Here is a good story from life told in a Louisville, Ky., dispatch to the Nashville (Tenn.) Banner: "A special from New Orleans says that John Bellis of that city, who is heir to a $100,000 estate, left by his aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Watson of Louisville, has announced that he will surrender any claim he might have on the estate in favor of his two foster cousins, Mrs. Thomas Swan, wife of the assistant general passenger agent of the Rio Grande railroad at Denver, and Mrs. George Venus, wife of a New Orleans business man. Mrs. Swan and Mrs. Venus had been reared as daughters by Mrs. Watson, and it was not until after her death that they learned that they had been adopted by her when infants. Mrs. Watson was a sister of Bellis' father. Bellis says he has a good business and is comfortably fixed and believes it right and Mrs. Watson's estate should go to the children she adopted, though he is really next of kin and the legal heir."

BELETED PRAISE.

President Taft is quoted as paying a tribute to ex-President Cleveland in a speech made in New York on the latter's birthday. The belated praise which is now heaped upon Mr. Cleveland by republicans would have been very much appreciated by him during his life. In 1896 the republican leaders blamed the democratic administration for the panic of '93, and ever since that time the republicans have called it a "democratic panic" because it occurred under the administration of one who was elected as a democrat. Mr. Cleveland was denounced by the republicans for the issuing of bonds in the time of peace, although the republicans are preparing to do the same thing now. The tariff which Mr. Cleveland favored was denounced as a menace to the country and as disastrous to our industry and as a concession to the foreigners. Nothing that Mr. Cleveland did was supported by the republicans except what he did on the money question, and that was endorsed only because he adopted the policy of the republican leaders on that subject. Mr. Taft says that it was a relief to the republican party when the leadership in the party passed from Mr. Cleveland, and this in forgetfulness of the fact that the republicans had a larger majority in congress during the second half of Mr. Cleveland's administration than they have ever had since. It was not necessary in that congress to secure the support of a few democrats in order to carry out the policies of a republican speaker.

For the Sick Room.

To change the sheets on a sick person's bed is a very simple matter, if understood. Loosen the soiled sheet on one side of the bed and roll it up lengthwise against the patient's back, who must lie on his side; over the stripped mattress spread the clean sheet, tucking down the outer edge, and the half left unspread must be in a roll which is laid alongside of the soiled sheet; when half of the bed is thus stripped and covered, the patient must turn, or be turned on the other side, with his face to the clean sheet, and this will bring him over on the clean side of the bed; then both sheets are to be drawn from under him, the soiled one to be removed from the bed, and the clean one put in place on the mattress and tucked in under the side of the bed.

To change the night gown without making the patient sit up, the arms are slipped out of the sleeves and the gown drawn down below the shoulders. Have the clean gown at hand, already warmed, and put the arms into the clean sleeves, life the head and slip the garment under the patient's shoulders; then, by raising the lower part of the body, the soiled gown is to be drawn off, and the clean one drawn into place.

An Ideal Cough Medicine.

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gynecville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Medicine. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended." For sale by all druggists.

"Wets" Egg "Dry" Advocate. Chillicothe, Ohio, April 16.—Rev. C. W. Eldridge, of Cincinnati, while delivering a speech in favor of the "drys" at Adelphi, a small town near here, last night, was showered with rotten eggs by a crowd of "wet" bystanders.

Ross county, in which Chillicothe is located, has been in the throes of a hot local-option campaign for several months, and a vote on the liquor question will be taken in a few days.

Rev. Mr. Eldridge is superintendent of the Cincinnati district of the Antisaloon League, which comprises a tier of counties in the southwestern part of Ohio.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Statesville People Know How to Save It.

Many Statesville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a Statesville citizen's recommendation.

Mrs. S. Revis, living at 212 Seventh St., Statesville, N. C., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy that acts up to its representations. I sent to Hall's Drug store, and procured them while suffering from pains through the lower part of my back and frequent headaches which had caused me great distress. Their use improved my condition in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills proved so satisfactory in my case that I do not hesitate to recommend them to other sufferers."
