MAKES WOMEN BEAUTIFUL.

The Unseen Power of a Modern Discovery for Renewing Youth and Rendering People Attractive.

No man in America has probably done more to make women beautiful and more symmetrical than dermatologist H. Woodbury of New York. His face is known universally throughout the length and breadth of America and in addition to improving complexions, he has been the inventor, as a surgeon, of some of the most difficult operations known to science. These operations include the straightening of deformed noses, making disarranged mouths symmetrical, and many other acts of skill. The doctor has been highly successful, but does not hesitate to frankly acknowledge the help he has had from others. He recently said:

"While I have been the means of restoring thousands of women to the natural beauty nature intended they should have, but which they had lost, I would never have been able to do so if the woman's blood was out of order, or her natural functions in a disordered condition, so that I invariably caution all men or women who consult me to see, first of all, to their general health, especially that the secretions are in perfect condition. I wish to say that in this work I have been largely aided by one of the greatest discoveries of modern times. By its use in connection with my work, I have often been able to make women who were sallow, shrunken

I cannot speak too highly in its praise. It is Warner's Safe Cure. I know of many eminent doctors who have round this same thing true, and who very gratefully acknowledge the aid they received from this great discovery. The prime source of beauty is perfect health. This cannot be secured if the kidneys or adjacent organs are out of condition. Is it not plain, then, that all possible care should be exercised to see that these organs are carefully preserved and that all possible health, promoting life and preserving youth and beauty be secured? The discovery to which I refer is popular.
