LEAVES FOR OGLETHORPE.

Mr. Wm. M. Day left us last week for Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., where he goes to enter service for his Government.

Mr. Day had been with the Warren Record for over seven years and during that time has been with and materially assisted the paper in its growth to its present state of efficiency.

He has made many friends here during this time who join with the Warren Record in wishing that every good thing may attend him in his future career.

FOUR THINGS

Four things in as many minutes are very interesting described in the first column of this issue.

This talk of Mr. Simms was made under the management of the "Four Minute-Men," an organization of the State with representatives speaking in the moving picture houses of our country, and in this manner disseminating news throughout the country in regard to the war.

The article was contributed and it is well worth your attention.

THE PROCLAMATION

Governor Bickett has called for a State-wide celebration September the first, second and third in honor of the men called to the colors.

The state is about to send 25,000 men into battle—men who are making a sacrifice in order that liberty may prevail and that the integrity and honesty of all nations may be established for all future.

The task of America is no slight one, and the great part North Carolina is to play in the game of war will require that self-some sacrifice, loyalty and patriotism which have always been in evidence in the sons of the Old North State.

Therefore, Governor Bickett calls, in his proclamation, for the people of the State to assemble at the school houses on September first and hold patriotic exercises in honor of the men who are to go the front; on Sunday the second, he calls for special services to be held throughout the State, and on Monday for a general patriotic rally at the county seat.

It is hoped that the people of Old Warren will enter into the spirit of the Proclamation and make the three days mean much to the men who are going—going in order that we may live in peace and prosperity.

A big rally here Labor Day is what we should have. Such rallies always mean much to our people, and at this time, when we are in spirit with the proclamation, in spirit with the conditions at home and abroad, and in spirit with the boys who are leaving we should meet here and hold appropriate exercises.

Thus, it is hoped that the County Defense Council will make arrangements for such a rally upon Labor Day as they deem best; but let it be a rally which will do honor to the honor roll of the county, and to the tradition which our men are so nobly to sustain.

ARCOLA ITEMS

Mr. Joe F. King has treated himself and family to a nice Maxwell car.

Messrs Sandy Capps, Walter Conn, and Joe Hunter, and Mesdames Beaufort Scull, Rosa Conn and Misses Lizzie Davis and Alma Scull are attending the Institute at A. & E. College at Raleigh this week.

The meeting closed here last Thursday with much good accomplished and two additions to the church. Rev. M. Y. Self, the pastor, did some sound gospel preaching, most especially complimented was his sermon Thursday afternoon from the text: "Be not righteous over much."

After the close of the meeting Thursday afternoon the people assembled at the school building to organize a Red Cross Auxiliary. Miss Lizzie Davis made a short, appropriate talk on the history, etc., of the Red Cross and urged that all the people do what they could even sacrifice that this great organization may be made equal to the tremendous opportunity to serve our county. Twenty-five members were enrolled with the following officers: Chairman, Miss Lizzie Davis; Vice Chairman, Mr. Richard B. Hunter; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Eva Duke.

The Auxiliary has been divided equally, the Reds and Blues, to canvass for new members. Look over the list of names at the Post Office find out which side you are with and hustle for new members.

We noticed the following among those from a distance at the meeting last week: Mrs. Ivey Allen, Miss Mary Exum Burt, of Louisburg; Mr. Norman Pleasant, of Laurel; Rev. J. C. Strome, of Wood; Misses Jennie Alston, Mammie Davis and Miss White, of Shady Grove section; Mrs. Billie Davis, of Creek; Mrs. John Wood and sons, Loyd and Edgar, of Macon; Mrs. Taylor, of Brinkleyville; Mrs. Walter Bobbitt, of Enfield; Messrs. Bobbitt and Harriss, of Littleton; Mrs. Lina Arrington and Mrs. Ross, of Hollister.

Miss Lula Hunter secured five Red Cross members in three days. Who can beat it?

Mrs. S. W. Duke and daughter have returned from a visit to relatives and friends near Laurel.

Messrs. Lewis and Daniel Capps, Mesdames Lewis Capps and Johnny Gupton and Miss Hargie Reid spent Sunday in Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Scull and daughter recently visited her uncle, Mr. Billie Davis.

Miss Harriet Wills, of Brinkleyville, is visiting her people at "Dalkieth."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Radford and little daughter visited there people here recently.

Mr. Herbert Tharrington, of Hollister, visited his people here the first of last week.

A MOTHER'S LOVE

What earthly prize is like a mother's love?
It is a golden link with Heaven above.
Ay! Heaven itself shines in a Mother's face,
E'en though a manger be her biding place!

The gift of life, unselfishly she gives
And in her child and for her child she lives;
She wakes and watches while her darling sleeps;
In sickness no one else such vigil keeps.

She makes, and mends, and sacrifices health
In spending her affection's priceless wealth.
Then for her child's good she will let him go
Far from her—though it fill her heart with woe.

So he may fit him for a greater Career;
Will wait alone while year runs into year,
Knowing full well how much of joy she misses,
Hungry to see him, thirsty for his kisses.

While only dreams her yearning satisfy;
Heroic, patient, stifling sob and sigh;
Rejoicing when a tender missive tells
Of foreign scenes or Art's seductive spells—

So little for the all she gives to him,
Yet tears of humble pride her eyes will dim
And eager hopes her gentle bosom swell;
She knows that she has done her duty well;

And then at last he comes—'tis her reward.
Her heart thrills with Love's satisfy ing chord:—
She sees his shining eyes; she hears his voice;

His arms around her make her soul rejoice.
The Present atones for weary parting borne,
For so much of life's joyance from her torn.
How gladly she forgets the dreary past!

The Mother holds her loving son at last!
