SOME FACTS ABOUT OUR WATER SYSTEM IN JUNE

The consumers used 492,000 gallons of water. The sewerage system used 150,000 gallons. 210,000 gallons were used in flushing streets, hydrants, and leakage. The deep well pump operated 142 hours during the month. Estimated amount of water pumped, 852,000. Figuring five persons to the family, our per capita consumption was 28 gallons per day. The average per capita figured for the United States, in Cities where water works systems are installed ranges from 20 to 60 gallons per day. The lower figures where meters are installed, the higher figure where flat rates predominate. Contrary to the opinion of the Consulting Engineer, who designed the system, and the expectations of the Board, the Water Company was self-sustaining during its first year of existence. Our rates are the same as most towns in the State with a population under 10,000.

At the annual prize-day of a certain school, the head boy rose to give his recitation. "Friends, Romans, Countrymen," he vociferated, "lend me your ears!" "There," commented the mother of the defeated pupil, sneeringly, "that's Mrs. Biggs' boy! He wouldn't be his mother's son if he didn't want to borrow something."—Tit-Bits.

A learned counsel on the defendant's side lost his temper as well as his case, and remarked rudely to the opposing lawyer, "Why do you so often use the words 'also' and 'likewise'. They both mean exactly the same, as far as I can see." "By no means," said the other. "I'll show you the difference by example. Our learned friend, the judge, is a clever lawyer; you are a lawyer, also, but not likewise."—New York Globe.

Tony, the office janitor, had been working faithfully at his job for several years, when he surprised his employer by asking for a vacation. "We can't get along very well without you," said the boss. "You don't need a vacation. You'll only blow in your money and come back broke." "I like to have vacation," persisted Toney. "I getta married and I kinda like to be there."—The Argonaut.

IN AVIATION CORPS

We are in receipt of a copy of the Atlanta Constitution carrying an illustrated article upon the Georgia Tech. Aviation School, and students taking its preparatory course for aviators for Uncle Sam.

Among the thirty-four men in preparation we note with interest and pride that of Sam M. Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Connell, of Warren Plains, and a Warren county boy bred and born.

These men are receiving a special course in electrical engineering, the handling of machine guns, and the art of flying under the direction of army officers.

The men came to the school through the Training camps at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, and Fort McPherson, Atmore, Alabama, where rigid examinations had to be stood.

Nine of the thirty-four in training are North Carolina boys. The others hail from New York, Alabama, South Carolina, Georgia, Tenn., and Florida. The Old North State has well above her pro rata share.

Mr. Connell was on the Border last year with Company H., and when the Officers Reserve Camps at Fort Oglethorpe opened in May, he entered, selected the aviation branch of the service, and comes through with credit.

His many friends here wish that success may be with him in his every effort to serve Old Glory, Uncle Sam, and the men and women of America.

Value of Vegetable Garden

A vegetable garden never hurt the looks of any lot. It doesn't take a dreamer to rave over a 30 by 40 foot plot of growing lettuce, ripening tomatoes or sturdy potato plants—not in these days of high prices. Indeed, if a piece of ground has demonstrated its productiveness, it is more saleable than ever when put on the market.—Winconsin State Journal.
