Mr. Jobe will be back the September. The ladies of the Betterment Association and some of the older boys and girls are requested to meet at the school building on Friday September 3rd for the purpose of putting things in order for the opening of school. Come in the morning and bring your lunch. Let us combine work and play and have a real good clean-up day.

It is gratify to learn that five out of the seven of those who graduated from our High School this year are to pursue their studies further. Miss Sadie Perkinson goes to Oxford College, Miss Agnes Paschall to Hollins Institute in Virginia., Mr. Elmre King to the University of North Carolina, Mr. Herbert Coleman to Massey Business College in Richmond and Mr. Wallace Mustian will continue his studies in Baltimore.

This will be Mr. Nat Hayes' Senior year at the University, and Miss-Cliffie Williams' sophomore year at the North Carolina College for Women. It looks as though the people of Wise believe in education and are investing their money in a way which will count for much in time to come.

Teacher Awarded Bible

As the lesson period of the Sunday School was drawing to a close on last Sunday morning, Supt. C. W. Perkinson came into the class room of the Women's Bible Class with a box in his hand. Before Mrs. Charlotte S. Perkinson, the teacher, could realize what he was about, he opened the box and presented her with a beautiful teacher's Bible, Oxford Edition, bound in limp leather with her full name embossed on the cover, the gift of her Sunday School Class.
