Spring Cleaning

The Blood needs a Spring Cleaning as much as the house.

All the family need to free the blood from the humors that gather during the winter months, in order to keep the appetite good, the complexion clear, maintain health, give strength to the entire frame and double the pleasures of life.

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

has been the standard blood cleanser for 30 years. Your parents used it—your children and grandchildren will find nothing better for its humane purpose. No other remedy comes in so large a bottle for the price—a full quart for only one dollar.

Don't neglect your health when so small an expenditure will accomplish so much. There is no substitute, though plenty of imitations. Get the genuine. Sold by all druggists. Made only by

New Judges Appointed—Winston and Jones.

Raleigh News and Observer, 5th.

The new judges have been appointed. They are Hon. Francis D. Winston, of the Second District, and Hon. George A. Jones, of the Sixth District. Judge Winston's commission becomes effective July 1st, but Judge Jones will assume his duties as soon as he has qualified. This leaves only one more judge to be appointed. Of the four original vacancies, three have been filled by the appointment of Judge Justice in the Fourteenth District and the two above mentioned.

There is a vacancy only in the Eighth District, where there is a warm contest between several candidates. Among those whose names have been mentioned for the position are Mr. W. J. Adams, of Moore county; Mr. Walter H. Neal, of Scotland county; Judge Lockhart, of Anson county, and Mr. Redwine, of Union county. The friends of each of these gentlemen are very active in their behalf, and it is not known when the appointment will be made. None of the four solicitors have been appointed yet. Vacancies in this office exist in the Fourth, Eighth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth districts. In each district it is said there are a number of applicants for the position. Governor Aycock has not yet announced when he will make these appointments.

The Future of the South.

Atlanta Constitution.

In forecasting the future of this section, Major J. W. Thomas, president of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway, has some sunny predictions upon the following elementary factors:

First, the capacity of the soil of the south to feed five times the population it has at present.

Second, the large area of its coal fields, embracing 47,000 square miles that have seams of workable thickness.

Third, the large quantity of iron ore found in eight out of the fourteen southern States.

Fourth, the ability, by reason of the cheapness of land, to produce, to make cheap iron, which is now the standard, basis and meter of civilization.

Fifth, the natural advantages for the manufacture of cotton and wool.

Sixth, the large extent of forests and the industries that naturally spring from the presence of such forests.

Under the above six heads Major Thomas has summarized within the smallest possible compass the magnificent possibilities of the south, each paragraph suggesting a subject upon which volumes might be written.

Whiskey Drinking in the South.

New York Sun.

Before the beginning of the civil war and for several years after, the South was a great whiskey-drinking region, and those who produced and consumed a larger amount of spirituous liquors than any other group of states in the country was unchallenged. But since the close of the war a complete, palpable and very marked change has come over the South, and while Kentucky and Maryland continue to produce whiskey in very large quantities as warehouse returns of the United States treasury indicate, the larger part of the production of that state is shipped North, comparatively little being sold in the South for consumption.

Spanked with the Leg of a Lamb.

Providence, R. I., Special, to Philadelphia Record.

George Dunlop was to day sentenced to 15 days at Cranston jail for spanking his wife with a leg of a lamb. Mrs. Dunlop is youthful and prepossessing. With a tearful face she told the story of the assault made by her husband. She said he came home after being away all night Saturday and smashed the windows. Then he kicked the panels out of the doors and fought with the kitchen stove, smashing all the utensils about the pantry.

Trinity Commencement.

Durham Herald.

The approaching commencement of Trinity college which will be held the first week in June, promises to be one of the greatest events in the history of the college.

No Mandamus for Him.

Greensboro Telegram.

Squire Pierce tried a big case of claim and delivery at the police headquarters this morning, in which one colored lady sought to get some furniture which she claimed belonged to her, but which another lady held contrary to the statute made and provided. Squire Pierce decided that the furniture belonged to the plaintiff, but he said he'd have to rest the case there for a while. He loved that this mandamus business is getting pretty ticklish now, and he'd have to think over it a while before ordering the officer to take the goods, especially until he got his own fee, which wasn't then in sight.

Breach Between Mayor and Aldermen of Wilmington.

Wilmington News and Observer.

Wilmington now has, as a result of the recent city election, the unusual spectacle of a mayor and board of aldermen widely at variance with one another. Seven of the ten members of the council are strong supporters of the mayor, and the remaining three are strong opponents of the mayor. The affair was an interrupted elopement of five young women from Potter College, Dowling Green, one of the prominent seminaries for young women in the South.

The Southern's Mississippi Victory.

Atlanta Constitution.

The victory of the Southern Railway Company before the railroad commission of the State of Mississippi is a splendid tribute to the showing made before the officers of that railroad.

China Defies Russia.

Peking Dispatch, 4th.

The Chinese Government has formally notified Russia that China, owing to the attitude of the powers, is not able to sign the Manchurian Convention.

Got Tossed Instead of Money.

San Francisco Dispatch, 6th.

Members of the Thirtieth Regiment, Volunteer Infantry, which was mustered out Wednesday, celebrated their release by tossing into collectors' hands who call at the camp in blankets. They departed for home, leaving $7,000 in unpaid bills. (Tradesmen who had supplied the veterans with civilian outfits sent collectors to the Hresidio, where the soldiers were to be paid off. Jacob Weinberg was the first of a dozen collectors to try to make them pay. A score seized him. In a minute he was flying in the air. His bills and loose change were scattered in all directions. Three times he went up, and when he could he decamped without further attempt at collection. The others went through the same performance.)

GEN CLAY SHOOTS.

General Cassius M. Clay, of Kentucky, Rewards Officers Who Sought to Serve a Civil Process.

With the cry "The Vendetta! The Vendetta!" on his lips, General Cassius M. Clay, the famous abolitionist and duelist, and former United States minister to Russia, this morning led his little bodyguard to battle against a sheriff's posse, which had gone to the sheriff's palatial mansion in Madison county to serve papers upon the general in a civil case, instituted against him by his daughter, Mrs. Mary B. Clay. Many shots were fired on each side, and the posse finally departed without accomplishing the purpose of its visit. It is reported that General Clay was wounded in the affair. Fleeing his supposed enemies, he barricaded himself in his mansion in Madison county and there he remains, guarded by his faithful servants. Whether or not he is wounded is known only to himself and to his little bodyguard. No physician has been summoned to the house and none dare approach, except on invitation.

An Insnaring Suggestion.

Raleigh News and Observer.

Some fellow signing himself "Justice" in this week's Winston Republican, denounces the suggestion that the prosecutions against the registrars be "not prosed." He advocates this infamous and insulting plan which no decent man would consider for a moment.
