

The Statesville Mascot.

WE GUARANTEE TWICE AS LARGE A CIRCULATION IN IREDELL AND ALEXANDER COUNTIES AS THAT OF ANY OTHER PAPER PUBLISHED.

VOL. VIII.

STATESVILLE, N. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 29, 1901.

NO. 88.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In the death of Hon. James T. LeGrande, of Richmond county, the State has lost one of her truest, bravest and best. He was one of the strongest lawyers of his section. Twice he represented his district in the State Senate, and was several times a candidate for the Democratic Congressional nomination in the sixth district. Although unsuccessful, he would have adorned a seat in Congress. All his political life he was a leader of the Pea Dee Democrats, than whom none truer or braver live. A chivalric, knightly soul went to Heaven when LeGrande was gathered to his fathers.

It is said that Marion Butler has sent out a circular letter to his Populist henchmen urging them to preserve their organization intact and not to affiliate with or identify themselves with either of the old parties. He does this for trading purposes, as it is well known that Butler is really a Republican. However, with the negro eliminated as a voter, the few thousand Populists will cut but little ice in the politics of the State. By preserving their separate organization they may scare Pritchard and the other Republican leaders out of a few Federal offices, and this is doubtless Butler's object.

H. Cleo Cowan, House journal clerk of the last two Legislatures, died at his home in Webster, Jackson county, one day last week of typhoid fever, aged 30 years. No legislative body ever had a more obliging and competent officer. Every member was his friend. Young as he was, he had already served as superintendent of schools and Superior Court clerk of his county. Last year he received license to practice law, and his friends expected a long life of usefulness at the bar and in public affairs for him. But it was not to be. In his young manhood and with life's honors within reach of his ambitions, he was cut down. In his hour of affliction the bereaved father and mother have the comfort of the memory of their son's well spent life.

The name of ex-Governor Wm. J. Stone, of Missouri, has been mentioned as a probable candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in 1904, but it is announced that he will not be a candidate for that office. Governor Stone is one of the ablest and truest of living Democrats, and he would make a great President, but it is too early to be talking candidates yet. Probably less than one per cent. of the Democrats have ever heard the name of the man who will be nominated to lead them in the next great contest. Events between now and the meeting of the convention will doubtless point out the logical candidate and shape the wisest platform. In the meantime Democrats will do well to carry their State and local elections, preserve a solid organization and be ready to win the fight when the fighting time comes. To do this we must strengthen the faith of Democrats in the party and not seek to tear it down by criticism of everything done by the party and threats of independence unless the party does exactly to our own notion.

The Special Tax Cases in Wilkes.
Wilkesboro Chronicle.
Every merchant, lawyer and doctor in the county were indicted at court, but only one case was tried, that against Dr. J. H. Ellis, who was acquitted. The other cases were continued. There was talk of having an agreed case sent to the Supreme Court, but this was not done. Solicitor Mott, however, has stated that he intended carrying his own case (he indicted himself for not paying lawyer's license) to the Supreme Court to have the matter tested. This however would hardly be a proper case, for the Solicitor could hardly appear on both sides of an action—represent the State, and then appear for himself against the State.

Death of Mrs. Brown at Mooresville.
Mooresville Enterprise.
After an illness of several weeks with a complication of diseases, Mrs. Ollie Euphemia Brown passed to her eternal rest on Thursday morning at 2:30 o'clock at the age of 28 years and 10 months, leaving a husband and one small child. Mrs. Brown suffered a first attack about four weeks ago, and two weeks later she was stricken with the attack that resulted in her death.
Rev. W. P. McGehee, of the Methodist church, conducted the funeral yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the remains were interred at town cemetery.
Mrs. Brown was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Kennerly, of the Prospect neighborhood.

A Landslide in Wilkes.
Wilkesboro Chronicle.
Deputy Collector Sherman Bryant tells us that as a result of the heavy rains last week a portion of the hill around the band bank near Aug. White's on the Trap Hill road slid down and filled up the public road. Yesterday afternoon the hill and the road were carried down the hill and lodged in the road, still standing erect as where they grew.

NEGRO LYNCHED IN ANSON.

Brute Outrages and Probably Kills a Young White Woman if Front-negatives and is Quickly Made to Pay the Penalty.
Wadesboro Special to Raleigh News and Observer.

Luke Hough, a negro, was lynched at McFarland this country, this afternoon and thus paid the penalty for the commission of a crime without a parallel in the history of this section.
Miss Lena Keith, who resides with her brother near the South Carolina line, was perhaps mortally assaulted and outraged by Hough today about 1 o'clock. She is now scarcely alive and it is thought that she cannot survive.

Miss Keith was asleep in her home by herself when her room was invaded by the negro. She awoke and found herself in his grasp.
The negro seized a chair and pounded her on the head, and then accomplished his nameless purpose. After having done this he cut her throat, chest, face and head and left her apparently dead.

She survived an hour or more afterwards and made an effort to reach the house of a neighbor. She gained the door and fell upon the door unconscious, and remained in this condition for some hours.

The cause of her condition was immediately conjectured. The alarm was given and a posse of neighbors was sent to her home. She was found lying on the floor and her body was being carried to the house of a neighbor.

A message was sent to Florence for blood hounds and they were soon brought on a special train.

Before their arrival a dog was obtained from Dr. Meisenheimer and placed upon the negro's trail. He was traced to a house half mile distant.

The negro upon seeing his pursuers approached closed the doors and windows and refused to be arrested, but the doors were battered down and he was taken.

Blood was found on his clothing and some of the hair of the young lady was found on his person.

He was carried to Miss Keith, who at this time had regained consciousness. She recognized him and gave a brief description of the assault.

The negro then made a confession and gave the details of his dastardly deed.

By this time perhaps three hundred citizens from this county and from South Carolina were on the scene, and a large number of negroes were also present. The brute was carried to a limb a short distance from the place of his crime, lynched and his body perforated with bullets. The negroes present endorsed all that was done.

The negro was about twenty years of age and bore the reputation of being extremely insolent.

The young lady is twenty-two years of age and possessed of a beautiful character. The wounds on her neck and head are thought to be fatal.

Another Negro Murdered at Asheville.
Asheville Dispatch, 29d.

What was believed last night to have been an accidental death by shooting is known today to have been a premeditated and cold blooded murder.

About midnight a telephone message was received at police headquarters to the effect that a young negro man had shot himself in the Kenilworth Inn section of the city.

On getting to the message and finding Eugene Davis cold in death, with two pistol wounds near his heart. Standing near the body were Walter Champion, Joseph Freeman and Charles Hudson, the latter a white man who has family.

The three united in saying that Davis had asked for the pistol, and in firing it had accidentally shot himself. The officers generally believed the story, but held the three persons as witnesses. An inquest was held at the scene, and it was claimed that Champion's wife had written a letter to Davis, which angered Champion, and his friend Hudson.

Early in the evening they came over to town to look for Davis but he could not be found and the men had gone to his home near Kenilworth Inn. Having reached the house, they called Davis out and told the unsuspecting man that they wanted him to go to a lynching with them.

That John in that way was lynched later that night. Davis walked a short distance with the men when Champion drew a 46 calibre army revolver, and placing it against the neck of Davis, fired twice. Champion then stood over his victim and after watching the life blood spurt from the great wounds for a moment, exclaimed: "Well, boys, has he got enough? If you say so, I will light him up a few more times. He was told to desist, and after making sure that the form was lifeless, the pistol and scabbard were placed about the body in a way to give the impression that death was self-inflicted. This done the three went to a nearby house and telephoned for officers.

Mrs. S. H. Allport, Johnson, Pa., says: "Our little girl almost strangled to death with croup. The doctors said she couldn't live but she was instantly relieved by One Minute Cough Cure.—Stimson & Anderson."

Girl's Smoke Cigarettes at Atlantic City.
Atlantic City, N. J., Dispatch, 29d.

The custom of smoking cigarettes is rapidly spreading among young men and women. It is now a daily sight to see scores of young men quietly puffing away in semi-secluded spots not far from the main thoroughfares.

The practice is indulged in by young ladies who in the evening can be seen promenading the corridors of the select hotels, and their indifference to passers-by would indicate that the girls are not at all perturbed.

Time was when such conduct would lead to ostracism. Its prevalence on the beach today is indicative of a relaxation in the laws governing women's privileges. While many another young lady looks on apparently oblivious of the questionable accomplishment.

In cases of cough or croup give the little One Minute Cough Cure. Then rest easy and have no fear. The child will be all right in a little while. It never fails. Pleasant to take, always safe, sure and simple, in all cases. In effect.—Stimson & Anderson.

Mortality Statistics.

The Census Bureau today made public the mortality statistics for the year 1900. W. A. King, chief of the vital statistics division, says: "The most important feature of the results presented is found in the decrease in the general death rate in the registration area of 1.8 per 1,000 of the population, a decrease of nearly 10 per cent, and the decrease of 191 deaths from the particular diseases to which the general decrease is due."

The effect of the advance made in medical science and sanitation and in the preventive and restrictive measures enforced by the health authorities is still more strikingly shown in the comparative rate for the registration cities of the country taken together. In 1890 the death rate in 271 registration cities of 3,000 of more population was 21 per 1,000; in 1890 the rate was 18.6 per 1,000 in 341 cities of 8,000 population and upward, a reduction of 2.4 per 1,000. The decrease in the general rate and in the rates due to diseases most frequent in the early years of life are 2.2 per cent. The increase in the rates due to those diseases occurring generally at advanced ages, on the other hand, mean age increased longevity. The average age at death in 1890 was 30.1 years; in 1900 it was 32 years. The total number of deaths reported in 1900 was 1,069,934; in 1890 it was 1,411,519.

The total deaths in the Southern States for 1900 are as follows: Alabama, 29,629; Georgia, 42,929; Louisiana, 20,955; Maryland, 20,422; Mississippi, 20,251; Missouri, 38,084; North Carolina, 21,068; South Carolina, 17,106; Tennessee, 30,572; Texas, 34,101; Virginia, 28,000.

Portland, Ore., with a death rate of 9.5 per thousand, shows the lowest mortality and Shreveport, La., with 44.5 the highest.

Over 100 Persons Burned.
Philadelphia Dispatch, 29d.

By the collapse of a burning oil tank today at the Atlantic Refining Company's plant at Pine Breeze, where a fire has been raging since Monday afternoon, about 100 persons, including employees of the company and spectators, were more or less severely burned. Most of the cases were treated on the ground by ambulance surgeons, but a few of them were considered sufficiently serious to necessitate the removal of the victims to the hospital.

It was shortly after two o'clock today when the tank fell, the heavy iron sheathing separating at the seams, precipitating great quantities of blazing petroleum into Passaic avenue. There was a wild stampede among the people in the vicinity, but many of them were badly burned by the fiery spray which fell among them. Dykes were hastily thrown up by the firemen and employees of the company, and the blazing fluid was confined to a narrow strip on Passaic avenue. At one time it was thought the flames would communicate with the purifying house of the United Gas Improvement Company, which is separated from the oil works by a narrow canal. The fire, however, was extinguished by the firemen, and the oil overflowed the dykes to the lot and only the most determined efforts saved the gas company's property. Trenches were dug and eight lines of hose were kept constantly playing on the purifying house.

Fatal Fight in Wake and Franklin Counties.
Raleigh News and Observer, 29d.

News was received here yesterday of two ugly fights that occurred last week in the Wake and Franklin sections, near the Wake-Franklin line.

While working the old Tarboro road, between Mitchell's mill and Antioch church in this county, a young white man named Wilkinson, and a young negro named George Forbes, got into an altercation. During the quarrel the negro struck Mr. Wilkinson from behind with a hoe, inflicting a terrible wound, which will very likely prove fatal.

The negro fled and is still at large. It is said that Mr. Wilkinson's skull is fractured, and the doctors say nothing short of a miracle can save his life. Much regret is expressed at the occurrence, as Wilkinson was a young man well thought of in his community.

On the same day, just over the line in Franklin county, a dispute arose between two cousins named Richards and resulted in a fight in which one of them was so badly cut that he is thought he will die. They are both young men, and were, like Wilkinson and Dunn, working the road when the trouble arose.

It was reported here yesterday that the doctor had given Richards up and that his death was merely a question of a very short time.

Brute Reconciles Husband and Another Man.
Rockaway Beach, L. I., Dispatch, 29d.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

A Fool Murderer.
Roanoke, Va., Dispatch, 29d.

Roscoe Collins shot and killed a young woman named Genevieve Ball, about two miles north of Coeburn, West Virginia, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Brute Reconciles Husband and Another Man.
Rockaway Beach, L. I., Dispatch, 29d.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

Contractor Charles T. Seddon, of New York, and a man named Weir, who got into a quarrel while in bathing here Sunday afternoon, were both rescued by Mrs. Seddon, who is a bride of three weeks. When the men were some distance out the heavy undertow caught them and they attempted to swim ashore. They were too tired to make any headway and were rapidly becoming exhausted when Mrs. Seddon, who is an expert swimmer, went to their aid and succeeded in assisting both men to the shore.

An Attempted Assault Near Charlotte.

Charlotte Special to Raleigh News and Observer, 29d.

Another assault was attempted this morning near the city limits. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and both screamed at the appearance of the brute. The negro demanded of Mrs. Fields that she give him a store to a store in Seversville, a suburb of Charlotte, for supplies. Returning home the mother and child passed through a thickly wooded tract. Just as they approached the outer edge of the woods a tall negro rushed at her and grabbed Mrs. Fields by the throat and arm.

At the time the mother had her child in her arms and