AMBASSADOR BAYARD PRESIDES.

Colebrate Our National Holidays in the British Metropolis Propering to De Honor to Vice President Stevenson.

augural dinner of the American Society in London was held at the Cafe Royal, pre-sided over by the Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, the American ambassador. The banquet was given in the glit dining hall, which was beautifully decorated with festoons of American flags. Over the chairman's table was a mosaic portrait of Washington, surrounded by American flags. A hundred and fifty of the most prominent Americans in England were present, and, in addition, some members of the American colony in Paris, who came to London especially to attend the banquet.

Mr. Bayard had at his right hand Hon. J. B. Eustis, American ambassador to France, and at his left Mr. Andrew Carnegie. The guests included the entire staff of the American embassy. Mr. Bayard toasted the queen in a felicitious speech, and then the president of the United States. Both toasts were received with uproarious cheering. In the course of his speech Mr. Bayard explained the objects of the society, and said he hoped it would always uphold American traditions. Much could come of this nucleus. American citizens could see nothing but good in

Mr. H. B. Chamberlain followed Mr. Bayard, proposing a toast to the society, and giving further details of its aims. He announced that some special greeting would be given to the Hon: Adhi Steven

Mr. Newton Crane responded to the toast "The American Resident in London," Mr. Andrew Carnegie to "The American Binationalist," Consul General Collins to "The American Official in London," and Bev. Dr. Pentecost to "The American Abroad." Some three weeks ago Mr. H. B. Cham berlain, an old newspaper man approached some of the leading Americans here with the object of ascertaining their views on the matter of forming a society. He also consulted Mr. Bayard and Consul General Collins, and found on all sides that the suggestions thrown out by him were but choes of the feeling entertained by all. Having sounded the Americans in London Mr. Chamberlain at once proceeded to work his scheme out in detail, and letters were sent to a number of American citizens, asking them to attend a meeting to draw up and consider plans. Accordingly a meeting of American citizens interested in the formation of an American Society in London, on the lines of the Ohio Society, the New England Society and the Southern Society in New York, was held at the United States consulate general on March 2, and after discussion a committee on organization was appointed by consul general, who was in the chair, and as a result of the work of that committee an organization was affected at a subsequent meeting and a strong general committee appointed.

The general committee is as follows: Ex-officio members: The American ambassador, the American military attache, the American consul general and the American naval attache. The working executive officers are: Benjamin Franklin Stevens, chairman; Humphrey B. Chamberlain, secretary and The rest of the committee are: Walter H. Burns, Francis S. Blake, Frank E.

NEW YORK, April 20.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: In every speculative department business is grow; ing, but this is really the least satisfactory feature of the situation. Coston, oil and wheat climb above the export price, so that the marketing of products abroad must be checked, and money is absorbed which ought to be employed in productive industry and in distribution of products to consumers. A Brutal Negro Hanged. WINCHESTER, Va., April 20,-Thornton Parker was executed here yesterday. Parker exhibited wonderful nerve on the scaffold and prayed all the time, even after the black cap was placed over his face and the rope adjusted. the blood flowed freely.

The aged woman remained unconscious until last evening, but is as yet unable to throw any light on the affair. Dr. Shipps found her still suffering from the effects of concussion of the brain and shock, but no symptoms have yet developed pointing to fracture of the skull. YESTERDAY'S BASEBALL GAMES.

Wine from Washington LOUISVILLE, April 20.—Pittsburg had no trouble defeating the home team yester-day. Knell pitched the first three innings, and the Pittsburgers took so kindly to his curves that Luby was substituted. The ex-Chicagosu succeeded in keeping the hits pretty well scattered, but the game was already lost, as the home team could not bunch their hits. Hatfield was hit on the arm by one of Hawley's swift inshoot and had to retire from the game, Glasscock taking his place. Shugart's throw from deep center, catching Stenzel, Pittsburg's centerfielder, at the plate, was a feature. Attendance, 1,500. Score by innings:

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 17.—The trial of State Senator William Goebel for killing Colonel John L. Sanford was held yesterday before Judge Stephens. The charge was manslaughter. A great many witnesses were examined. The predominant testimony was that Sanford accosted Goebel first and fired first. Attorney General Hendricks was positive on this point, and his testimony was corroborated by many witnesses and contradicted by none. On the ground that Senator Goebel acted in from the Racket Store and the ner. Geo. Whaley was arrested obtaining a gun. He had made but a few steps when Williams whipped out a revolver and fired. Jones fell to the floor. The ball entered his back near the spine.
