Doing's of the Legislature.

Prof Isaac H. Smith, the colored banker from New Borne, and member from Craven, arose to a question of personal privilege for being turned out of the Republican caucus. He scored the Republicans heavily and made a characteristic speech, praising the good Democratic members and asking them not to disfranchise his race, promising that they would hereafter vote for good local and State government. He closed as follows: "Until righteousness and truth kiss each other, until the sun, moon and stars refuse to shire, and my right hand forget its cunning and my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, I shall hereafter claim the right to vote for good government and for good citizens to be at the head of that government."

Bills introduced: To amend the code providing for payment of witnesses, so as to give full fees in all criminal actions whether there be acquittal or conviction, even where no true bill is found; all witness fees however, are reduced from $1 to 75 cents a day; to amend section 148 of code, removing disabilities of married women; (by Mr. Harrison of Halifax) to repeal the railroad commission act; to establish the Vance textile school at Charlotte; (by Mr. Austin, of Yancey) for the relief of J. S. Haskins, late sheriff of Jones county; to provide separate coaches for whites and blacks; to prescribe a course of study for public schools and provide the books to be used.

Mr. Allen, of Wayne, introduced two bills in regard to chattel mortgages and lien bonds, which will, if passed, shorten these instruments and very materially reduce the cost of having them registered. Some such law would be of great benefit to the farmers.

Mr. Allen also introduced a bill to amend chapter 38 of the code, to take charge of the A. & N. C. R. R. It takes out of the hands of the governor the appointment of the board of internal improvements and gives it to the legislature, and this board having charge of all the State's interest in all railroads it practically names the directors for those roads.

Winston's bill to disfranchise negroes was taken from the calendar and referred to the committee on constitutional amendments, of which Mr. George Rountree is chairman.

SENATE.
The Senate met at 10 o'clock and was in session not quite an hour.

The two most important bills of the day were the bills of Senator Ward to examine into the reasonableness of railroad, express and telegraph rates, and Senator Smith's bill to elect railroad commissioners by the people. Both were referred to the committee on railroads.

A number of bills were taken from the calendar and referred to committees.
Bills passed: To authorize Reidsville to issue bonds; to prevent fast driving over bridges in Gaston county; to repeal chapter 504, public laws 1897; to repeal chapter 316, private laws 1895.

A letter from Senator Butler to the president of the Senate, enclosing a letter from United States Fish Commissioner G. M. Bowers was read. The letter recommended that the general assembly pass an act ceding territory to the United States for the establishment of a fish culture station as has been done in Tennessee. The cession is required by act of Congress and the commissioner is ready to begin work on the station. A copy of the Tennessee act was enclosed. Referred to the committee on fish and fisheries.

After the Senate adjourned the committees went to work.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

You are perhaps aware that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of la grippe. During the epidemic of la grippe a few years ago when so many cases resulted in pneumonia, it was observed that the attack was never followed by that disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. It contracts any tendency of a cold or la grippe to result in that dangerous disease. It is the best remedy in the world for bad colds and la grippe. Every bottle warranted. For sale at Tayloe's Pharmacy.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the General Assembly of North Carolina now in session for the passage of an act incorporating the town of Belhaven in the County of Beaufort N. C.
