ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Mississippi is without a national bank.

James river is lower than it has been Hiding from Papa. Papa's lost his baby ! Searches everywhere, Under chairs and tables, With the greatest care Pulls aside the curtain, Peeps behind the door! Never sees the little heap Carled up on the floor; Never hears the whisper, 'Mamma, don't you tell! Nor the little laughter, Muffled like a bell.

Off he scampers wildly, Hunting here and there, Overturning everything, With the greatest care. Canary has a visit, Sitting on his perch Mamma's apron pocket Suffers by the search.

'Now I am so tired-Elephant at play-That I must take a rest A minute by the way. I'll lay my weary head On this little rug.' Under msmma's towel Lay her darling, snug!

Then the merry scrambling Papa laughed to see! 'And you didn't fink, now, That it could be me!'

A Summer Morning's Song,

Up, sleeper! dreamer, up! for now There's gold upon the mountain's brow; There's light on forests, lakes, and meadows, The dew-drops shine on flow'ret bells; The village clock of morning tells. Up, men! out cattle! for the dells And dingles teem with shadows.

The very beast that crops the flower Hath welcome for the dawning hour. Aurora smiles—her beckonings claim thee. Listen-look round! The chirp, the hum, Bong, low, and bleat-there's nothing dumb; All love, all life! Come, slumberers, come The meanest thing shall shame thee.

THE PEACH PARTY.

Mrs. Mallandaine stands in the veranof the insignificance of outward things, in sight. and the transitoriness of all merely higher standpoint than others.

Standing to welcome her guests, she 'There she is,' I answer, catching the swiftly to the lower end, where a road looks, this summer day, a very comely gentlewoman, in her soft, pearly cashmere shawl and lace cap; and Molly, looking as her mother must have looked wave of her white gown against the vivid scarlet blossoms of the rata which grows at the bend of the drive.

Wave of her white gown against the vivid scarlet blossoms of the rata which grows with his head bent down, and till he reached the turn he did not see us; then, reached the turn he did not see us; then, dainty cakes, and a jest and a smile for let us- Who on earth is that?'

roar from an aggrieved baby, become the Babel of talk. Jack is a little in his hands. Molly stepped up to him adds to its commercial value.

ly dressed, would guess at the drudgery exclamation of extreme surprise. Mallandaine knows the secrets of that household, as of many others, and her eyes notice how thin the little woman massed beneath her smart bonnet; her listen to your clear tones, passing such pick for you to-day, while you come and is to follow Meredyth, on whom her which made my heart ache, as she took have a quiet chat with me in the cool eyes are fixed with an expression of ma- my arm and we turned toward home. drawing-room. I want to consult you licious hatred. Little Mrs. Aubrev looks 'It was God's mercy that made me about the girls' autumn dresses, and to and then flashes a glance of intelligence think of the Gum-tree Walk,' she said, show you some beautiful serge I have at me. just had sent me from home. There is far more than we shall use, and I lessly, 'who has strayed off the road.—

She must not be allowed to startle Molly.

Now he has promised, and I know he thought we might cut out some little. She must not be allowed to startle Molly. frocks for your twins if you like the Hugh, you and I will go and turn her I did not ask her what he had promcolor. Come and look at it, my dear, out quietly.

peaches; that's a good boy!'

Molly and I pass through the gate with Mrs. Aubrey's great basket swing
'My God! have pity,' he mutters in ing between us, and look round for a tree—where shall we begin?

'This will do, I think," says Molly, coming to a stand-still under a giant whose spreading branches are weighted with downy fruit; 'but while you begin

I must go round and see if every one is to look down on the scene.

At last Molly flits back to my tree.—
'Hugh I only three peaches! What have black eyes from one face to another of the group.

'Dreaming, Molly; you can't think what a quaint picture the orchard makes from this branch. But I'll pick in 'Come, darling,' she says brightly, 'we here for a day or two and then Tom thing—something which is a cruel let any man say differently if he can; I weight on me day and night, and yet 1 nave tried to redeem the one fatal error never thought much about it until lately. Sometimes I think I must tell you, and Sometimes I think I must tell you. then, at other times, I think I would cursed face again. Who believes that pending on the expulsion of the air die first. It is then I stay away from a man is bound, by one rash word, to from the water during crystallization, it come back with the same insane longing to speak.' 'Molly,' cries Jack, running back, and she can't find Sib anywhere,' voice that will tremble a little; and Mere- for a long minute no one stirred. dyth's chance is gone for the present.

drawing-room windows.

in her girlhood, flashes hither and Aubrey, as Molly, Geof Meredyth and thither with cups of coffee and piles of Jack appear more fully in view. 'Now whole aspect changed. I suppose the experiments not confined to scientists,

The rustle of freshly-starched skirts, of Mrs. Aubrey's voice, make all within | misery in the tender sorrow of Molly's | transparent, bulk for bulk and weight the waving of ribbons and feathers, the babble of voices, varied by an occasional rection, and there is a momentary lull in turned aside and covered his face with color does not detract from, but rather seems to be a remarkable thing that in confusing; and I am glad when the word is given for the serious business of the day to commence, and the company move off in the direction of the orchard.

'Now, Mr. Campion, I expect you to look after my baby for me,' said little many of Mrs. Aubrey, fastening on my arm, with a merry smile in her dark eyes which no poverty has been able to quench. Who, to look at her, slim, graceful, becoming.

the Babel of talk, Jack is a little in advance of his sister, and is deeply interested, apparently, in cutting a whister with his pocket-knife; but a few paces behind Meredyth is a woman whom none of us have observed before. Her appearance is so strikingly unlike that of any of Mrs. Mallandaine's guests, and her evident concentration of interest and intention on the pair before her is so strange as to account for Mrs. Aubrey's may never see you again. Geoffrey, but the lovely, tender to look at her, slim, graceful, becoming. to look at her, slim, graceful, becoming- strange as to account for Mrs. Aubrey's may never see you again, Geoffrey, but the six little ones at home? But Mrs. shouldered; her face is coarsely hand- that one woman loves and prays for has become, and how the lines are deep- skin, originally, perhaps, a clear red and a cruel sentence on your youth; I left ening round eye and mouth.

'I've got a snug corner for baby on the sofa, she says, taking the little bundle into her kind arms. 'Hugh shall die into her kind arms.'

'Hugh, says Molly, coming up, 'are veranda as she speaks, but we are too only listen with fresh pain to Molly's you going to pick for Mrs. Aubrey? So late, for as we step on to the gravel of quivering voice. will I; I like picking for her, for I know how the little ones enjoy the jam and jelly she makes so well. Jack, run and help Miss Crawley with that heavy tub, and mind, you find her the finest section in the second how?' her; it freezes into a ghastly look of hor-

'My God! have pity,' he mutters in a curious, half-choked voice, as he retreats a few steps, his face growing gray

I begin as ordered, but soon leave off ness is with the gentleman, and I needn't Thave been looking out for you, dear keep him five minutes-not five min- Molly, cries little Mrs. Aubrey, com-

Bo Molly is obliged to look up and to be the late comer. Ah, if she would into a coarse laugh. 'Nothing to do at said.'

from my perch among the leaves and I seem to have known this for ages, and eyes and voice. She managed bravely, recognize, once more, how Molly has the sentence seems to repeat itself again too, till the last buggy had driven off in given her heart, without reserve, to this and again in the dead silence which fol-

'Hugh must have gone in, I suppose; I can't see him anywhere. Isn't he a dear, good fellow, Mr. Meredyth?'

'Molly,' says Meredyth, in a voice which he is evidently struggling to keep calm and unexcited, 'I wonder if you would understand if I told you somewould provide the form of saltpeter. It has simply like mist, cleared up. On the night because the provided that you want to told you somewould understand if I told you somewould y Bearcroft for so long; and yet I always such a woman as that? Before Heaven follows: First, that when the weather is I repudiate her!' He flung up his arms, intensely cold and the atmosphere famother has sent me to look for you. It | ing his back on us, walked rapidly | streams, containing more than the averis time to see about supper, she says, toward the bush. He had spoken with age amount of air, is apt to be whiter

'Clearly he was on the point of pro- at my hand. 'Hugh! come with me, pelled in the act of freezing. This air is da receiving her guests. She is a tall, posing,' I say, crossly, to myself, as I quick, to the Gum-tree Walk—oh, the same that we breathe and that all grave-eyed woman, tempered but not yawn and stretch my arms, 'and I'm Hugh, help me!' There was no withsoured by her twenty years of colonial very thankful Jack interrupted, for I've standing her entreating eyes; the Gumlife; self-possessed and ready-witted she no wish to hear him go through his tree Walk was a short-cut to the point of purity than otherwise, the only reis, but never sharp or quick in speech declaration. Rather an odd way of be-or judgment. She is supremely indiffer- ginning, though, I decide, and then I should overtake him before he turned as valuable as the transparent product ent to all the luxuries she has learned to do without, although now she has them through the shrubbery arrive at the in plenty; with an ever deepening sense veranda five minutes before they appear of such a step on my cousin's part; but in saying that it is preferable, at least in sight.

I was nineteen, and awfully sorry, I for some purposes. Tyndall tells us that 'Where is Molly?' screams Sibyl, must confess, for Geoffrey Meredyth; so he found among the glaciers of the Alps earthly conditions, which makes her who is the first to catch sight of me as I I clasped Molly's cold fingers in mine, ridges of this white ice, and that they seem to be constantly looking above mingle with the crowd of 'pickers' and while every one gathered round the invariably stood three or four feet above every question, and deciding it from a grouped round the veranda and the open loudly-discoursing stranger, we slipped into the shade of the gum-trees and ran | difference in their height, as compared

when he looked up and saw Molly his reaction from seeing himself arraigned and showing that white ice exposed to The exclamation, and the altered tone | before a censuring crowd to reading his | the sun's rays will last longer than that will make no difference; and when of her daily life, or the shifts she has She is a tall, powerful woman, of per-recourse to to find bread and butter for haps five and forty, stout and broad-you must still take heart, remembering softly; 'for-think of it, Hugh-he was

Mrs. Aubrey deposits the baby on the | miserable to be talked about; I could

'He is going to Obristchurch to-night, and then on to Melbourne—he will write to father fully from there. He doesn't know yet where he will go then; but I have asked him once a year-on New-Year's Eve-to write to mc always to say where he is, whether he is well, and -and-content. It was a good thing I came to the Gum-tree Walk, Hugh.'

'What are we to do now?' I ask, presto the very lips.

'What is it?' asks Molly, looking, bewildered, from one to the other.

'No need to trouble you, my pretty young lady,' says the stranger, in a high-pitched, unrefined voice; 'my business is with the contlement of the contle dyth looks out of spirits and care—worn, I fancy; he pauses at the gate to take a prolonged survey, hesitates, and has almost made up his mind to go over to old Miss Crawley, when Jack spies him, and shouts out: 'Molly, here's Mr.

Teredyth at last! Molly—'

But Molly has caught a vague alarm from Meredyth's set face, and does not listen. 'What does this woman want?' she says, going close to his side and looking wistfully up in his face. 'Send her away, Geoffrey; she can have nothing to do with you.'

The words reach the ear they were Molly, unseen, and you and I will come by look at me with that shy gladness all with him, my dear. Nothing at all, except that I am his wife—that's all.'

Somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep the spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep the spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep the spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep the spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken, she had all that weary evening to keep the spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken that I look down somehow, when the words are spoken that I look down somehow that I look down somehow the look down somehow that I look down somehow the look down somehow that I look down somehow the look down somehow that I look down somehow the look as he said these words, with an inde- vorable to abundant nocturnal radiation, scribable gesture of despair, and turn- the ice formed on still water or sluggish such concentration of passion that we than usual; and second, that the ice thus 'Coming, Jack,' answers Molly, in a were all breathless and spell-bound, and formed is not the less pure because it is white, as its color is due to the presence the man caught him. The boy strug-Then Molly turned to me and caught of atmospheric air, which was not ex- gled, gasped, and awoke. He did not the general level of the blue ice. The with the latter, he ascribed to their greater power of resistance to the sun's rays, which are the only melting influ-Meredyth was coming quickly along, rays, which are the only melting influ-with his head bent down, and till he ence to which they are subject in those regions of eternal frost. In this inference he is supported by many practical manatee in its native waters. The weight tween. After a while the wheat tillers of this huge sea monster is about 3,000 pounds, and his breadth across the shoulders is three feet. A male, and the largest one ever captured, the Stypman brothers-who are the happy proprietors of the find-had no easy task before them to bring their captive home after they had secured him. They finally hit upon the expedient of binding him securely between two heavy oaken planks, in which situation they managed to prevent him from upsetting the boat. He was afterward transferred al aquarium at Westminster for exhibition, and then to France. It is valued at $10,000.

Showing Him How. It was on the lower deck of one of the harbor steamers: 'There, sit there,' said the father, placing his little boy on a smooth cylinder running across the gangway; 'sit there a moment till I get you some water.' No sooner had he turned than down went the little one to the State treasurer of New Jersey, dethe deck. Picking him up: 'Seems to faulted for $70,000. He was arrested, At last Molly fits back to my tree.—
'Hugh I only three peaches! What have you been doing up there all this time?'

'Dreaming, Molly; you can't timk that a quaint picture the orchard makes from this branch. But I'll pick in earnest, now you are here to wake mup. Hullos! here's Meredyth!'

Molly will not look up, but I catch the sudden flush which tinges even her round white throat at his name, Meredyth tooks out of spirits and eare-worn.

At last Molly fits back to my tree.—
'Hugh I only three peaches! What have you been doing up there all this time?'

The sum of the turns, and the part of the promised purchaser in the sudden flush which tinges even her round white throat at his name, Meredyth tooks out of spirits and care-worn.

At last Molly fits back to my tree.—
'Hugh I only three peaches! What have you been doing up there all this time?'

The sum of the turns, and tore, now; just keep quiet and prison, and recently, having served out off. There, now; just keep quiet and black eyes from one face to another of the turns, and drop number two takes place. Gestling a little impatient: 'Well, you're clumsy in paid by his bondsmen, eight in number. Complaints.

The sum of the turns, and drop number two takes place. Gestling a little impatient: 'Well, you're clumsy in paid by his bondsmen, eight in number. There, now; just keep quiet and this, taken in connection with the sum off. There, now; just keep quiet and prison, and recently, having served out off. There, now is in the sum of the turns, and drop number two takes place. Gestling a little impatient: 'Well, you're clumsy in the $200.

This department of the turns, and drop number two takes place. Gestling a little impatient: 'Well, you're clumsy in the $200.

The sum of us, the turns, and drop number two takes place. Gestling a little impatient: 'Well, you're clumsy in the $200.

The sum of us, the recently having served out is the turns, and drop number two takes place. Gestling a little impatient: 'Well, you're lause and tries to draw her town the state him me you might sit there without falling tried, convicted and sent to the State darkened the little fellow's face. Then pouncing on his boy's hand, the fond parent rushed up into the cabin in double-quick time, but not quick enough, probably, to entirely escape the laughter which on the wind came roaring after.

The people of the United States pay over $700,000,000 a year for spirituous from my perch among the leaves and recognize, once more, how Molly has given her heart, without reserve, to this man. And Meredyth? He loves her, once more, how Molly has given her heart, without reserve, to this man. And Meredyth? He loves her, once more, how Molly has given her heart, without reserve, to this man. And Meredyth? He loves her, once more with some of the seather A Superstition Solved. A strange story comes from St. Fran-opened, and his son, in 'night attire,' stood in the room. The father, influenced by a sudden feeling, did not speak. The boy advanced to the mantel-piece, took down a pencil, went to 'the little table,' took out a card, leaned over, wrote something on it, and then advancing to the door, slipped it under. The father watched breathlessly, and when the boy started to leave the room know, nor could he understand, why he stood there grasped by his father. The wife sprang out of bed. A few words explained all, and when the door was opened, there was the card bearing the words 'yellow fever.' The young man in his early youth had exhibited came first consul, moved into the Tuilesigns of somnambulism, and reading ries and made it his imperial palace. every day the yellow fever reports to He also began the north gallery, which the family no doubt influenced his acwas completed in 1867 by Napoleon the

The Macon Telegraph announces that for the first time in the history of nificent palaces in Europe. Engravings Georgia the local mills find wheat in have made every one familiar with the sufficient abundance to run them without | front of the Tuileries, facing the gardrawing supplies of wheat from the dens. The interior was unrivaled in North. There are undoubtedly parts elaboration, and the palace contained so upon the sandy soils of that State it appears that good wheat crops can be raised by the application of fertilizers, 1848, and burned it finally in 1871. such soils wheat should be grown, as thither from the palace of the Elysee, the Telegraph states, as far south in 1852. In 1871 the petroleurs thor-Georgia as the Florida line. This suc- oughly saturated the building with cost

Wheat Culture in the South.

cess has been achieved by the use of the oil, put explosives in its cellars, and at Lawrenceville, Pa., was lying asleep drill. Nor is it only in Georgia that the fired it in a Lundred places. It was a mischievous boy put a live toad in his cultivation of wheat is extending. In burnt out effectively, and a part also of mouth. The reptile slipped down his Northwestern South Carolina the Ger- the galleries connecting it with the throat, and Caghey awoke suddenly and mans have demonstrated that excellent Louvre. The garden, which was de- ran into the mill like a wild man, causcrops of both wheat and rye can be stroyed at the same time, has been re- ing intense excitement. All efforts to raised by deep drilling and manuring stored, but the populace would never remove the reptile were in vain, and the months ago. From the tip of his nose to the end of his fail, which is similar externally to the tail of a fish, the animal measures twelve feet, being five feet drills being sufficiently wide apart to breathing room of the Parisians. longer than the average of the mature admit of running a narrow cultivator beand covers the whole ground. Three crops of rye for forage are cut there by the Garmans in one season. How the Japanese Do It. The Japanese method of keeping meat fresh in hot weather is just now attracting a good deal of attention in European length of the mountain, but each length of the assistance of any apparatus. The paper is on a light framing of wood, and length of the mountain, but each length of the assistance of any apparatus. The paper is on a light framing of wood, and length of the mountain, but each length of the mountain, but each length of the assistance of any apparatus. The paper is on a light framing of wood, and length of the mountain, but each length of the assistance of any apparatus. circles. It consists in placing the raw has a different modus efficiendi; the has an internal diameter of twenty-nine flesh in porcelain vessels and pouring former acts more forcibly and energetion it boiling water, whereby the albu- cally on the constitution which retains manner, would have weighed five or six men of the surface is quickly coagulated some robustness and internal resources tons, and required powerful machinery to a large tank. The manatee is so rare and forms a protection against the fur- to profit by it; while the second acts to move it. as to be an object of interest to those ther action of the water. Oil is then more gently, with slower efficacy, being Two of the crew of the schooner Beswell-versed in natural history, and there poured on the surface of the water so as thereby more suitable to the weaker sie W. Somes, of Gloucester, Mass., ised; the whole thing seemed to me too are few comparative anatomists, proba- to prevent the access of air and conse- and less excitable organizations. From were recently attacked on the banks, bly, who can describe its anatomical quent putrefaction of the meat. The this important distinction the conscient while out in a dory attending trawls, by structure. Externally a cetacean, it is internally allied to the rodents, and has by securing coagulation of the albumen bis patient much to heart, ought to be of their boat with its teeth, several of the powerful shout of that order, but it and the exclusion of air is no novelty; able to discriminate whether the alpine which were left imbedded in the wood feeds on algo and fungi, and has the and it can hardly be supposed that we or the marine atmosphere is the better when its hold was detached. The fish long intestine of all vegetable eaters, are indebted to the Japanese for its suited to the case he has before him, original adoption. But undoubtedly original adoption. But undoubtedly their method of applying it is far pref-erable to that practiced by ourselves in the process of preserving tinned meats, which appears to consist in boiling them for such a length of time that almost all their flavor is destroyed, and the ultimate result is a mass of tasteless shreds of muscular fiber.

tryman enters to look at the stock a practically valueless horse is offered to him for $150. A bystander offers $200, but

Bondsmen Ruined.

Louisiana, the courts having so decided.

During the past fiscal year this country imported from South American countries $157,016,316 worth of goods, while we exported to them but $58,367,087

Alfred Tennyson, the poet, has just celebrated his seventy-second birthday. Cattle in Taxas are dying by hundreds of thirst,

AN HISTORIC BUILDING.

The Famous Tulleries Palace to be Razed and the Grounds Converted into a Pleasure Park for the Parisians-History of the in forty years. The French chamber of deputies has decreed the demolition of the palace of A cotton factory is soon to be built in Summit, Mississippi. It will be the tenth in the State. the Tuileries, the ancient and modern habitation of the monarchs of that coun-A law has been passed in Sweden giving to married wamen undivided control of their property and earnings.

The expense of President Gambetta's recent fete in Paris is put at $32,000. try, which was destroyed, all except its walls, by the communists in May, 1871. The Tuileries has a strange and not very savory history. It was built—or the present building was begun, rather—by Catharine de Medici, the able and venwhich was defrayed by two patriotic lady admirers, omous wife of Henry II., who so long ruled the destinies of France to evil.— The debt of California in four years has been reduced $356,214, and is now less than $3,500,000, while there is $1,-Strong-minded woman as she was, the crimes hatched and done in the Louvre seemed to make the atmosphere of that palace sickening to her. That old palace was begun, according to Saint-Foix, by Dagobert, who kept his horses and hounds in it. It was made a state prison by Philip Augustus and a palace by Charles V. and Francis I. It was from the consecution of the consecuti one of the windows of the Louvre that Theo. R. Davis, the artist, is design-Charles 1X, son of Catharine, fired upon ing a handsome dinner set for the White the Huguenots. There are legends that Charles V. began the building of the Tuileries (which derives its name from House. The etchings are sent to a famous china-making firm of France to be burned in the dishes. They will reprethe lot upon which it is built, having sent exclusively American scenes. been originally a brick-yard or tile-yard—tuilerie), but it seems certain that the oldest part of the building whose ruins The treasury department has received advices that the Japanese government has removed the export duties from many articles, including silk and cotton goods. This is considered as of considstill remain-the central Pavillon de l'horloge-was erected by Catharine de Medici in 1564. She also added the aderable importance, in view of the present demand in this country for Japanese joining wings and their pavilions, and lived in the new palace until death put an end to her plots and conspiracies. manufactures. Lieutenant Gorringe, of the navy, has been granted leave of absence, at the Henry IV. next occupied the palace, and enlarged it by extending both wings, been granted leave of absence, at the It was a favorite palace of the French request of the state department, for the monarchs thenceforward until Louis purpose of supervising and perfecting pile of the Tuileries and the Louvre,

The Mountains or Seashore?

As it is always a trying question with

Swindling Horse Dealers,

chase and sale of horses. When a coun-the dealer angrily says that he will not says: 'Buy the horse for $150 and I'll take him off your hands at $200.' This ntes netil relief is obtained.

This is the way swindling horse jock-

XIV., piqued at the wars of the Fronde | the necessary arrangements for bringing and the questionable obeisance which to this country the obelisk so generthe volatile Parisians paid to his maxim, ously presented to New York city by 'L' Etat c'est moi,' removed the court the khedive of Egypt. to Versailles. This was in 1672, and Captain Sampson, of the schoone after the Grande Monarche had com- Louisa Montgomery, at Pictou, Nova pleted the gallery, begun by his father, Scotia, reports that about ten miles connecting the palace with the Louvre, eastward of Pictou island he saw an Louis XIV. also got Mansard to improve enormous sea serpent which appeared the dome of the Pavillon de l'horloge to be about one hundred feet long and in his characteristic style, but he would about the size of a barrel. It was going not live in the place, and it was not straight along at the rate of seven knots again occupied by a Frence king until an hour. 1789, when the populace of Paris marched out to Versailles and compelled

Mrs. John Howe, the wife of a prominent business man of Cincinnati, and a Louis XIV, and Marie Autoinette to re- servant fell through the floor of a vault move thither. On the memorable Au- at their summer residence in Covington, gust 10, 1792, this same populace, tired of their puppet king and the hated were suffocated. Mr. Howe hearing the 'Austrian woman,' his wife, stormed the cries, ran out, jumped into the vault to building, massacred the Swiss guard, attempt their rescue, but was overcome, and removed 'Louis Capet' and his wife and only by vigorous measures was he to prison. Napoleon, as soon as he be- restored to consciousness.

A peculiar and fatal accident occurred at Grafton, N. Y. As William Jacobs was mowing in a meadow he suddenly disturbed a nest of hornets. As he turned Third. This addition made a connected to run from their attack his foot was caught in the grass and he fell across with the Place du Carrousel for its quadthe sharp edge of the scythe, receiving rangle, one of the largest and most magsuch a terrible cut in the right leg that he bled to death before medical assistance could be summoned. He leaves a wife and two children. Queensland, the youngest of the Australian group, occupies the northeastern of Central Georgia where wheat can be grown to perfection, for there the soil is the attendants never could tell how tracked from the northeastern quarter of the Australian continent, and a stiff clay-loam and is rich in the ele- many persons were surreptitiously har- stretches from the northern boundary of ments that wheat requires. But even bored there. The old palace has ever New South Wales to the Guif of Carpentaria. It is twelve times the size of England, twice the size of Canada, and half as large again as England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, France and Spain comseems to be a remarkable thing that in the head when Louis Napoleon moved bined. It is rich in gold. The auriferons country now worked is less than

4,000 miles in area, While William Caghey, an iron worker tile would grow to a large size was a horrible one. The last notable application of papier mache was in the manufacture of a revolving dome for the astronomical obinvalids in summer to make up their servatory of the Polytechnic institute. minds whether mountain or sea air would be most beneficial, the following Troy. It only weighs a ton and threeextract from a recent work by a noted quarters, and can be revolved without pursued them, biting several places in the bottom of the dory. The teeth are about an inch to an inch and a half long, edged with saw-like incisions, and do eys operate in Philadelphia: They not resemble the teeth of any fish with have a stable ostensibly for the pur- which the fishermen are acquainted. The Canadian postoffice savings bank system has achived a very decided success. The books show that there are no less than 27,445 accounts now open, amounting in the aggregate to nearly sell to this man at any price, having had a previous quarrel with him. The by-stander draws the countryman aside and three millions of dollars, and on this 'the total cost, including interest, maintenance and management, is only four and one-half per cent.' The average amount of each account is only about which proved so efficacious as to merit attention every season since, and is now known as the 'Sun-Cholera Remedy.' It is said that the fiber is likely to prove It is as follows, and should be cut out useful for cordage, paper, tubs, pails, and kept by the careful housewife: Take equal parts of tincture of Cayenne pepper, tincture of opium, tincture of rhubarb, essence of peppermint and spirits paper mills is intended for the manufacture. of camphor. Mix well. Dose twelve ture of a high grade of paper to be all to thirty drops in a little water, accord- by the Canadian government is it is ing to age and violence of symptoms, ing of bank notes. For paper fiber repeated every fifteen or twenty min- said, the various susp in Florida, will be made

nd