The unfortunate negro upon whom the triplet amputation was performed at the county Home, we hear this morning is getting along nicely, has no idea of dying, and his physicians are so encouraged they predict he will get well.

We see from the Charlotte Observer that Judge Shepherd will not take charge of the law department at the University until the summer session begins. It is expected that he will retire altogether from active practice and devote his entire time to the law department.

We are requested by the police to announce to our merchants and the residents of Main Water and Second streets, that on account of the March winds blowing the trash about, the ordinance requiring it to be placed in boxes will be rigidly enforced, and that hereafter parties who place light trash on the streets will be prosecuted. Unless this ordinance is enforced it will be impossible to keep the streets clean.

Mr. Noah Robinson, of this city, and Miss Lois Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Willis, of Roanoke Island, and sister of Mrs. W. D. Woolard, of this city were happily married at the residence of the bride on the 8th inst. The happy couple will arrive here and a reception will be given at the groom's residence on Telfair street tomorrow evening from 8 to 11. The bride is a handsome young lady, and beloved by all who know her. Mr. Robinson is in the employ of the E. Peterson Co., and a young man of fine promise. The Gazette-Messenger extends congratulations.

We copy the following with great pleasure from the Raleigh Post: "Representative B. B. Nicholson of Beaufort, one of the very brightest of the younger members of the General Assembly, is in the city for a few days on professional business. Mr. Nicholson made an excellent record as a legislator and to the end maintained a reputation for conservatism and the adherence to true Democratic principles. Few counties were so well represented in the House as Beaufort and the people of his county have just cause to feel proud of their Representative."

SERIOUSLY.

Are you in need of a suit of clothes? Do you intend buying a suit or overcoat? Yes, to both these questions, then why don't you buy now. I have sold hundreds of suits and overcoats this season, consequently have a number of broken lots—suits—one two and three of a kind. These I have put the knife into, up to the hilt. Have put prices down almost half. Come and examine
