The Warren Record

VOLUME XXV WARRENTON, WARREN COUNTY, N. C. TUESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1920
A SEMI-WEEKLY NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WARRENTON AND WARREN COUNTY
Number 80

JUST FOR FUN

She was just a lass on his father's land,
But he bent from his horse and pressed her hand,
His eyes burned black with a passionate fire,
She lifted her eyes to his eyes of desire,
He looked deep in her eyes, cool, somber, gray;
He kissed her lips and rode away.
He said he'd come back—'tha's what they all say.
It's an old story and sad—but it's done every day.

He—May I kiss your hand?
She (lifting veil)—My glove are on.—Record.

And This Is Leap Year

It's much easier for most girls to get up stairs than it is to get up stairs.—Froth.

Stage Manager—All ready, run up the curtain.
State Hand—Say, what do you think I am, a squirrel?—Penn State Froth.

He—I hope this little hand is not counterfeited.
She—The best way to find out is to ring it.—Carolina Tar Baby.

Not for Me

Night Owl—Set the alarm for two will you?
Roomie—You and who else?—Cornell Widow.

Right

Fresh—Can a man tell when a woman loves him?
Junior—He can, but he oughtn't to.—Tar Baby.

Key—Are you de young man vot saved my boy's life from drowning?
Pat—Yes; but don't mention it; I just did my duty.
Key—Vell, vere's his cap?—Chaparral.

Elder Berry—Say, Luke, how would you like to have one of these suffragettes for a wife, all the time hangin' round the polls?
Luke Warm—I'll tell ya, Elder, I wouldn't let my wife hang around a Pole or any other foreigner.—Awgyan

Ruled Out

Father—Young lady, you must leave Jack Barry alone, he is nothin' less than a professional poker player.
How do you know that?
Know it! Why he can even beat me.—Tar Baby.

English Prof—You know, gentlemen, that after all, the main objective in all wars is to get closer to the enemy than they are to you.—Log.

Prof—Johnny, sit down in front.
Johnny—I can't.—Sun Dodger.

REPORT OF TOBACCO MEETING

Warrenton, Oct. 4.—The Warren County Tobacco Growers Association was called to order by J. M. Coleman, President. Minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted. Mr. Trevathan read an article from the News and Observer which explained the purpose of the meeting. Mr. Trevathan, County Demonstrator, was elected County Organizer to organize the growers. It was moved and carried that the members of the Executive committee be appointed to assist the County Organizer in organizing their respective townships. Mr. M. T. Lake, of Fishing Creek, having resigned, Mr. W. T. Hardy was elected to fill the vacancy, on the executive committee. Pres. J. M. Coleman, A. Paschall, and J. E. Trevathan were selected delegates to attend the Public hearing of the Bureau of Markets to be held at Wilson, N. C., October 8th, pertaining to the Tobacco Warehouse Act. Mr. Coleman made a good talk in which he urged that we accept the plans as drawn up by the State Committee in good faith, and insisted that we as individuals remain to cut our crop. He recommended that the County Organizer organize the townships until instructions in regard to plan of organization be received from headquarters. There being no other business the meeting adjourned to meet again Saturday at 2 p. m., October 16th. (Signed) JOHN H. FLEMING, Secretary.

WILL BE FELT IN CAMPAIGN

PRESIDENT WILSON'S ENDEAVOR TO HAVE AFFECT

Mr. Wilson Stand For League Great Aid to Its Passage Says Democratic Leaders. At the Psychological Moment

Washington, Oct. 4.—“The President has again proved himself not only a master of political statements but an adept in political psychology. This was consensus of comment of Democrats in Washington today on President Wilson's first bugle blast in the campaign for the covenant of the League of Nations. It is believed the President could not have chosen a more propitious moment to enter the campaign. The whole nation has been listening intently for a fortnight to hear from the man in the White House. The people had become more apathetic than was ever known in previous presidential campaigns.

“But the people,” said Secretary Daniels in commenting on the President's statement, “hunger for only one thing in this campaign and that is knowledge of the covenant of the League. Wherever I have gone in my speaking tours both men and women come to me and say don't tell us about the Federal Reserve and other domestic achievements of your party. We know about them. What we do not know about, or do not understand, is the covenant of the League of Nations. It is the only thing that interests us, but the speakers in this campaign do not explain it and that is why we appear apathetic.”

Clears Up Atmosphere

“The President's statement,” said the Secretary, “accentuated the one issue for it comes when the people are hungry for it and it comes from the great master of the subject. Ten days ago the whole political atmosphere of the country was dense with fog. The Republicans have conducted such an organized propaganda of misrepresentation and falsehood that Democrats feared that they could not in time get the truth to the people. That fear has passed. The fog is lifting and Mr. Wilson's statement comes down like the unobscured rays of the sun.”

Senator Hitchcock, leader of the fight for the President for the League of Nations who is now here declared that the League is the only real issue in which the people are interested. Referring to Senator Borah's comment on the President, Senator Hitchcock said:

Senator Borah may be correct when he states that the President is a very sick man, but the President is evidently not too sick to denounce Republican falsehood and Republican misrepresentation on the League of Nations. President Wilson's statement, though moderate, is unqualified. Republican leaders and Republican newspapers have said that Article Ten of the covenant makes it possible for other nations, or for the League of Nations to decide whether we shall go to war or not. This lie has been uttered time and time again, and the gist of the President's statement is that it is a lie. Coming from such a high source, it may induce some people to read Article Ten who have not done so.

America Could Stop War

Article Ten only consists of two sentences. The first is the pledge of each nation to respect the territorial integrity and political independence of all nations in the league against external aggression. The second sentence however, limits the first sentence and sets forth the only way in which the pledge can be carried out or made effective. It cannot be carried out by an order of the league. It cannot be carried out by one nation appealing to another. It cannot be carried out by one nation voluntarily going to the aid of another. It cannot be carried into effect in case the nine nations in the council unanimously agree and 'advise' the nations of the league what should be done. They cannot order; all they can do is to advise, and even to advise cannot be given except by unanimous vote.

“The United States being one of the members of the council, even the advice cannot be given unless the United States agree to it. Hence the United States not only has the full

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME

Disease Prevention

Through its Health Service the American Red Cross has begun a nationwide concentrated effort in co-operation with established organizations to reduce greatly the amount of preventable disease and physical defects found among the country's 103,000,000 population. Education is its most powerful tool. Special attention is devoted to children, and this picture shows a typical Red Cross welfare clinic where little ones are treated and mothers instructed in the proper care of them.

decision as to whether it will go to war, but it has a veto on any other nation going to war to carry this pledge into effect.

“Before the campaign ends a great many thousand people who have been misled by the false statement that the United States could be ordered to go to war or be outvoted in the league on subject of going to war will discover that President Wilson is correct when he says: ‘this is absolutely false.’”

Present Situation Serious

A leading administration Democrat whose name cannot be used in this connection in discussing the President's statement said that what urged the President more than anything else to take a hand in the campaign is the president condition of the world. The two forces in the world which are today struggling for supremacy are somewhat similar in motives and aspirations to the two schools of political thought that are battling in this country for victory in the November election.

He called attention to the relations between the United States and Japan, which he said the President foresaw might become very serious even dangerous if the Republicans should win the election and refuse to allow us to enter the league. If this country does not enter the league, the league will soon fall to pieces and two hostile groups of nations will be the result and we shall be compelled to join one or the other of these groups to protect ourselves and this hemisphere against the other group.

The bolshevist regime in Russia must soon fall and Germany with her great skill for organization will enter that country. Without a League of Nations, Germany, Russia and Japan and China dominated by Japan, Turkey, the Balkan states and all the near east will coalesce. Under this alliance will be mustered two thirds of the human race.

This aggregation would naturally be hostile to the European entente and America. Japan has an alleged grievance against us; Germany, Russia and Turkey are all bitter against the entente. Though India and Ireland they would undertake to undermine and destroy the British empire. They would become far more dangerous to the world than Germany was in 1914. With their great strength they would enter the Western hemisphere through countries like Mexico. The United States would be compelled to join the entente, and eventually war between these two great groups of nations.

League the Only Safeguard

The President sees the Republican party as the instrument of all evil forces in these nations working against the orderly progress of the race. The league is in his view the only safeguard against the races lapsing perhaps into ultimate barbarism. There are many signs of such a danger in the world at this moment. A great deal of humanity under certain condition exhibits a complete lack of moral consciousness.

The President in his statement points to the fact that the creators of the government were guided in their great work by the hope that the United States would save the world from just such danger as is outlined. In his view the great mission of the people of the United States is to lead the world to higher levels. This Democrat who knows the President's mind on the league said his head is in the heavens but his feet are on the earth.

Simmons Enters Campaign

Senator Simmons will enter the campaign in North Carolina on Thursday, October 7, in a speech at Mount Pleasant, near Bailey, in Nash county. Representative Pou of the Fourth district will introduce the Senator and will also make a speech. A barbecue of 50 hogs will follow the speaking. A band of music will help to entertain the crowd which it is expected will number 7,500. Senator Simmons will after this date make speeches in the Sixth, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth congressional districts. Secretary Frank Hampton will leave here tomorrow to join the Senator in the campaign.

Secretary Daniels will leave tomorrow to speak in Illinois for the Democratic National ticket and for ex-senator James Hamilton Lewis for governor.—News and Observer.

PEOPLE OF OUR TOWN

The Easy Talker is all Warmed Up and is going So Good that he has forgotten All About the Speaker of the Evening, whom he is introducing. Every town has a Self-Made Orator who can Go to the Mat with the Dictionary on short notice and Comes in Handy when the Regular Speaker can't Get There.

CHATHAM COUNTY HAS FIRST WOMAN SHERIFF

(News and Observer)

Pittsboro, Oct. 4.—The first woman sheriff in the history of North Carolina filed the necessary bond and took the oath of office in Pittsboro today. She is Miss Myrtle Siler and is now the regular high sheriff of Chatham county.

Leon T. Lane, who has been sheriff of the county for ten years, and who is the Democratic nominee for a seat on the North Carolina General Assembly, tendered his resignation to the board of county commissioners, and same was accepted.

The commissioners today elected Miss Siler sheriff of Chatham to fill the vacancy caused by Sheriff Lane's resignation, and the job of officially placing her in office was quickly done.

CELEBRATE THEIR SILVER WEDDING

1895 SILVER WEDDING 1920
Mary Beardsley—Will Connell
(Special Correspondent)

The First of October the doors of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Connell's beautiful country home, “Fairfield” Warren county, N. C., were thrown open to 400 invited relatives and friends, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of their marriage. The guests were ushered in by their eldest daughter, Miss Norma, a charming young woman, a student of Peace Institute. Next in order was the former Bridal party who made up the receiving line. Many congratulations and poems were given to this popular, attractive couple. The registration book claimed the attention next, which was presided over by Miss Hattie, a pretty younger daughter.

The color scheme of the dining room, yellow and red, was beautifully portrayed in the centre of the tables, B. and C. initials of Bride and Groom written in red and yellow dahlias; and the receiving rooms and halls were full of exquisite bowls of dahlias and asters. Punch was served under a pretty arch of Ivy, with 1895 and 1920 conspicuously suspended above. The gifts were handsome and numerous on account of the fact that Mrs. Connell has been the Lady Demonstrator of the county and a public spirited woman who has made a great many friends all over the county.

The guest present were: Mrs. E. L. Fleming, of Middleburg, N. C., Mrs. M. E. Connell, Richmond, Va., Miss Edna F. O'Neal, of Henderson, Mrs. A. W. Wilson and Mrs. W. J. ## MUCH INTEREST IN FAIR

FAIR OFFICIALS EXPECT GREAT ATTENDANCE

Warren County's Fair To Open Here Thursday At 10 O'Clock in School Building. All Are Urged to be Present

Much interest is being manifested in Warren county's fair which begins here Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Indications point to the fact that the exhibits will be better and more numerous than in any preceding fair held in Warren. Mrs. W. A. Connell says that she feels very much encouraged at the way plans are working out. The big barbecue will come off during the fair. The money for this has been given by the business men of Warrenton.

“I am glad to see,” says Supt. J. Edward Allen, President of Warren County's Fair Association, “that interest in the Warren Fair which is to be held in Warrenton this week is at a higher pitch than I have ever observed in any public matter of this kind in fifteen years of Warren county. Years ago—so many years ago that many readers will not know about it—I remember how fairs used to be held in the field between the Hawkins school and White's gin, and how excursions used to run from all up and down the railroad, and long strings of railroad passenger cars used to be seen on the siding in front of what is now Mr. Rooker's residence down main street way, and the squeals and the balloons flew and the hokey-pokey bellowed for trade, and everybody was happy, including myself, a kid in short skirts. It looks like we are going to have a revival of the good old times, and we want your hearty help in ‘putting it over.’”

Continuing, Mr. Allen states that “We expect a big crowd of our friends here Thursday and Friday—and that means the whole county. The business people of the town are glad of the opportunity to be hosts. The good people of Warren county are glad of the privilege of getting together. And the best part of it all is, that this fair is not one of those many ways of taking good money out of Warren county. We are tired of rotten, ridiculously poor circuses that take good money out of our midst and do not even leave a good taste in our mouths or a smile on our faces or a ‘Thank you’ and a benediction when they shake from their soles ungratefully the dust of good old Warren.”

Make your plans now to meet your friends here hot days of the Fair and make Thursday and Friday days of pleasure as well as profit.

Prizes Announced

The three prize letters were all excellent and so nearly of equal worth that the judges decision was that no one be judges first and second and in their opinion that the just thing was to divide the prizes equally between the three. Therefore, the Warren Record takes great pleasure in awarding to Mrs. N. M. Palmer, Mrs. P. A. Agelasto and Mrs. Charlotte Story Perkinson a prize of $5.00 each. The prizes will be presented when premiums are awarded.

There were no contestants for High School prizes.

WINS HONORS ON ATHLETIC FIELD GOES TO UNIVERSITY

The following clipping will be of interest to our readers. The subject of this sketch, Jimmie Martin, is a grandson of the late H. A. Foote, and a nephew of Mrs. John H. Kerr. The account follows under the head “Jimmie Martin Goes to Hopkins.”

“Jimmie” Martin, all round athlete and graduate of Allegheny County High School, will don the colors of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, as a track man and left yesterday to enter the school there. Jimmie who had no limit to his ability as an athlete as long as his Alma Mater had new fields for him to conquer as a star in every field. Halfback on the football squad, forward on the basketball team, and a leader on the track team, he was the pride of local athletics.

It was at the recent state meet held in Baltimore that the local protege at
