The first issue of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, the organ of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist church, is a valuable addition to our exchange list. Rev. T. N. Ivey D. D., is editor and Rev. Mr. Watson business manager. The paper begins life under auspicious environments and we predict for it a high place among the religious journals of the South. The maiden number is running over with choice reading. The editor brings to his position experience and ability, together with the confidence of the church the paper represents. May it visit every home within the bounds of the Conference.

A kind father whose home had recently been blessed by a sweet little babe, and who was already in possession of a bright three year old, concluded to make the right start in raising the baby, and announced to its mother his purpose to place a copy of the bible in her hand. So that the good book should be the first thing that the baby should touch. To this the little three year old protested and insisted that baby be first given the dictionary. Now in consideration that baby is of the female gender, and the probability she will aspire to become an adept with her tongue, would not the consensus of opinion be that the three years old head was level and the proper thing for her to do was to commence with the dictionary?

Our worthy Representative Hon. B. B. Nicholson, desires to announce to his many constituents and the citizens who have written him that on account of the all day sessions of the Legislature and the meeting of the Democratic caucus each night, for the want of time he has been denied the pleasure of paying proper attention to his correspondence and many letters he has received have remained unanswered. The Legislature in order to transact the business mapped out before adjournment is now sitting all day and with the hours consumed by the caucus the members are working eighteen hours a day. He says these letters will be attended to as rapidly as possible. We do hope the friends will appreciate the situation and not impute any neglect to Mr. Nicholson.

There was considerable excitement in town yesterday over the rumor that a genuine case of small pox had been discovered at Bath, and force was given to the rumor when he was learned the sick man was from Norfolk. On yesterday afternoon Dr. Joshua Taylor left for Bath to investigate the case and on his return this morning was seen by our reporter, to said the man had been sick for fifteen days when he arrived at Bath. The patient was all improvement. I carefully examined the patient and can say not only the man has not small pox but he has not a symptom of the disease. The eruption of small pox generally makes its appearance on the fourth day and not later than the sixth day, and as this man had been sick fifteen days and not a sign of any eruption had appeared, and he could not be suffering from small pox. And thus another small pox scare has gone glimmering.
