Entered at the Post office at Warrenton, N. C., as second-class matter under Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

The test of a man's worth is the interest one manifests in the common good.

We would urge upon our representatives the necessity of a law prohibiting hunting in the snow. Such is necessary and such is just. Public opinion favors it.

Now is the time to go forward in every line of constructive betterment. The problem of relocation of American sons, who have faced the Hun, in profitable employment demands consideration. Civic improvement is urged as the means.

THE LITTLE THINGS

He never picks up his clothes, often he leaves the door ajar, he is never on time for an appointment. In youth an air of tolerance allows this, but as time goes on such a man drops from the sphere of things worth while to the atmosphere of the inconsequential. We don't hear his name as often as previously. He has become a victim of carelessness and no more is his council sought, or his company appreciated.

The little things of life are but the stairway to greater things in Time's immortal march. Some one has to do the things left undone by anyone. How much happier, how much better, yea, how much nobler would the world be if everyone would look to the little things. Resolve to do so, and a prosperous and happy life will be the result. It is the better way.

WHOLE TIME GAME WARDEN

The abolition of the Game Commission with the dog tax leaves vacant the position of game-warden. The new law allowing the hunting of squirrel and rabbit upon one's premises at any time of the year and requiring a permit to hunt upon any one's land will be subject to wholesale abuse unless guarded against by an officer of the law. Further, the State Legislature is to pass a State-wide Dog Control Law requiring the listing of the dog with other property in the usual manner.

We feel than an officer should be appointed to enforce the game laws and see that every dog is listed. It will be too much to ask the sheriff to do it all. Perhaps, it would be wise to have the appointed officer a deputy of the sheriff with the other powers which accompany this, and let him be out among the folks at all times. Laws are no good unless enforced and the abuse of the game laws may become common unless guarded against. Public money could be wisely expended for the common weal by creating such an officer.

THE ROAD TO LOUISBURG

It is hoped that the time is coming when every one surveys a proposition in the light of its good to his township, his county and his country. The policy of opposition to a needed improvement because that improvement doesn't run around one's front steps, or camp in the front yard, is to be lamented. Such thought never gets far away from its mother Selfishness and when it exists Progress stands about as much chance as celluloid with fire and brimstone.

The road to Louisburg by way of Alert is needed. It will help the townships thru which it courses, it will help the county. Its cost will be borne half by a Bankhead appropriation, the other to be raised by the townships. The cost will not be accessible for the natural grade is good, the road will connect the county seats of Franklin and Warren and will shorten the distance to Raleigh.

Perhaps it may mean a few more pennies in taxes, but who objects when the common property thus assured is worth dozens of times its cost? Can it be that those by whose doors the road doesn't run aren't willing to help when the roads over which they travel are paid for in part by their neighbors? Turn about, look at the proposition in a broad light and may we have a bond issue, the needed co-operation and the road at an early date. Eventually, why not now?

Pershing Forgets Us Says H. Co.

for France in his search of his lost Division. On landing he went straight to Mezieres, because, as he said, "If anybody is still on the job it will be the Second Battalion." He stopped his car before an old faded sign (Company H. 120th, Infantry) pacing up and down before the door was a shabby old gray-haired man with an old broken and worm eaten musket upon his shoulder. (He was a soldier of Company H.) on seeing the General approach he came to present arms. The General walked up to the old man and said "Can you tell me the whereabouts of the 30th Division." The old man said "No Comree. Parley Francaise."

Burwell Drug Co. Reopens On 13th

We call attention to the advt. of the Burwell Drug Company in this issue. The firm resumes business after being closed since May 20th, 1918. The following from the Warren Record of May 24th, 1918, may be of interest:

"The Burwell Drug Company Closes. Four stars are upon the Service Flag at the Burwell Drug Co., and under this array of patriotic employers the sign, 'Closing out, going to war.'

"After two years or more of faithful, competent, obliging service to the people of the County the Burwell Drug Company closes its doors to the public and Mr. W. A. Burwell, proprietor, leaves Saturday for Camp Jackson.

"The four stars are for: Mr. W. A. Burwell, who has built up a good business here and leaves many strong patrons and true friends with us; for merry, popular John Powell, who already is serving in Washington State; for Dr. Morton C. Miles, who was competent Prescription druggist of the firm until recently when called to Camp Jackson; and for 'Tip' Green, the colored man who worked at the store, and who is now at Camp Grant Illinois.

"Though the firm has stopped work for the Burwell Drug Co., the individuals have gone to work for Uncle Sam, and are serving nobly in this great cause for the preservation of liberty."

Mr. Miles is now serving in France. 'Tip' Green is across too. Mr. Burwell and Mr. Powell have been honorably discharged and Mr. Boyce, also recently discharged from service, will form the new force. The outlook for the business is bright.

Mrs. Reavis Passes to Great Beyond

This excellent woman fell asleep at her home on the morning of the 16th of Jan., 1919, and when she awoke it was in the full glory of the eternal morning. She had lived the Golden Rule "To do to others as you'd have them do to you" and she loved her neighbor as herself. She died as she had lived, in the Faith, and for her there awaited a crown of life that fadeeth not away.

"Who seeks for heaven alone to save his soul, May keep the path, but will not reach the goal. While he who walks in love may wander far, Yet God will bring him where the blessed are."

She had been an invalid for nearly six years, but was always cheerful and greeted everybody with a smile. She suffered much in that time but the last three days of her life she had no pain but often said she was so tired and wanted to rest. Oh! what a blessed thought that she is now resting in the everlasting arms.

Mrs. Reavis was born in Vance county. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Best and the beloved wife of Mr. T. C. Reavis, of Warren county. She had been married for fifty-eight years, and was the mother of ten children. Five went on ahead of her to show her the way. She leaves to mourn their lost her devoted husband, two daughters, Mrs. W. G. Wilson and Mrs. F. B. Bowden, three sons, Don, E. F. and Arthur Reavis; two sisters one brother and many friends. She was seventy-five years of age, was a charming woman, a sincere Christian and a devoted wife and mother. In early life she became a Christian and joined Brown's Baptist church. She was a valued member and was a great church worker as long as she lived.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. P. Harris at her home and her body laid to rest in the family burying ground. There tender hands will scatter flowers and loving hearts keep watch. A good woman has gone from her home on earth to the place prepared for her by our loving Heavenly Father.

One by one earth's ties are broken, As we see our love decay, And the hopes so fondly cherished Brighten but to pass away.

One by one our hopes grow brighter, As we near the shining shore, For we know across the river, Wait the loved ones gone before.

ONE WHO LOVED HER.

Notice

State of North Carolina. To A. S. Murphy: Take notice that Dr. B. Ray Browning Administrator, and other heirs at law of Miss Laura Browning, deceased, have begun a proceeding in this court for the sale of the land of the said Miss Laura Browning for the payment of her debts and for partition of the surplus. The same is set for hearing on the 12th of March, 1919, in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Warren County, North Carolina, when and where you are summoned to appear and plead answer or demur to the petition. And you are notified that unless you do so plaintiffs will ask judgement as prayed. Feb. 6, 1919.
