The Worst Not Told.

In a recently delivered speech at Elkin, Hon. Clement Manley said that he would pay the expenses of any Republican who would go to New Berne and see for himself if the conditions there, negro domination, were not as bad as he said they were.

This proposition was accepted by the Chatham Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of the celebrated woolen blankets, at Elkin.

The company sent as its representative Mr. David Woodruff, superintendent in their woolen mills.

Mr. Woodruff is a plain, practical, unemotional man. He sees and hears things as they are. He came here quietly and leaves quietly. He has seen New Berne as it really is. He saw its officials, city and county. He has seen the actions of the negroes on the street, in the public building in the court house.

Last night, Mr. Woodruff visited the Journal office, and quietly and simply told what he had seen here. He had no speech to make, no display of emotions to exhibit, but he was unquestionably impressed, deeply and seriously.

He could only say, "I never thought Republicanism meant such things for North Carolinians. I cannot vote such a ticket. The real conditions are far worse than any newspaper reports we have ever read."

There is Negro Domination

(Extract from the speech of Mr. W. E. Fountain, ex-Chairman of the Populist State Executive Committee, at the Goldsboro mass meeting of white men.)

"I endorse every word that Mr. Simmons has said. His statements are all true. I endorse every word in the resolutions introduced by Governor Jarvis. His statements are true. There is Negro Domination in Eastern North Carolina. I endorse the position of Major Guthrie.

"I am not a politician, although I have recently been chairman of the Populist State Executive Committee, and am now chairman of the Populist Executive Committee of the Second Congressional district.

"My motives in joining the Populist party were good. The conditions that now exist in North Carolina cannot continue. It is paralyzing the business interests of the State, and white men without regard to party ought to come together and change it.

"I am a business man. In my recent efforts to interest capital from abroad to invest in North Carolina, in building up our business and developing our resources, I have been met everywhere with this negro question, and told by those whom I have sought to interest that they would not invest a dollar where the negroes had sway as they did in North Carolina."

The Fusion Judicial ticket

There are seven Superior court judges to be elected in North Carolina this year.

The Democrats in open conventions have named seven able lawyers, men of character and integrity. They are entitled to the vote of every man in the State who favors a "non-partisan judiciary," for if the Fusion ticket is elected the bench will be almost entirely composed of Republicans.

Until last night, not a voter in the State knew the candidates on the Fusion ticket. It had been given out that the Populists had demanded that the Republicans withdraw Robt S. Eaves, and vote for Judge Hoke in the Eleventh district. What was the result? The Republicans snapped their fingers in the faces of the Populists and told them they had to vote for young Eaves and all other Gold bugs they had decided to place on the ticket.

The Fusion Judicial ticket is composed of seven gold-bug Republicans, one Populist and one Independent. Of the solicitors agreed upon eight are Republicans and four were Populists until this year when they began to openly advocate Negro Supremacy. The Republicans get the whole thing.

Is it any wonder that thousands of Populists, who believe in a non-partisan judiciary have declared that they will not vote to give the Republicans almost entire control of the judiciary of the State, particularly when some of their nominees are unfit and none of them are the equals of their opponents?

It is gratifying to know that many Populists and a large number of Republicans will vote the Democratic judicial ticket so as to secure a non-partisan and learned judiciary. Political considerations ought not to weigh when judges are to be chosen.

Persons desiring Cape Jessamine cuttings, already rooted, can secure same by applying to Mrs. Robt. Saaw or Mrs. David Dupree, at 10 cts., a piece.
