

A Colyum Of Thoughts From Here There, Yonder

(By W. BRODIE JONES)

"Do a good turn daily" is the instruction issued to every Boy Scout in his manual.

In the broad application of those five words is wrapped the greatest secret—that of happiness.

No life can be truly happy which bears the scars of selfishness. It is a master of mind and body which beclouds every impulse and keeps every true virtue from its proper development.

But to do a good turn, that's different. Its reward is in the smile for the seat you gave some one; its fruit is in the responsive glow of happiness which greets your laugh; its love is in the atmosphere which expresses gratitude for some deed of kindness done. The higher enjoyment of life—the atmosphere of true culture—is that of the mind and spirit. No joy is as dear, no sensation as sweet, as that which comes into the mind and grips the spirit when friendly action is extended another.

"Do a good turn daily!" Think of others and feel the Greatest Joy your life has ever known.

Heredity

"Do you think the baby will take after Jim?"

"Yes, if there is anything to take."—Baltimore American.

Pa's Definition

Willie—"Paw, what is an added attraction?"

Paw—"Any woman's complexion, my son—Cincinnati Enquirer."

His Position

"Nellie says she wouldn't marry the best man in the world."

"Well, did you ever see anybody marry the best man at a wedding?"—Baltimore American.

Not Guilty.

"Now, children," said the Teacher, "I want you to tell me right away: Who discovered America?"

A scared Kid who was always being picked on said, nervously: "I didn't, Mum: y' can't blame that on me, anyhow!"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Wasted

Mistress—"Did anyone call while I was out?"

Maid—"No, ma'am."

Mistress—"Dear me! A whole afternoon wasted."—New Haven Register.

Very Likely

Wanted to buy—Ivory elephant tusks, old billiard balls, etc. Apply Amaro News, Box 4. 710-3t.—Ad in Amaro News.

And the little old bones will amble right along.—The Home Sector.

A Question

"He accused me of pussyfoot methods."

"I didn't hear him say anything like that."

"Well, he said I was a cat's paw."—Baltimore American.

Long Search Ahead

"Believe me, if he ever want to get me into the army again they'll have to search the Maine woods."

"If they ever want to get me they'll have to burn the woods and sift the ashes."—The Home Sector.

Charcoal Egh's Daily Thought.

"A man ain't got no call 't cuss Providence fo' nothin' tall," said Charcoal Egh, in a mood, "less'n 'tis lettin' him go on workin' up he appetite fo' sump-in' he cyarn't git no mo'." Try some sassafras, Mistah Jackson.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Making It Easy

In an early draft was sent to one of the cantonments an Austrian who had no objections to serving in the army but protested volubly against being sent to France on the ground that he had a brother in the Austrian army and did not wish to be responsible in any way for his death. While his case was being investigated at camp headquarters he served the usual rookieship in squads right and wrong and the manual of arms.

The very touch of the rifle and bayonet seemed to increase his conscientious scruples, so that before executing any movement he would blurt out: "But I do not want to learn this. I do not want to kill my brother." The sergeant stood it as long as he could, but finally, his patience becoming exhausted, he shouted:

"Say, you, you don't need to worry about that. I'll kill your brother for you."—The Home Sector.

The Warren Record

VOLUME XXV

WARRENTON, N. C., FRIDAY, MAY 28, 1919

Number 43

A SEMI-WEEKLY NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WARRENTON AND WARREN COUNTY

CHAUTAUQUA OUTLO'K GOOD

Guarantors To Meet At Record Office Next Tuesday Morning For Conference

EXCELLENT PROGRAM IS OUTLOOK FOR JUNE 12-16

Whirlwind Ticket Campaign Is Headed By M. C. McGuire; All Guarantors Urged To Be Present For Tuesday Meeting.

Every Chautauqua guarantor is called to meet in the Record office Tuesday morning at ten o'clock to make final plans for the ticket campaign, to arrange for accommodation for the talent, to procure seats for the large crowds expected and to generally place things in order for the five day attraction June 12th-16th.

Plans are for a short ticket campaign of pep and vigor which is guaranteed by enthusiastic Mac McGuire, chm. of the ticket committee. Every individual is to be solicited and all effort put forth to sell the season tickets as this is the only way in which the guarantor can be protected.

Each of the following guarantors is particularly urged to attend the meeting:

R. B. Boyd, M. C. McGuire, Alice Rooker, Howard F. Jones, W. W. Taylor, Mrs. Edmund White C. B. Overby, J. K. Pinnell, G. E. Tarwater, Basketball Team (Ella B. Jones, Captain), J. E. Rooker, Jr., C. H. Harris, J. Byrd Ellington, W. A. Miles, William Burwell, I. A. Coleman, W. G. Coleman, W. A. Connell, Jr., Hilah Tarwater, J. A. Daniel, C. R. Rodwell, Jr., T. B. Gardner, Mrs. W. D. Rodgers, Jr., W. H. Dameron, J. H. Duke, W. A. Connell, W. J. Pinnell, J. L. Aycock, M. R. Burroughs, T. W. Height, John H. Fleming, Mrs. N. McI. Moore, Walter B. Fleming, Walter Boyd Massenbueg, Mrs. V. F. Ward, Warrenton Dept. Store Co. by V. D. Alston, Hugh Holt, F. R. Height, J. J. Macon, G. H. Jones, A. J. Ellington, W. M. Halthcock, W. G. Roget., D. R. Mustian, W. N. Boyd, James Polk, Eugene Wilson, Cate M. Gardner, Edward Tarwater.

In looking over the program of the coming Community Chautauqua one is impressed and pleased to note the absence of those so-called "dull speakers." The uninteresting, dry lecture is now a thing of the past. Unless a man has a vital worth-while message—unless he is a sincere, convincing speaker, able to please and entertain as well as furnish inspiration he finds no place on the platform of the Community Chautauqua. And so each lecturer who appears here will have something of interest to talk about and will tell it in a manner that impresses and pleases his audience. This program de luxe offers four lectures, widely different in character but alike in one respect, namely, that each lecturer is foremost in his own particular field. The program opens with the unique offering of Albert Edward Wiggam, noted publicist, scientist and thinker. From among his many lectures Mr. Wiggam will give one of two—"How Eli Got There" or "Forty Kinds of Fools"—both filled with vigor and life and brilliant with humor and thought. The general feeling of an audience after hearing Mr. Wiggam is that they have met a worthy man and have heard a worthy lecture on a subject of great value.

In direct contrast, is the great illustrated lecture by Dr. J. W. Skinner on "The Romance of South American Enterprise." Perhaps no one is more qualified to speak on the subject of South America, the land of the immediate future, than Dr. Skinner. Although an Englishman, he was born in Peru, and has explored practically all of Peru, Chili, Argentina and a large part of Brazil. He is an enthusiast on the hidden potentialities of this great southern continent, and this enthusiasm he communicates to his audience to an extent that is truly remarkable. He believes that the natural resources of South America are such that she will eventually dominate the world commercially. In view of the intense interest in South America on the part of American commercial organizations, this lecture is indeed most interesting and timely.

For eighteen years, Denton C. Crowl, has been one of the outstanding figures of the American platform. This vigorous exponent of genuine Americanism, appears on the third day with

To crown our great five day program comes the musical triumph of the season, Weltman's famous Cosmopolitan Orchestra, proclaimed by all as the "orchestra of orchestras." Leon Weltman, distinguished Russian violinist and conductor, heads this company of artists, which numbers among them Percy Holmes, greatest boy organist; Jules Osma, French pianist and former accompanist for Mme. Gall Curci; Edward Adelman, violinist, and other talented players. An added attraction with the Cosmopolitan Orchestra is Miss Ethel Harrington, celebrated operatic soprano. Miss Harrington has scored a personal triumph among Chautauqua patrons, and her appearance at your Community Chautauqua will be an event of interest.

The programs for both afternoon and evening are surprising in their variety of selections. Such popular numbers as "The Clock Store," "The Unfinished Symphony," "Hungarian Dance," "The Little Lead Soldier" and "Stars and Stripes" have been scheduled for each performance. This phenomenal orchestra will please old and young with many favorite melodies, novelty numbers, songs, solos and organ music. When the orchestra appears on Sunday a program of sacred music is artistically presented.

his friendly, human message, tinged with a kindly satire on the customs and dress of society, which gives to you a new and modern Sam Jones—eloquent, positive and inspiring. Mr. Crowl is also an able writer, being a valued editorialist for the Toledo Blade, Detroit Journal and Newark Star-Eagle.

Then there is that distinguished southern orator and educator, Walter Kirkland Greene, who is headmaster of Green University School. His lecture is entitled "The Greater Pyramid," but just what it is to be about is to be a surprise. In fact many surprises are in store in Mr. Greene's lecture and you'll just have to come and hear it to be satisfied.

These lectures alone are worth more than the price of admission to the Community Chautauqua, which to the first fortunate five hundred purchasers of a season ticket is only $2.50 and to those less fortunate $2.75 including war tax. In fact, each of these attractions would cost that much in a large city. So here is the opportunity to see them at home thus saving the expense and bother of travel.

Doughton Endorses R. S. McCain's Record

Hon. R. S. McCain,
Henderson, N. C.

Dear Mr. McCain:

I regret to learn that you are having opposition in your candidacy for the State Senate in your senatorial district. It was my pleasure to serve with you during the last two sessions of the General Assembly, and to become acquainted with your qualifications as a practical legislator and to admire the same.

Your Architect Bill was admirably conceived and I am sure had already saved North Carolina a large amount of money. It was the adoption of business methods to business affairs. Then your work as a member of the Appropriations Committee was in every sense valuable to the State. While you acted with due regard to the demands and equities of the State Institutions and believed in caring for them in a proper manner, yet you were economical and always opposed any proposition tending toward extravagance.

I can say to you, that, in my opinion, after a service of many years in the Legislature, I have never known a more valuable member of the Legislature than yourself. Your people should re-elect you overwhelmingly and give you that endorsement that your faithful services deserve.

With best wishes, I am
Sincerely yours,

R. A. DOUGHTON.

IT'S SEASON

"It's a wonder they don't play football in summer."
"Why so?"
"Because a broiling time would best suit the gridiron."—Baltimore Sun.

OPEN LETTER OF CHIEF E. L. GREEN

To the people of Warren County:

I am appealing to the voters of Warren to elect me Sheriff upon my record as an officer. Ask any citizen of Warrenton or any member of the Board of Town Commissioners how I have served the public as a tax officer and policeman. I have had office training for I have been in public service in this county for about eighteen years in the employ of the County Commissioners, Road Commissioners, Game Commissioners, and Town Commissioners. Ask any of them if I am worthy of your support?

From time to time I have assisted our sheriff and have been called many times to the rural districts to arrest criminals charged with all degrees of crime when it was not my duty to go. In every case I promptly responded and with few exceptions always captured my man. I have never been known to turn my back upon one.

I am trying to conduct my campaign in a manly way, open and above board, but I have heard rumors reflecting upon me, endeavoring to injure me in an underhand way. I am trying to keep out of the mudslinging game and conduct a clean campaign but if I am forced to resort to mudslinging I have all kinds of material to sling with and if I have to make any statements you may rest assured that they will be substantiated by good citizens.

I believe that whiskey should be handled in some legal way but blocking and illicit manufacturing are dangerous to the peace and welfare of this county. I believe in law enforcement and if I am elected sheriff of Warren county, God being my Helper, I shall do my best to enforce the laws of State and county without respect of persons.

E. L. GREEN.

South Makes Great Strides Toward Peace

(Manufacturers Record)

Out of a depth of poverty in 1865 far beyond what Germany or France or Belgium have endured; out of a Bolshevik ten years of reconstruction due to unscrupulous "carpet-baggers"; out of a labor chaos such as no other country has had to endure; out of the loss between 1865 and 1906 by emigration of 5,000,000 native whites—a greater drain than four years of war and ten years of Bolshevik reconstruction; out of many long weary years of denunciation by politicians and hostile "bloody shirt waving" papers; out of economic slavery of all cotton growers by reason of the effort of Europe and New England to beat down and hold down the price of cotton below the actual cost of production, the South has emerged triumphant and is beginning to see abundant prosperity which lifts the burden from all classes and thrills the South with "the music of progress, the roar of the furnace, the throbb of the locomotive, the buzz of the saw and the whirr of the spindle."

No wonder the South sings a song of gladness. No wonder it is busy building factories and dwellings and highways and schools and churches. In these things it must fill up the vacuum of half a century during which it was busy trying to save Anglo-Saxon civilization in this region, which for years was in danger of becoming a San Domingo or a Haiti, and busy trying to eke out a bare existence while it saw other sections rolling in almost boundless wealth.

The South's day has now dawned, the sun of prosperity is lighting up the dark places and hastening on to midday splendor.

Surely every patriotic American, it matters not where he may live or what his politics, can rejoice that prosperity reigns where poverty like a mighty pall had for fifty years covered one-third of the nation's population and held back the full development of the most richly endowed region on earth.

High wages in town bring recruits from the farm. The way to stop the drift is not to lower the wages in town but to cease to complain of the prices the farmer charges for what he has to sell. The best way to keep plenty of folks on the farm is to make it profitable for them to stay there. Let the farmer have a good price for his stuff so that his family can have the comforts of those who live in the city.—News and Observer.

SECURE PUBLIC H. NURSE

Miss Freda L. Hinnah To Take Over Work Early In June; To Attend Meeting First

SAW SERVICE WITH THE ARMY AND THE RED CROSS

Miss Coleman Recommended Her For The Work Here; Is Graduate of Cincinnati General Hospital

It now appears that Warren is to have its Public Health nurse within the next two weeks. The delay caused by the failure of Dr. Mary Wetmore, accepted and expected by the executive committee to report May 1st, was regretted and prompt action taken to secure a qualified worker at the earliest possible date. The chapter thru the Bureau of Public Health Nursing and the appreciated and interested co-operation of Miss Rose Enrehfeld, its capable director, have secured the services of Miss-Freda L. Hinnah.

The following letter to the head of the Red Cross work in Warren gives further information relative to this important work and the one to whom it will be entrusted:

Mrs. Peter Arrington, Chairman, Red Cross Chapter, Warrenton, N. C.

Dear Mrs. Arrington:

Miss Ella Coleman gave me the address some time ago of Miss Freda L. Hinnah (whom she knew when in the army) thinking we might be able to secure her for Warren County. Miss Coleman also writes that, because of family circumstances, she will not be able to take the Warren County work by February, as expected, and I consider it especially fortunate that Miss Hinnah will accept the work and is planning to be in Charlotte for June 1st and 2nd, when we have a special conference for county nurses, and to come on to Raleigh for a day in this office and then on for work in Warren County.

Miss Hinnah is twenty-five years old, is a graduate of the Cincinnati General Hospital three years ago, is a Lutheran, and has had a special course in public health nursing as well as experience in public health work, also Red Cross and Army service. I shall try to make her time in Raleigh well spent and hope that in coming to Warren County she will bring to it something worth while.

We shall be very glad to keep in close touch with the work and are ready to help at all times when such assistance or direction is indicated or desired.

Hoping this assignment is satisfactory to your chapter, I remain,
Sincerely,
ROSE M. EHRENFELD, R. N.

Director.

Miss Ehrenfeld has been notified that the assignment was satisfactory, board has been secured at Mr. John Graham's and Miss Hinnah is expected early in June.

ALLIGATOR STEAKS VERY GOOD SAYS MARINES

Managua, Nicaragua, May 25—Perhaps alligator steaks would never appeal to the fastidious diners in a first class restaurant, but U. S. Marines attached to the American Legation Guard here, say they are the real thing for adding piquancy to the daily fare.

Marine sharpshooters make a specialty of bagging young alligators. When the skin is removed steaks are cut from the fleshy part of the tail. The meat is clear white, is palatable, and has something the flavor of halibut.

Another variety in the bill of fare is broiled lizard. The iguana, or giant lizard, has been used for food by the natives for many years. The Marines say that iguanas make fine chow, but they prefer alligator for a steady diet.

The company had been marching for two solid miles without a rest and Recruit Sullivan, holding the exalted rank of No. 3 in the rear rank, First Squad, had about come to the limit of his endurance. Finally, just as he was about to give up the ghost and drop, the captain gave the command, "Company, halt!"

"By the lord, captain," groaned Sullivan, as he eased off his pack, "you took the very words out of me mouth!"—The Home Sector.

Poverty can't spoil a real man, but prosperity often does.
You have to dress inconspicuously these days in order to be conspicuous.—Type Metal Report.