OUR LETTER BOX.
[We are glad to see our letter box so full this week, even if some of the letters were written last year. While we don't undertake to indorse all our correspondents may write, we give all a hearing. We hope the people of the county will feel that the JOURNAL is their paper, and write to it often.]

Taxes. Taxes. Taxes.
Mr. Editor: We hear a great deal of complaint about taxes being so high; and after looking over the financial statement in the JOURNAL, we are not sure but the complaint is well founded. We were surprised at the number of "stay at home paupers." We have a poor house and the county poor ought to be sent there. These paupers, as a general thing, are not often benefited by the claims allowed; and if we have to pay the expenses of keeping a poor house, let's make use of it. Another thing that surprises us is the nature of some of these pauper claims. We wonder if the commissioners are aware that they are paying a pauper claim for a person that makes a good field hand, and does not even live with the one who gets the pay? Another thing that surprises us is the large amounts expended for repairs of our old tumble down county buildings. We notice that there was expended for repairs at the poor house last ending November 30, $133.90 and at the Court House something over $30. We expect that if this repairing had been done for any individual member of the board of commissioners it would have been done at a much less cost.
Another fraud is the stock-law fence business. And we think the commissioners should be more careful about this matter. No doubt they are imposed upon. Some one will make a dozen rails and nail up an old gait and the commissioners are made believe he has done a "big job," and pay him five or ten dollars of our "hard got" tax money. Last year there was levied as stock-law tax $511.76, which would pay for making and putting up 51,176 rails at $1 per hundred. These are small things, but little by little the rats eat the cable. Let's lop off every little expense we can and see if our county can't be got in a better condition.
I see in the JOURNAL that our next court is in 1890, a little over 100 years. Is this the millennium so much talked about? C. E. J. Glade Creek, Dec. 24, '89.

Prohibition v. s. the Times.
Mr. Editor: Please give "Prohibition" space in your paper for a few thoughts in respect to some violations of law in our county. I have thought that no statute is oftener violated than the law forbidding the sale of liquor to minors; and yet there are no prosecutions. After looking over the jury list for our next Court, I begin to think I see a part of the cause, as some of the jurymen are not qualified under the law. As I understand the law, a man must be of good moral character before he is entitled to be a juror; and before a man can be a moral man he must stop getting drunk and selling spirits to minors. If I understand morals it means obedience to moral law. So long as our Commissioners put drunkards and wilful violators of law in the jury box we cannot expect the law to be enforced. Men who don't obey the law will not enforce it. The great moral future of our county depends in a great measure on the juries of the county.
PROHIBITION.
York Institute.

Mr. Editor: I will write a few items from this place. If the history of York Institute was written it would be of great interest to some for many remarkable things have occurred here and in the adjoining settlement. This place took its name from the venerable Dr. B. York,—and which is still his home. It would be useless for me to attempt to comment on this great and good man, for his fame is known far and wide. He spent the summer with his son Rev. D. V. York, of Tennessee. The Dr. returned to his old home some days ago and expects to remain here some time, and will preach at Rocky Spring every Sabbath that our pastor does not preach. He will commemorate his 88th birthday Friday, January 3, by preaching at Rocky Spring at 11 o'clock. His subject will be "The Journey of Life."
Rev. B. A. York, of the Rowan circuit, Dr. Durant York, and Mr. W. B. York, of Alamance county are on a short visit to relatives and friends.
York Institute at present is not growing in population and wealth like some towns, although there is some improvement being made. Ex-Sheriff Mays is building a new dwelling. The place is not complete yet. We are expecting a boom.
M. M., Dec. 30, '89.

Millers Ahead.
Mr. Editor: I will try and give you an outline of some few things that have occurred in this neighborhood. Millers township in the last election gave something like double the majority that it had been doing before, and if it keeps on like it is in this part of the township, in a few years it will be altogether a Democratic township. In three miles on the creek there has been nine children born in six months after the election, and all nine are boys and all Democrats but one, and that one is a colored Rep. So we are going around.
We have a man in this neighborhood that has but one thumb; but he has two Democratic boys that have seven thumbs. I would like to know where this can be beat. The same man killed a hog this year that had five toes, with nice hoofs on each to. So, now, Landmark, tell your Chatham county friend to beat this if he can.
A strange thing to see bees gathering honey dew between Christmas and New Years; and that your humble writer witnessed. And who ever knew of the ground being too hard to plow at Christmas? We have often seen it too hard by being frozen, but not by dry weather.
Christmas has passed over much quieter than what I expected on account of so much brandy being made this fall. This neighborhood is in good health at this time.

Southward, Ho!
Mr. Editor: Bidding your smiling little town adieu for a while on Saturday morning, December 28, I set out for this place. Your correspondent, though he lives to be old and travels much, never expects to meet a kinder, more social people than those of Taylorsville.
I reached Charlotte in time for a stroll over the city before dinner, and amid all the hurry and bustle of this live place I saw and heard much to make my very short stay enjoyable. My appetite for things curious and wonderful being about satisfied, I turned my half-weary steps into the Buford House. But no sooner had I placed my foot upon the threshold than my curiosity was aroused again; and in a few moments your clever townsman, Mr. M. G. Campbell, had led me up several flights of stairs and was—showing me the magnificence of the new dining room? No: I needed no showing; I saw it myself.

In the afternoon I visited the cemetery. It is one of the prettiest scenes that ever my eyes beheld. All its sections are so beautifully designed and the long white sand walk-ways have been laid off with such artistic taste. On entering this vast enclosure the eye is first arrested, and the lone wanderer himself constrained to pause and gaze and reflect, by the tall white monuments raising their wonderful heads towards the sky as if in solemn prayer, then, strange to say, seeming to bow them in the most woeful awe. The evergreens and flowers, planted in various figures representing circles, squares, diamonds and hearts, display the greatest care and skill. Near the center of the cemetery is a beautiful monument "erected by the ladies of Charlotte to the memory of Mecklenburg's Confederate dead, and other soldiers who sleep here." Ah, little did those ladies think while thus paying a tribute to the poor soldiers' lives that they were rearing a monument to their own patriotism that cannot perish so long as the true Southerner lives.

Now we fly down the Carolina Central until we reach Monroe. Here is as pretty a town as you can find anywhere. And right in the middle of it is one of the most substantial brick buildings in the State. It is the handsomest building I ever saw for a court house, and is a credit to the county.
More anon. L. J. C.

"The Davis Memorial Volume."
Dr. J. William Jones closed yesterday a contract with B. F. Johnson & Co., of this city for this publication at an early day of the "Davis Memorial Volume," which will be published with the full approval of Mrs. Davis (who will receive a royalty on every copy sold), and in which will be gathered choice selection from editorials, resolutions, speeches, &c., which have made our Southland's tribute to our dead Chief. The book will also contain a brief outline of his life and character, together with reminiscences, anecdotes, letters, some of his best speeches, &c., &c. It will be beautifully illustrated and gotten up in fine style, making a souvenir which all lovers of the name and fame of the great Confederate will be glad to have.—Richmond Dispatch, Dec. 22, 1889.

Merit Wins.
We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. For sale by Dr. R. B. Killian, druggist.
"It goes right to the spot," said an old man, who was rubbing in Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment to relieve rheumatism.
CHILDREN who are wormy may be quickly relieved by giving them Dr. J. H. McLean's Liquid Vermifuge. It kills and expels worms.
If you are suffering with weak or inflamed eyes, or granulated eyelids, you can be cured by using Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eye Salve.
If you are all run down, have no energy, no strength, and feel very tired all of the time, take Dr. J. H. McLean's Sarsaparilla. It will impart strength and vitality to your system.
THE blood must be pure for the body to be in perfect condition. Dr. J. H. McLean's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood and imparts the rich bloom of health and vigor to the whole body.
THE circulation of the blood, quickened and enriched, bears life and energy to every part of the body; appetite returns; the hour of rest brings with it sound repose. This can be secured by taking Dr. J. H. McLean's Sarsaparilla.
THE quality of the blood depends upon good or bad digestion and assimilation. To make the blood rich in life and strength giving constituents use Dr. J. H. McLean's Sarsaparilla. It will nourish the properties of the blood from which the elements of vitality are drawn.

State News Notes.
Goldsboro made an excellent record during 1889. There was not a business failure in that city during the year.
Joseph Furgeson fell into a well in Randolph county and was drowned. He was drunk and on the top which covered the well, adjusting the rope, when he fell in.
The police of Salisbury are in search of James Henderson, who is wanted for the murder of another negro named Douglas Holt. They quarreled about some whiskey at a festival, and Henderson deliberately shot Holt.
Charles Allfree was killed in a most horrible manner in Alleghany county. He was riding along a road through the woods on horseback when a large tree fell upon him, killing both horse and rider. Allfree's head was crushed terribly.
There is a sensation in Watauga county growing out of the mysterious disappearance of Miss Rosie McLean, the pretty daughter of a well-to-do farmer. She has not been seen or heard of since Christmas day, and her disappearance cannot be accounted for.
News has been received of the death at Kings Mountain of Rev. Joseph Wheeler, who for over thirty years had been an itinerant Methodist minister. For the past two years he had been at Fayetteville, but in consequence of declining health was superannated by the last session of the Conference.

The executive committee of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly has decided to hold the next session of the assembly at Moorehead City, beginning June 17 and ending July 1. It is proposed to have a special feature in the shape of work by four eminent instructors, these being Thomas Balliett, Alexander E. Frye, J. G. Hall, and Miss Spear, all of Massachusetts.
Two small children of Jerry Simmon, of Caldwell county, were fatally burned. Their parents had left them at home alone, and while playing about the fire the clothing of one caught, and soon the little girl was enveloped in flames. Her 5-year old brother, with true heroism, rushed up to his sister and in trying to rescue her from her perilous condition his own clothing was fired, and both were burned so badly that they died.
