VOLUME XXV WARRENTON, N. C. TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1920 Number 38
A SEMI-WEEKLY NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WARRENTON AND WARREN COUNTY

A Colyum Of Thoughts From Here There, Yonder

(By W. BRODIE JONES)

The meeting Saturday as announced by county agent Jesse Trevathan in the columns of this issue deserves the attention of the citizens of Warren who are interested in its material prosperity, intellectual growth and progress development.

A county fair is an institution for better understanding among the citizens of the county; an event educative and uplifting.

There is no reason why the county shouldn't have a wonderfully successful fair—its community fairs of the past guarantee this.

Attend the meeting Saturday afternoon and get behind this county event with the determination to make it a grand success.

Once again the opportunity of aiding the Salvation Army presents itself.

The organization loved for its real service to all sorts and conditions of man appeals to the general public for funds to continue its work.

Its record deserves public support and we feel certain that the good people of Warren will again contribute to a most worthy purpose.

Its slogan is the creed it practices from day to day—"A man may be down but he's never out."

Give in order that others with your funds may help a brother!

He's an awful ladies' man.
I know it. I've seen him with some awful ladies.—Sun Dial.

A smile is cooler in summer and warmer in winter than a frown.—Yonkers-Statesman.

He saw a peace across the way,
All smiles and passing fair.
Quick shift—a word—an answer gay
The peach became a pair—Voodoo.

A Freshman sent his girl at Meredith some flowers to wear at a reception one evening. When he met her that night she exclaimed joyously:

"Oh, Arnold, how lovely of you to send me these beautiful roses. How sweet they are and fresh! I do believe there is a little dew on them yet!"
Stradly stammered and forced the reply: "W-w-ell, yes, there is; but I'll pay that tomorrow."—Technician.

The Wild Cat Eighty first Division, from Florida and North and South Carolina, was moving up to the front line trenches. An engineer from another division stood by the roadside trying to figure out the insignia on their left shoulders. Unable to fathom the suspense any longer he called, "Hey, buddy, what's that thing on your arm?"

"That's a wild cat," shouted back a mountaineer buck "and we're prowlin' for Jerries tonight!"

A few days later the same prowling buck was on his way back and was again asked about his zoo insignia.

"That's a wild cat," he murmured, "but, personally, I'm a damn tame pussy"—Home Sector.

A Correction Reference Peck Stock
In a recent issue of the Warren Record in reporting that the Peck Manufacturing Co. had declared a 100 percent dividend we left the word "stock" from the article. This was a stock dividend and we regret that we failed so to state at the time the news article was given the public.

ACTION COMES AS SURPRISE TO COMMITTEE

No Reason Assigned For Action And Course A Disappointment To Local Officers of the Red Cross.

Dr. Mary Wetmore, accepted by the Executive committee of the Warren county Red Cross as public health nurse until Miss Coleman could complete her course, announces that she cannot accept the work.

This action comes as a surprise to the chapter executive committee which had every reason to expect her and had made plans to that end. The following letters are interesting in this connection:

Dear Mrs. Thorne,
Your inquiry of April 23rd received I was under the impression myself that Dr. Wetmore would accept the Warren County work but during my ten days' absence in Atlanta for the National Nursing Organizations Conference, there arose a question as to this, for which reason I am sending your letter to Dr. Wetmore and asking that she advise me promptly her decision. I hope to be able to write you in a few days and am hoping Dr. Wetmore will take the work.

O. Max Gardner Speaks at Littleton

(News and Observer)

Littleton, May 10—Speaking before a large and enthusiastic audience, composed of some of the leading citizens—men and women—of Warren and Halifax counties, Lieutenant Governor O. Max Gardner delivered an eloquent memorial address here today. He made no reference to his candidacy for Governor but after the speech he had a conference with his political followers in this section.

Mr. Gardner said that he thanked God that he was the son of a Confederate soldier and that before this remnant of that wonderful army that began all description and word painting to portray their superb sacrifices and undying devotion to duty, he stated that the Confederate soldiers' greatest victory was not on the field but in the salvation of a broken and gashed State as it struggled to gain its feet and stand alone and work out the problems of government and civilization.

He then turned to the young men and said: "Young men, this group of immortals, whose feet are now resting on the cooling sands of the immortal river, pause in their passing and summon you to the task of carrying on and say that they expect you to be real men and would be happy to know that you would measure a full cubic in stature of service more even than they gave to their dark day and generation."

The Boston Light Opera Revue is one of your Community Chautauqua features on the opening day. This talented company of six attractive young ladies will please you with their new up-to-the-minute songs, costumes and music. Such new popular favorites as "Yokohama Maid," "Linger Longer Letty" and "Keep on Smiling" will go a long way towards keeping you smiling. When Miss McCarthy cellos her way into your hearts with a goodly collection of old fashioned songs and Miss Taylor sings and plays the violin for you and the Chadsey Trio drives the blues away with their sunshiny songs—then you will be glad that you are spending your vacation at the Chautauqua.

RESCUES HORSE AT GREAT RISK IN THRILLING FIRE SPECTACLE

One of the thrilling scenes of "In Old Kentucky" the First National big special feature with Anita Stewart starring, which will be shown at the Opera House, Friday and Saturday matinees and nights is when Miss Stewart rushes into a burning barn to save a thoroughbred racer from the flames. A barn was purchased for this purpose and was burned to the ground.

Miss Stewart as Madge Brierly, the little mountain girl, has been visiting in a nearby city. She is very much in love with the young master of the estate, but has been told by a jealous woman that the young man is playing with her heart. She slips quietly out of the big house to return to her mountain home. But as she leaves the grounds she sees that the barn is on fire.

She knows that a fine thoroughbred race horse is stabled in the barn, and that the horse is a favorite for the stakes in the great Kentucky handicap which race is soon to be run.

Others from the house rush out as the flames mount up, but no one dares to enter the stable, which is enveloped in smoke and flame.

Miss Stewart actually rushes into the barn and finally coaxes the horse to follow her out of the stable. The fire and smoke is so thick that she can hardly be seen through the doorway, but she finally emerges, half suffocated.

Her hair was singed in taking the scene, she was nearly smothered by the smoke, but suffered no serious injury.

The barn of dry boards and filled with hay then quickly burns to the ground and falls into ruins. It is a brilliant fire spectacle and carries an intense thrill.

COMMUNITY CHA- TAUQUA COMING

Several people form a family—several families create a community and a number of these communities make a town. Thus the expansion goes on.

When every member of a family labors and cooperates the result is Harmony and Happiness. When every family in the community labors and cooperates the result will be the same but in larger proportions. For each of us there will be more of those things which make life worth living—Love, Good Health, Good Will, Understanding and Prosperity. The "help-one-another" creed is the symbol of Success.

That which is beneficial for a community usually is beneficial to you. Any proposition coming within your gates deserves attention. If it tends toward community betterment—embrace it—give it your enthusiastic welcome and assistance. If it will benefit your town—support it. If it educates, entertains and instructs—maintain it. If it will help you and yours—attend it.

The Community Chautauqua is an institution that has merited the support, maintenance and attendance of thousands of community people. A successful institution must have a sincere foundation. The aims of the Community Chautauquas are worthy: To assist people to work better and to play better. Education and Entertainment are Chautauqua's text-books.

Musicians, lecturers, singers, writers, statesmen travelers—the men and women who know—are Chautauqua's teachers. The big brown tent is the school and you and I and our friends and neighbors are the pupils.

Come! Let us better ourselves and better our community. Let us attend the coming Community Chautauqua—the Chautauqua that promotes good health, good will, understanding and prosperity among our families, our communities and our towns.

Bogus War Stamps On The Market

Postmistress N. McJ. Moore today issued a warning to thrifty persons hereabouts to be on their guard against buying counterfeit War Savings Stamps. Fraudulent blue stamps of the 1919 series have been made by counterfeiters, the postmistress has been advised, and are being sold to the unwary.

"But the frauds can be easily detected," Mrs. Moore said. "Ben Franklin's picture appears on the stamp, and in the counterfeit stamp, old Ben seems to have the mumps in his left jaw. Indeed, there is a pronounced swelling. Then under the portrait the lower of the two left dots is comparatively indistinct, and the vertical opening between the lines in the lower left part of the numeral '2' in the date '1924' is closed. The principal features of the fraud, however, is the swollen cheek.

"It should be remembered that the counterfeit is only of the 1919 series, and, like the original, is blue. Blue War Savings Stamps can no longer be bought from postoffices or other authorized agencies. Only the 1920 stamps, which are red, are now being sold by agencies. Sales of last year's stamps are not legal. No one should buy a 1919 stamp, though it is true that some have been improperly offered for sale.

"Everyone who bought 1919 stamps last year may feel perfectly safe," Mrs. Moore said in conclusion, "because the counterfeit was not made until after the first of this year. The blue stamps had then been withdrawn from sale by the authorized agencies, and the red 1920 stamp was being sold. Don't buy any 1919 stamps, and keep a look out for the picture of the man with the mumps. If you see one let me know."

AN EPIDEMIC OVER COUNTY

Dr. C. H. Peete Issues Health Warning And Advises Reporting All Cases

PENALTY NOT TO REPORT
ALL CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

Law Governing Quarantinable Diseases Reproduced; Penalty For Failure Is Attached; Public Expected To Heed Notice.

Indications seem to point to an epidemic of Whooping Cough threatening the County. A number of cases have been reported directly by the parents to me; and a number of children have been reported to me by outsiders as being suspicious of having this disease.

It seems that Whooping Cough is lightly regarded by the general public, so much so that few parents are consulting their family physicians in regard to the disease; so far only one case of Whooping Cough has been reported by a physician this year. This ought not to be. When your child has a spasmodic cough you should consult your usual medical attendant at once; the percentage of pneumonia resulting from Whooping Cough has been found by statistics to be greater than from Measles; it is not a disease to be trifled with.

Incidentally I wish respectfully to call the attention of all parents and householders to the fact that all cases of Whooping Cough must be quarantined, and reported to the Quarantine Officer even if you do not consult a physician. Note what the appended law says about quarantining contagious diseases, and note that Whooping Cough heads the list.

C. H. PEETE, M. D.,
County Quarantine and Health Officer

Parents Required To Report

Section 8. It shall be the duty of every parent, guardian or householder in the order named, to notify the county quarantine officer of the name, address, including the name of the school district, of any person in their family or household about whom no physician has been consulted but whom they have reason of being afflicted with whooping cough, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, infantile paralysis, typhoid fever, Asiatic cholera, typhus fever, bubonic plague, yellow fever, or other disease declared by the North Carolina State Board of Health to be infectious or contagious.

Section 11. Any person willfully violating . . . any of the rules and regulations adopted by the North Carolina State Board of Health for the control of the diseases mentioned in this act . . . shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined."

Return From Trip To Flint, Mich.

Messrs. W. Keppel Falkener and W. Brodie Jones returned last Thursday from Flint, Mich., bringing two cars through the country for customers of the Motor Sales Co. They had good weather and a delightful trip. Mr. Jones says two things impressed him especially—the fine roads, and the fine farms and barns of Ohio. He says the barns were nicely painted and were larger than the homes of the farmers. He says for hundreds of miles the roads were as hard as main street of Warrenton. Prosperity abounded, though in his opinion North Carolina has Michigan and Ohio beat to a stand-still in natural advantages. We not only have the soil and climate but with that soil and climate we can raise any and all of the crops and our livestock can be pastured for eight or nine months in the year. We are awakening, however, to our advantages, improving our methods and embracing our opportunities each year.
