well finished, just as true and just as cheap, quality considered, as in any part of the State.

Mr. Sinclair Blackwelder, who has been employed by the Mecklenburg Iron Works for a number of years as a machinist, has accepted a position in the W. N. R. R. shops at Salisbury. Mr. Blackwelder is an excellent young man and a practical mechanic. We take pleasure in commending him to the good people of his future home.—Char. Chronicle.

Mr. Victor Wallace keeps the largest establishment of merchandising in town. Three stories, with 10,000 square feet of flooring are insufficient to accommodate his tremendous stock. A large warehouse is filled to its utmost capacity with the necessities of the people. Mr. Wallace has built up a large trade by close attention to business and by strictly fair dealing. His trade extends over ten counties.

The following telegram, which came to Mr. Foust, president Y. M. C. A., last night, will be read with interest by our citizens: CANTON, Miss., Oct. 11.—Great work here. Can't close before one week. Continue preparations. R. G. PEARSON.

The regret that there is to be any delay in Mr. Pearson's coming will be tempered by this additional evidence of his power for good and the continued presence of God's Spirit in his work.

President Cleveland will certainly pass through Salisbury Friday, October 21st, between 4 and 4 1/2 o'clock afternoon and we hope to be able to get him to give us ten or fifteen minutes, that everybody may have an opportunity of seeing him and shaking him by the hand. If we could induce him to stop over with us we would give him a blowout that would be equalled by none that he had on his trip. Let everybody come and see a live Democratic President.

Fathers and mothers, sons and daughters, young men and maidens, young and old, great and small will certainly be pleased to know that Messrs. Gallagher Brothers, photographers, have returned and will be ready by the middle of the coming week to supply the demand for first-class photographs, which has been so much felt during their absence.

From a private letter from William G. Ramsay we learn that he had a pleasant voyage without paying the usual tribute to Neptuneus Deus. It took the steamer 6 days and 7 hours to cross the ocean, a remarkably quick passage. Arrived in London he was hospitably received and entertained by our friend, W. T. Linton, who, by the way, is the busiest man in London. Mr. R. also says that he met in London our townsman, Mr. Will Wiley, and his bonny Scotch bride. Mr. Ramsay sailed last Saturday from London to the West coast of Africa.

Every wife and mother in the country should know the great value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as a blood purifier. It gives tone, health, and strength to the vital organs, corrects all irregularities, and exerts its purifying influence on the system. Young and old use it. Price $1.

MINING NOTES.

Work on the Hearne and Heathcock mines will be resumed shortly. The plant is being put in order for active operations.

We hear that the Centrifugal Amalgamators in use at the Appalachian mine are doing good work. They not only save the fine float gold, but arrest the finer particles liberated from the oxidized sulphurets, thereby increasing the yield. This, we understand, has induced the management to erect several of the amalgamators on the plant.

Coal Prospecting.

Mr. B. Crews, of Oxford, N. C., is negotiating for the purchase or lease of a steam drill for the purpose of penetrating the sandstones of that district, which are supposed to be the overlying cap rock of coal.

Gold Hill Mines.

We were glad to observe the activity at this mine. There is a larger output of high grade ore from the 200 foot level. An extension of one of these lenticular masses that occur in this mine was struck a short time ago that has given an impetus to the whole management of every department of the mine. New stopes are working, more miners are required, the mill is running every day and the outlook at the north shaft has resumed its former appearance. We could not ascertain the amount of bullion produced weekly.

Stanly Freehold Mines.

Our expert visited these mines on Thursday last and found the large pumping and winding engine at work. The whole machinery foundations and brick work, together with the immense bobs and all the hoisting apparatus having been erected in the last 21 days. We would here remark that the expedition shown in the erection of this massive machinery in so short a time speaks well for the management. They are now engaged placing in position the several angle joints and bob movements for the transmission machinery to work the three shafts simultaneously from one central motive power. The sinking and timbering is on contract. The upcast shaft is now 100 feet in depth, a level being run on the course of vein south-west at this depth, on a quartz vein from 10 to 18 inches in width. On both sides the chlorite slate for nearly seven feet in width yields free gold. The assays show from quartz and slate an average of 12 to 14 ozs. per ton; over 40 tons of this class of ore is now on the dump. Should this class of ore continue in the vein for another 100 feet in depth, then the estimated value of these mines will not be overrated.

Some Man's Folly.

The Engineering and Mining Journal, of New York, in its issue of October 1st, prints the following notice:

"A complete set of mining machinery, to be used in developing the gold mines in North Carolina, was shipped from San Francisco, Cal., last week."

We can readily understand that under some circumstances it would have been cheaper for the party who have undertaken this enterprise to bring their machinery from California. For instance, if it had been given them free of charge, which is not likely. But to think that some knowing person (or "unknown") has brought this machinery all that distance, thinking or presuming it could not be obtained east or in the State of North Carolina is absurd. If the machinery in question is of such a wonderful character that it could not be constructed cheaper, consequently better, by Capt. John Wilkes, of the Mecklenburg Iron Works, of Charlotte, we will consider ourselves subdued. We should be pleased to hear from any of our readers in this State where this machinery is to be located and shall watch with interest its mission; viz.: "Developing the mines of North Carolina."

Manager E. B. C. Hambley will commence shortly the work on the Sam Christian mine in Montgomery county. All the plans for hydraulic work are in, and the engineers will be set to work in a few days to run the levels for the thirty miles of ditches. Far above the falls of the Yadkin river the water will be taken, and aqueducts for conveying the water along the side of the river bluffs and across deep ravines until it strikes across the ranges of the Uwharrie, when the ditches will curve the mountain sides for over 16 miles and enter this great alluvial gold deposit. We understand that during the aqueduct and ditch building the Superintendent will have the mines running through the three ranges that divide the waters of Island Creek and the Pee Dee river. By this exploitation of ground they hope to reach the source of all this alluvial gold deposited along the side, ridges and low lands of the Sam Christian mine. This mining will employ a large amount of labor, skilled and unskilled, and by delving and cutting the ranges will open up new developments of mineral deposits that have long supposed to exist in this region of the country, but have never been developed for the reason that the owners of the land not having the means to work in a systematic manner. Large capital is the only lever that can or may make this enterprise, if managed by experienced mining engineers and field experts a success. We wish the company that have lately purchased the Sam Christian mine all success, and that their expectation may be fully realized.

Tobacco Planting.

The tobacco crop in North Carolina and Virginia is short, the crop in the Western States is almost a complete failure. Tobacco will be high for at least two years on this account. Farmers will do well to prepare to plant a big crop next year, and cure it well, for good tobacco will bring a big price, when poor tobacco will not bring much. Work in tobacco pays better than any other work. It does not pay to cure it any which way, but do it well and your reward will be a big price.
