Mr. Torrence, who was killed in the wreck, was brother-in-law to Mr. David W. Oates, of Charlotte. He had been North to buy machinery for the Cherokee Falls factory. This is the third railroad accident through which Mr. Hall has passed.

ALL WENT DOWN.

Terrible Accident on the Virginia Midland. The fast mail train that left Washington City at 11 o'clock last Wednesday night and that was due here yesterday at 12:35 p. m., never reached this place. The train was destroyed by falling through a trestle sixty feet high, near Orange Court House, on the Virginia Midland road, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

The passengers say that it was a most horrible affair. The night was intensely dark as the long and well-filled train rolled out from Orange station and proceeded on its way South. The trestle was undergoing repairs, and the engineer reduced his speed on approaching it, according to the requirements, and was running at the rate of five miles an hour when the trestle was reached. The engine had just about cleared the trestle when a wheel under the postal car broke.

The United Press report of the accident, sent from Alexandria, Va., says: "The Southern Express, No. 52, in charge of Conductor Taylor and Engineer Watkins, and drawn by Engine No. 694, which left Washington at 11:20 last night for Danville and the South, over the Richmond & Danville Railroad, Midland Division, met with a terrible accident two miles south of Orange Court House, at 2:30 this morning. The train consisted of seven cars including mail car, three Pullman cars, baggage car and two passenger cars.

"At a trestle known as Fancy's trestle, a structure sixty feet high, the mail car in some mysterious way became derailed and left the track breaking down the trestle and pulling upon it the baggage car and engine, which had already safely crossed. The rear car, the passenger cars and Pullmans fell also upon the cars and engine making a complete and fearful wreck. Luckily the train did not catch fire. The suddenness of the accident created the greatest consternation and the helpless passengers were thrown in all directions in the cars. Few indeed, escaped without injuries of a more or less serious nature. Those not seriously hurt immediately began to render what assistance they could but as the night was pitch dark, they could do little effective work before daylight. Word was sent to Orange Court House and from there a dispatch was sent to this city. A wrecking train left here at 5:30. In the mean time the people in the neighborhood, and from Orange Court House and Gordonsville, hurried to the scene and rendered all the assistance in their power. As far as can be ascertained the killed number seven and the wounded forty.

"The killed are: Hunter, of Scotland; Cornelius Cox, Alexandria, Va., Civil Engineer, Piedmont Air Line; H. T. Whittington, Greensboro, N. C., postal clerk; H. C. Brightwell, Prospect, Prince Edward County, Va., postal clerk; unknown woman, white; two unknown men, white. "Injured—Conductor Taylor, internally; Engineer Watkins, scalded; Fireman Kelly, scalded and otherwise hurt; Baggage Master James Goodman, crushed and will probably die; J. L. Wallthall, of Washington, D. C., postal clerk, both legs broken; W. N. Parrott, Albemarle County, Va., postal clerk, chest crushed, may die; J. Q. West, Washington, D. C., postal clerk, crushed, will die; Louis Jenkins, of Lynchburg, Va., postal clerk, seriously injured; Z. Jones, Lynchburg, Va., passenger, badly hurt; Potterfield, Express Messenger, badly crushed. "Dr. Torrence, who was killed in the wreck, was brother-in-law to Mr. David W. Oates, of Charlotte. He had been North to buy machinery for the Cherokee Falls factory. This is the third railroad accident

The Republican Committee.

New York, July 11.—The National Republican committee met at noon today at the Fifth Avenue hotel. Nearly all the members of the committee were on hand. Temporary chairman J. S. Clarkson, called the meeting to order. Mr. Samuel Fessenden acted as secretary. After some preliminary business the acting chairman was instructed, on motion, to appoint a committee of nine for the purpose of preparing a plan of campaign. A committee of eleven was appointed to formulate a plan of permanent organization, and recommended suitable men for permanent officers. It was decided to receive the committee from the league of Republican clubs at three o'clock, and confer with them. The committee then adjourned until eight o'clock this evening.

The committee reassembled at 8 p.m. Senator M. S. Quay, of Pennsylvania, was elected chairman, and Senator J. Sloat Fosssett, of Elmira, secretary.

Music in Salisbury.

On last Monday night another very enjoyable impromptu Soiree Musicale was given in the Neave Music School, complimentary to some visiting ladies and gentlemen. It was a matter of surprise and pleasure to those present, to notice the fine solo and orchestral playing of even the youngest pupils; their exact timekeeping, clearness and precision of touch and expression. Two vacancies on the programme owing to sickness, Miss Carrie Goldberg, of Charlotte, kindly consented to fill with recitations. "The Letter to Papa" and "Popping the Question," the first a very pathetic poem, the second full of humor, to which the young lady did full justice.

Saturated With Kerosene.

SHREVE, N. C., July 11.—There were two bold attempts at incendiarism at Rutherfordton last night. The store of B. A. Hampton, at the Charleston Cincinnati and Chicago depot, was saturated with kerosene, but the men were frightened off. The floor of the Chicago depot was also saturated and fired, but was extinguished without any damage. No clue to the perpetrators.

To Boycott Coffee.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 10.—General Master Workman Powderly has written a letter for this week's Journal of United Labor, in which he calls attention to an alleged "corner" in coffee and advises abstention from the use of coffee until the "corner" is broken. His letter concludes as follows: "BOYCOTT COFFEE—DO NOT BUY ONE OUNCE OF IT UNTIL THIS REIGN OF FLUNDER IS AT AN END. Go to your grocer and tell him not to invest in a pound of it, and ask him to watch the turn of the tide in New York. To do as I suggest will work no injustice to the men from whom you buy groceries. Do not buy coffee, but buy something else in its stead; and when you do invest in coffee again have the article you invest in analyzed to see that it has not been tampered with, and adulterated, and then trace the adulteration until you find it, and you may be sure you will trace it to the action taken in the Coffee Exchange of New York. "Mechanics, laborers, miners, farmers and Knights of Labor, generally, practice a little self-denial for a time and break the 'corner' in coffee by refusing to buy it. Let us test the law and see if we will be arrested for boycotting an article made too dear by rogues who boycott the best interest of the people."

CHICAGO, July 12.—A Globe special from Minneapolis says:

Ariel C. Harris, one of the best known newspaper men in the northwest, has been elected to South America with Mrs. E. J. Federick, a lady who has for the past two years filled a position as type writer for the Minnesota Abstract Company. Harris leaves a wife and two children.

Men Who Harm a Town.

It is hoped that Salisbury has very few, if any, such men as are described by the Lynchburg Advocate under the above head: Those who oppose improvement. Those who do not advertise. Those who run it down to strangers. Those who mistrust public men. Those who show no hospitality to any one. Those who hate to see others make money. Those who opposed every movement which does not originate with themselves. Those who treat every stranger as interloper. Those who put on long faces when a stranger talks of locating. Those who oppose public enterprise that does not appear of personal benefit to themselves.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Derivations of Some Words.

Candidus is a Latin word, meaning a "white toga, or gown." In the days of Roman supremacy, such as intended to claim the suffrages of the people for any of the State officers, presented themselves before-hand to them in a white toga and was called candidatus, and from this we have our word "candidate." A word much used at this time. "Mob," says Trench, "is one of the many words formerly slang, which are now used by best writers, and received like paraded outlaws, into the body of respectable citizens." Its first appearance was in that interval in English history, between the restoration and the Revolution, and at that time its form was "Mobile Vulgus," meaning an easily moved (referring to passions) crowd, but later it was abbreviated into its present form. Few would suppose that "Bishop" and "Episcopal" had the same origin, yet it is nevertheless true. A Bishop is one to "watch over," or in other words, have the guidance. In "Library," one is reminded that books were originally written on the bark (liber) of trees; in "book" itself that they were often beechen tablets. "Calico" is from Calicut, or as it is now, Calcutta, whence this fabric originally came. In the same way we have "muslin," from Mouslin, a city in Asiatic Turkey. "Tobacco," we have from the Island Tobago. "Sincere," means "without wax," as the finest honey should be, consequently, "to be just as it appears." "Imbecile" originally meant physically weak, without any special reference to mental weakness. Its literal meaning is "ou a staff" as leaning on a staff is significant of weakness, hence the derivation. Our "vocation" is simply our calling. We might go on in this way and speak of hundreds of words that are used continually in our daily conversation, but space forbids.

Unique Use for Broomsticks.

Broomsticks are not such useless articles after all. Aside from the proverbial use as a woman's weapon the broomstick can serve as an ornament. Three of these which hole bored half way between the ends and tied together, and when left to fall into tent-shape form the legs of a very unique little table. A square, or circular, or indeed any shaped piece of board makes a top. Now cover this top with plush or velvet. Crazy silk patch work used to be seen, but this, like its friends the bedquits, are being discarded. The broomsticks are pretty, gilded. Tie the legs with broad ribbon and place on the bow a bunch of grasses or flowers. Broomsticks arranged in this tent-like shape can be used for a Gipsy kettle or most any kind of hanging basket.—Commercial Advertiser.

Allen G. Thurman.

Allen G. Thurman (N. C.) Times. No doubt he's old as we are told, But not a man to flatter; His heart is young, his mind is strong, And still his bright eyes glitter. Then let the cry be loud and high, From Maine to Louisiana; Three cheers for the grand old Roman, And the turkey red bandanna! As good as gold, this man must hold First place in our affection; As true as steel, we all must feel Impelled in his direction. Then let the shout ring loudly out, Shout for the flaming banner! Three cheers for the grand old Roman! Hurrah for the red bandanna! Right at the front he bore the brunt Of many a hard fought battle, And stood when shoals of weaker souls Ran off like frightened cattle. Let every voice sing loudly out, And sing a strong hosanna! Three cheers for the grand old Roman! Hurrah for the red bandanna! This man would grace the highest place To which he might be beckoned; Therefore, you see, good cause that he Should rightly fill the second! Then let the cry ring loud and high, From New York to Indiana! Three cheers for the noble Roman, And the turkey red bandanna!

The practice of mixing the morning's and night's milk is detrimental as it often causes rapid change. It would be better, if not two impracticable, to keep each cow's milk separate, but as this is laborious the milk of one milking should at least be kept from that of another. Republicans now call their ticket the "on" combination, namely, "Harrison, Morton, and Protection." How would it do to add "taxation," and protective "damnation?"—Exchange.

PROHIBITION NATIONAL PLATFORM. The Prohibition party, in national convention assembled, acknowledging, Almighty God as the source of all power in government, do hereby declare: 1. That the manufacture, transportation, exportation, and sale of alcoholic beverages shall be made public crimes and punished as such. 2. That such prohibition must be secured through amendments of our national and state constitutions, enforced by adequate laws adequately supported by administrative authority; and to this end the organization of the prohibition party is imperatively demanded in state and nation. 3. That any form of license, taxation or regulation of the liquor traffic is contrary to good government; that any party which supports regulation, license or tax, enters into an alliance with such traffic and becomes the actual foe of the State's welfare, and that we arraign the Republican and Democratic parties for their persistent iniquity, whereby they oppose the demand of the people, and, though open complicity with the liquor cause, defeat the enforcement of the same. 4. For the immediate abolition of the internal revenue system, whereby our national government is deriving support from our greatest national vice. 5. That an adequate public revenue being necessary, it may properly be raised by impost duties, but impost duties should be so reduced that no surplus shall be accumulated, and that any and that the burden of taxation shall be removed from food, clothing and other comforts and necessities of life. 6. That civil service appointments for all civil offices chiefly elected in their duties, should be based upon moral, intellectual and physical qualifications, and not upon party service or party necessity. 7. That the right of suffrage should be no mere circumstance of race, color, sex or nationality, and that where, for any cause, it has been withheld from citizens who are of suitable age and mentally and morally qualified for the exercise of an intelligent ballot, it should be restored by the people through the legislatures of the several states, on such educational basis as they may deem wise. 8. For the abolition of polygamy and the establishment of uniform laws governing marriage and divorce. 9. For prohibiting all combinations of capital to control and increase the cost of products for popular consumption. 10. For the preservation and defense of the Sabbath as a civil institution without opposing any who religiously observe the same on any other day than the first day of the week. That arbitration is the settling, wise and economical method of settling disputes between large bodies of employees and employers; that the abolition of such arbiters would remove the burdens, moral, physical, pecuniary and social, which now oppress labor and rob it of its earnings, and would prove to be the most successful way of promoting labor reform; and we will invite labor and capital to unite with us for the accomplishment thereof; that monopoly in land is a wrong to the people, and the public land should be reserved to actual settlers and that men and women should receive equal wages for equal work. That our immigration laws should be so enforced as to prevent the introduction into our country of all convicts, inmates of other dependent institutions, and of others physically incapacitated for self-support, and that no person should have the ballot in any state who is not a citizen of the United States. Recognizing and declaring that prohibition of the liquor traffic has become the dominant issue in national politics, we invite to full party fellowship all those who, on this one dominant issue, are with us agreed, in the full belief that this party can and will, by its successful differences, promote national unity and insure the best welfare of our entire land.

STATE PROHIBITION PLATFORM.

The prohibition party of the State of North Carolina, humbly and gratefully acknowledging Almighty God as the Supreme Sovereign and Law Giver, from whose authority all just forms of human government are derived, and with whose righteous laws all human enactments should be in perfect agreement, in order to obtain and maintain for the people the blessings of peace, prosperity and happiness, do hereby declare: We are committed to and will cordially defend: 1. A statutory prohibition law, with effective measures of enforcement, for the State of North Carolina. 2. An amendment to the constitution of the State modifying the constitution of the United States prohibiting the manufacture, sale, importation, or exportation of all alcoholic beverages. 3. A national convention to invite into and report upon the statistics and effects of the alcoholic liquor traffic. 4. The total abolition of the internal revenue system of the United States or the liquor traffic throughout all territory under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States government, including military posts, reservation, soldiers' homes, etc. 5. That in the public schools of the several States the teaching of the nature and effects of the alcoholic beverage should be made a part of the national curriculum. 6. That in the national prohibition party, and will send delegates to the convention. 7. That the national prohibition party, and will send delegates to the convention. 8. That the national prohibition party, and will send delegates to the convention. 9. That the national prohibition party, and will send delegates to the convention. 10. That the national prohibition party, and will send delegates to the convention.
