

REV. HORNA- DAY WRITES

CONCERNING PASTORATE OF RIDGEWAY CIRCUIT

Has Pleasant Trip To Richmond
But suffering With Rheumatism.

Editor of the Warren Record
Warren, N. C.

Dear Sir:
It may be that some of the readers of the Warren Record feel an interest in our movements, so preliminary to some other items concerning my pastorate of the Ridgeway Circuit I will tax your patience with a few lines concerning a rheumatic preacher and his better half.

On the 18th of February wife and I, accompanied by my brother, Hugh T. Hornaday, of Laurinburg, left the Maxton parsonage for a trip to Richmond. Kind friends had arranged to convey us from Maxton to Pembroke in an automobile so that there would be no change of cars. As the automobile was driven by a handsome young widower, with a charming young lady by his side, and as the roads were good, the trip to Pembroke was really greatly enjoyed. From Pembroke to Richmond we found it a little wearisome, but on schedule time we drew up to the beautiful new union station, where we were met by our son-in-law, G. D. Stephenson, with an automobile and conveyed to his home on Montrose Avenue. So many of our good friends, among them our children, advise that I try the virtues of the treatment at Hot Springs that I have about decided to do so. But preliminary to such a trip I must pick up a little extra strength, so I am taking a course of medicine from which I hope to realize benefit sufficient to patch me up for the trip to Hot Springs, which I hope to take within the next week or ten days. So far I have not been able to discover any special improvement, but I am living in hopes. Having devoted so much space to my own personal affairs, I will try to be somewhat brief about additional reminiscences concerning my pastorate at Ridgeway. Several of your readers have assured me in one way or another that they enjoy my scribbling, and as I enjoy it myself, I may continue it for a short while.

When I went to the Ridgeway Circuit as pastor, the following brethren of the Ridgeway Church held official position in the church and were therefore members of the Quarterly Conference: H. B. Hunter, Steward and Trustee; W. B. Fleming, Steward and Trustee; Dr. T. P. Jerman, Supt. of the S. S. and Trustee; B. D. Moore, Trustee; F. H. Cheatham, Trustee.

During all of my ministry of thirty-five years I never knew a more faithful servant of the church than H. B. Hunter of the Ridgeway Church was. During my four years pastorate of that charge Brother Hunter was not a young man, but he very rarely ever missed a Quarterly Conference. In collecting the salary of his pastor I think he surpassed any steward I have ever known. Some one said to him in my presence one day, "Brother Hunter, you will ride five miles to collect a quarter for your pastor; I should think you would rather pay it yourself." Brother Hunter very promptly replied, "So far as the quarter is concerned I would, but that would not be treating the other party fairly." This statement from this devoted servant at the church and of Christ thru the church presented the correct view of the whole question. A faithful steward must think about the cultivation of the grace of contributing as well as of simply getting money for church expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Moore, who still are valuable members of the church at Ridgeway, are remembered as faithful members of the Ridgeway Church when we were there and were our friends then as they are still. I recall an exceedingly sad incident in connection with this father and mother. A beautiful little daughter got hold of some concentrated lye and drank it; everything that was possible to be done was done for the little sufferer, but the lye was too strong for her and after several days of suffering she passed away. The stricken father and mother bore up beautifully in this great sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Baxter were numbered among our appreciated friends during the years we spent at Ridgeway. I recall the fact that the first time I ever heard the name of Theodore Roosevelt was from the lips of Mr. Baxter. Sitting on the platform of the depot one day with a New York newspaper in his hand he called me to him and asked me if I had been reading about this Mr. Roosevelt who was creating such a sensation in the great metropolis. I told him I had not. He then showed me the paper and under great scare-headlines there was an account of a row that was going on between Mr. Roosevelt, who was at that time police commissioner, and a great number of professional politicians on the other side. Mr. Roosevelt was making a fight for honest government in the city in which he finally won out, but it precipitated a contest that became of national importance. I remember that Mr. Baxter said at that time, "If the young fellow wins out it will pave the way to the highest position in the government." I saw nothing in his prophecy at that time, but as every one who reads these lines know it came to pass.

During our four years in Ridgeway Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mabry and family were our nearest neighbors and we have never had better anywhere. They were not members of our church, but their kindness could not have been into themore uniform if they had been. As stated in a former letter, I received Build Your Country Into Safety.

(Manufacturers Record.)

The best insurance against a growth of Socialism and Bolshevism is the employment in profitable work of our entire population.

The world is in flux. In this crucial hour—this plastic stage of civilization—we can mould America into a solid and enduring permanency of true character; or we can let it be misshapen and distorted until like some great evil full of ugliness it becomes "set" and adamant for wrong.

If in this hour of world changes, of false teachings, of hell-directed activities, we leave idle bodies and brains, we shall find the devil making full use of them as his workshop.

We must be busy making all men busy.

We must expand our railroads, build a vast system of highways, improve the small cross-roads, pave our streets, build dwellings by the hundreds of thousands, that for every family there shall be the opportunity for a dwelling with modern conveniences. Baltimore, for instance, has not for many years permitted a single dwelling to be built without a bathroom and its sanitary advantages. Other cities and towns must do the same. Farmhouses, even of the poorest tenants, must be made sanitary and comfortable. Waterworks and sewerage system must be built wherever possible and existing plants extended wherever necessary.

There must be in all sections great development of work of this kind, and it should be put under way without a day's unnecessary delay.

Work, work of every possible character, construction activities of every variety, the building of dwellings, large and small, of churches, schools and municipal structures, must be stimulated as quickly and as broadly as possible.

Patriotism, common sense, and even selfish interest, all combine to demand that every man shall do his utmost toward bringing about immediately such wide-sweeping activities as to create work for every man and woman willing to work.

ON WITH YOUR WORK! DO IT NOW!

Don't Like The Pies Over There
Made Out Of Black Flour; Expensive.

Coblenz, Germany,
Feb. 5th, 1919.

My dear Mama:
I haven't heard from any of you since I wrote to Frank last but will write now as I have nothing especially to do tonight. It starts snowing here every night but does not snow enough to cover the ground. I read the letter in the Warren Record that David Sainsting from Wise wrote. I spent the night in the same camp at Orlie near Paris, one night in June when we came through from La Harve with some trucks. I did not know that he was there so did not see him. He seems to think it was tough life to have to sleep on the train without any beds—he should have been with us a while when we rode in box cars instead of passenger cars. Once we rode for three days and nights in cars that had written over the door, "8 chevaux or 40 hommes," which is eight horses or forty men. A part of our men are out today hauling ammunition and I know they are cold riding because it is not warm at all walking today. We are getting up a minstrel in our regiment to go around to other outfits to entertain and the other fellows give us some pretty good shows here about once a week. I buy a pie now and then when I am hungry but I have to be pretty hungry to get one because the crust is made from real black flour and is about three-quarters of an inch thick, also they sell from eight to twelve marks a piece. That is some price for pie isn't it? I am getting very anxious to start home now; every time I look at a paper and see where certain outfits are to go I wonder when I will see mine on the list. Write me all the news.
Your loving son,
WILBUR.

Maconian Claims A Georgia Bride

A quiet marriage of unusual interest which came as a surprise to many took place Monday, February 17, at noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Edwards, of Ellabelle, Ga., when their daughter, Emma Lane became the bride of Mr. Hardy M. Gardner, of McIntosh, Ga.; Rev. B. G. Carlin, of Guyton, Ga., officiating. Only the immediate family of the bride were present to witness the ceremony on account of the illness of the groom sister.

The bride is an attractive and accomplished young woman, a graduate of the State Normal college and is prominently connected in Georgia, being a cousin of Ex-Congressman Edwards, of Savannah, Ga. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gardner, of Macon, N. C., and has been in Georgia for sometime where he has made a host of friends.

Immediately after the ceremony a luncheon was served and after congratulations the couple motored to McIntosh, Ga., where they will be at home to their friends.

Good Citizenship Pledge.

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our companions. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty, that thus in all these ways, we may transmit this city greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."—Athenian Oath.
