Statesville, N. C., Aug. 8, 1901.

The Republican State convention of Maryland met Tuesday in Baltimore, H. S. Platt, of Baltimore, was nominated for State Comptroller, and Thomas Parson, of Calvert county, for clerk of the Court of Appeals. The platform endorses McKinley and denounces Gorman. The Democratic issue of white supremacy is ridiculed. The Maryland Republicans stand up for the negro just as their brethren farther South.

Tuesday Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, gave out his reply to the request of the Democratic State committee for his resignation. Of course he declines to resign and claims that he will appeal to the people. His letter is very long and is filled with abuse of Senator Tillman, every old exploded charge against the senior Senator being brought forward again. The State committee did right. McLaurin has betrayed the party which elected him and deserves to be kicked out.

All for Overman.
On Monday morning seven gentlemen were sitting in front of the Coffey Hotel the same representing some two or three counties in the western part of the State, when the subject of a United States Senator to succeed Pritchard was sprung. The names of Craig, Osborne, Glenn and Overman were discussed by those present, when a roll was proposed, the same resulting in a unanimous vote for the Hon. Lee S. Overman of Rowan. One of the above named will doubtless be the United States Senator, and the peevish Overman has a coming. He is the winning candidate, and if he is, the Democracy may well be proud of his choice.

He Set a Good Example.
Col. Barrows, president of the Welsh Company, who died last week, was a man who ought to be remembered. In addition to giving good light to consumers of gas, the Philadelphia Record says that it was in his cotton mill "that milk, bread and buns were first issued gratuitously to the growing girls employed about it; that all employees were required to know how to read and write; that the firm was paid more than the engineer; that storage batteries were first successfully used in connection with electric lighting and many other improvements made, all primarily because it was believed to be profitable to the mill company."

He recognized that if "growing girls" are employed in mills, they ought to have nourishing food. In many of the smaller mills in the State, the younger girls have been given more time for dinner and easier work than is possible in the great concerns where thousands are employed in one mill.

Bravo Overman Murdered by Brutal Negro Gambler.
Yesterday morning at 2 o'clock Chief of Police R. S. Jones was shot and instantly killed by Jim Lowry, a negro, who, with two other negroes, was playing cards.

When Mr. Jones pushed open a window and told all three to consider themselves under arrest, Lowry jumped up and tried to get out another window, but falling ran to the door and as he opened it he threw his pistol in Mr. Jones' breast and fired, the ball ranging downward into his stomach. As Lowry jumped out the door he fired again, the ball this time taking effect just above the heart. The chief of police then fell dead.

The negro ran and bloodhounds were soon in pursuit and several hundred citizens scoured the whole county but as yet the negro has not yet been caught. The whole town and county are saddened by his death. Mr. Jones was one of the very best police officers of the State. Two hundred dollars reward was quickly offered for the negro's apprehension and he will hardly stay at large long, though he has gone in the direction of South Carolina.

A Dance of Death.

Mrs. Anna Brudowicz, aged 22 years, a bride 24 hours, danced herself to death at her wedding feast here today. Mrs. Brudowicz was married yesterday morning to John Brudowicz, one of the leaders in the Polish settlement of McKeesport. The wedding was a most elaborate one as the participants are fairly well to do, and a large number of wedding guests attended the festivities. The celebration of a Polish wedding usually lasts several days. This was scheduled to occupy the balance of the week here.

It is customary at these celebrations for every male guest to dance with the bride, which honor costs the guests a dollar. In this way several hundred dollars are usually raised to pay for the expenses of the wedding and enable the newly married pair to start housekeeping. The dance is a wild, delicious whirl about the ball in which the festivities are held, and the bride is passed from one man to another as rapidly as the round of the room is effected. Mrs. Brudowicz had finished the sixtieth round of the room with many different guests, when the company was called to supper. The bride complained of feeling sick, and almost immediately dropped over in a faint and died before medical assistance could reach her.

Physicians stated that death was due to heart prostration caused by over exertion. The young husband was almost crazed over the bereavement and is being closely watched to prevent him from committing suicide.

The picnic for the Barium Spring Orphanage held here last Thursday was a success. The gross receipts amounting to about $375. There was a large number of people in attendance estimated at between two and three thousand. The day was fine and the music good, the dinner excellent. Hon. W. D. Turner, introduced by Mr. Z. V. Saturday a white man, afterwards identified as Newton Lanier, of Fort Mill, S. C., was found on the Yorkville road three miles from Charlotte in an unconscious condition. He was suffering from an overdose of morphine. He was taken to the hospital and soon died. He only had 5 cents when found. It is thought Lyle drugged and robbed him. Lyle has disappeared.
