A SOWER OF SEED

Holy Writ speaks of the "Sower who went forth to sow," and states that some fell on stony ground; some amidst the weeds and that some fell on good ground and brought forth "an hundred fold." A Newspaper must be a "Sower of Seed," and some must fall on stony ground, and some be choked by weeds (adverse criticism) and some bring forth abundantly. There is no intimation that the seed were not good. In fact the intimation is that ALL germinated except those falling on stony ground. Therefore in making suggestions from time to time in our editorial column we can only expect part of our suggestions to bear fruit. We pledge you to sow only good seed. We mean by this, seed of proven worth by experience and observation. For instance, if we should say to our Town Commissioners that experience and observation had shown that the ROAD DRAG improved the roads upon which it was used, and that the Road Machine was a splendid and cheaply operated implement for making smooth the rough places, and then incidentally point to Warrenton's streets, we would believe that the seed would fall on good ground, and bring forth abundantly. Let us hope so!

THE SEMI-WEEKLY WARREN RECORD

We have commenced a forward step in the Newspaper field in Warren county. We are sending our readers the Warren Record twice each week. We believe you will like it. Therefore we are taking the necessary steps to place at your fireside the County news twice each week. There was a time when the farmer and business man was satisfied to get his mail once a week; but in this age of rapid communication; this day of Electricity and of daily mails, the Weekly newspaper does not quite keep step with the march of progress. Believing this and desiring to keep abreast of the times, we greet you with this issue of the WARREN RECORD in semi-weekly form. We trust you will like it, and will give us words of appreciation and your support in this effort to be of service to you and to OUR County.

FARM LOAN PRIMER

The Secretary of the National Farm Loan Board has forwarded to us literature in respect to the Farm Loan plan of the Government. We are publishing part of this literature, because we desire our farmers to avail themselves of the privilege offered by the Government to purchase homes, to improve those now owned and to get on their feet financially. In our opinion this Plan of indirect aid by the Government is the greatest single thing accomplished within this generation for all of the people, for when you put the land owner on "easy street" so to speak, all of us are benefited. In another column will be found a "Call" issued by Demonstrator Newell for a gathering at the Court House next Saturday. Come out an organize. Keep this and Friday's issue of THE RECORD and study the catechism and you can then discuss the matter intelligently.

SECRETARY McADOO TO GOVERNOR BICKETT

January 6, 1917.

My Dear Governor:

The Act of Congress know as the Federal Farm Loan Act of July 17, 1916, was passed "to provide capital for agricultural development; to create a standard form of investment based upon farm mortgages; to equalize rates of interest upon farm loans," etc. It provides for long-time amortized loans to farmers at a lower rate of interest than has hitherto prevailed in most sections of the country, and will meet the credit necessities of a vast number of farmers, particularly the owners of small farms whose lack of touch with financial centers, or the modesty of whose demands, have hitherto prevented their securing loans at all, irrespective of the rate of interest.

In order to secure an adequate supply of money for farm mortgage purposes, the Federal Land Banks will issue bonds secured by the deposit as collateral of first mortgages on farm lands. I inclose several copies of Circular No. 6, issued by the Federal Farm Loan Board, entitled "Farm loan bonds," describing fully the manner of issue and character of these bonds.

The Federal Farm Loan Act provides that these bonds "shall be a lawful investment for all fiduciary and trust funds and may be accepted as security for all public deposits." This, of course, relates only to fiduciary and trust funds under the jurisdiction and control of the Federal Government. In order to make these bonds lawful investments for trust funds and saving banks in the several States it is necessary that each State enact laws to that effect unless such laws are already in existence. I shall be greatly obliged if you will advise me promptly whether or not, under the existing laws of your State, these bonds will be legal investments for trustees and guardians and for saving banks and insurance companies. If they are not, may I beg that you will recommend to the Legislature of your State at its present session the enactment of the necessary laws to make them legal investments.

Such legislation would accomplish the double benefit of putting within the reach of trustees and guardians an absolutely safe investment, yielding a satisfactory income for the beneficiaries under their trusts and widen the opportunity for a safe investment of the savings of masses, while, at the same time, it would prove of immense benefit to the farmers of your State in enlarging the market for farm loans and farm mortgages, thereby assuring a larger amount of available credit for the needs of the farmers of your State and at a lower rate of interest than those now prevailing. I have taking the liberty of forwarding a copy of this letter, together with Circular No. 6 of the Federal Farm Loan Board relating to "Farm loan bonds," to the various farm organizations in your State, with the request that they cooperate with you in any measure you may adopt looking toward the enactment of the desired legislation.

Bespeaking an early reply, and hoping that I may count upon your cooperation in this matter, I am,
Cordially yours,
W. G. McADOO,
Secretary.

NOTICE!

To the Editor of the Record:

I would thank you to publish the following notice: On February the 3rd, 1917, at the Court House in Warrenton at 11 o'clock sharp is set for a meeting of those who are interested in the Federal Farm Loan Act. Approved July 17th, 1916, to provide capital for agricultural development. A large attendance is expected, as we want to have Prof. William R. Camps of the A. & M. College to address the people. Borrow money for 40 years from the Government with six per cent interest, you will never have to pay the principal, so claimed.

Yours for Help,
F. B. NEWELL,
Co. Agt.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. M. E. GILLIAM

Some one has said that no knowledge is ever attained or any experience lived through that is not of value in life. Little did Mrs. Gilliam then realize when, as a young girl, she studied drawing and painting with such enthusiasm, that she was laying a foundation of priceless value for her life work of photography. Though located in the little town of Morganton she has been able to make her influence felt in many places, and is claiming customers in an ever widening radius.

Mrs. Gilliam was left a widow with several small children to provide for and dollars had to come. She instinctively turned to her old pursuit of the beautiful, but this time the camera was her means of expression rather than the paint brush. The dollars came. She could never have attained the proficiency that marks her work if it had been for this early training. She has proven herself a worth while woman in every respect, capable of rising to every emergency that life has brought. Today she is surrounded by a family who are no longer children, but successful men and women; secure in the esteem of her townfolk, and happy in a prosperous business. Mrs. Gilliam stands for two things: what a woman can accomplish when it is necessary, and what an excellent profession photography is for a woman. She is an enthusiastic member of the Women's Association of the Photographers' Association of America. —Mrs. Wooden in Everything.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Captain Price, Deputy Register of Deeds, informs us that he has issued between twenty-five and thirty Marriage licenses during January. This looks like our young men and girls have faith in themselves and in the future.
