GOVERNOR RINGS TRUE IN REPLY.

Refuses To Send Witnesses To Canada In The Matthew Bullock Case.

COLORED MAN RELEASED.

"I am not going to try North Carolina's honor and integrity before any judge in any foreign country," declared Governor Cameron Morrison yesterday in a sharp telegram to Henry P. Fletcher, Acting Secretary of State in Washington in response to that official's suggestion that North Carolina send an attorney and witnesses to Hamilton, Ontario, to prove to Canadian authorities that Matthew Bullock, wanted in Norlina for attempt to murder and for inciting a riot should be extradited.

The Governor's telegram was a flat refusal to proceed in any way other than through the constituted authorities in Washington acting in compliance with treaty relations with Canada. The telegram is taken as an indication here that the Society for the Advancement of the Colored People, together with negro organizations in Canada who are putting up a strong fight to save Matthew Bullock from extradition are availing themselves of powerful influences.

"North Carolina will not make an appearance through attorney in any Canadian court," the Governor's telegram read. "North Carolina will not make an appearance through attorney in any Canadian Court. It will not send witnesses to have a trial before any court there. If there is any error in form or regularity of application for the extradition of this fugitive from justice, I will be glad to have it corrected as far as correction can be made in truth. If Canada will not honor our requisition in the regular way and you cannot through diplomatic channels convince them they should do so, then I hope you will not hereafter request North Carolina or any other self-respecting State of the Union in any way to honor a request from Canada. If a treaty relations with Canada are not such as to guarantee the return to this country by desperate criminals like Matthew Bullock without the States of this Union being subjected to the humiliation of having to appear before some judge in a petty judicial proceeding in Canada it is certainly a distressing situation. I am not going to try North Carolina's honor and integrity before any judge in any foreign country."

Governor Comments.

In his office yesterday afternoon, the Governor commented vigorously on the situation that has developed.

"The most disgusting spectacle of legal procedure I ever saw was when the great State of New York sent its attorneys and a host of witnesses over into Canada to convince the authorities there that it should have the custody of Harry Thaw, a man who had violated its laws," he said.

"I am going to deal with Canada through the office of the Secretary of State in the usual way. If there is anything wrong with the form of the papers presented, the State of North Carolina will correct them. The State of North Carolina is depending upon the federal government through its representatives and diplomatic agencies to return this criminal to the State for trial.

"North Carolina is not on trial and the integrity of its courts is not to be passed upon by any Canadian judicial officer. Why North Carolina is doing more for the improvement of the negro, morally, educationally than any State in this nation."

Will Not Bandy Words.

Last night when the Associated Press story chronicling Judge Snider's statement that he would stick his guns in demand for oral testimony was to read to the Governor, he declined to comment in any way other than to repeat the assertion that "It is ridiculous to expect that the State of North Carolina will send representatives to Canada to bandy words with negro organizations on the justice of North Carolina courts."

BOARD BUYS TILE FOR HOTEL LOBBY

Building Committee Will Buy Furniture Within The Next Week.

MANAGER COMES APRIL 1.

A tile floor for the new hotel was contracted for here this week by members of the building committee, thus setting at rest criticism which had followed the probability of a concrete finish in the lobby.

The hotel will be managed by Mr. A. B. Anderson who comes to Warrenton with his wife and two daughters April 1. Mr. Anderson formerly managed a hotel at Rowland, N. C. "We expect to have the hotel in operation by April 15" a member of the committee said yesterday.

The building committee, Messrs. V. F. Ward, Eugene Allen, W. N. Boyd and H. A. Moseley, will leave Tuesday of next week for High Point to buy furniture, unless exceptionally attractive bids are offered here by representatives of leading manufacturers.

Telephones will be installed in each of the rooms by the Home Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The building is almost completed. The heating arrangement is practically installed and the painters are at work on the two upper floors.

ENGINEER THINKS TONE COULD COME FROM CNTY.

Rock quarries near Warrenton would furnish suitable material for road construction, according to J. J. Giles, geological expert of the State Highway Commission, who was here Wednesday and Thursday.

"The rock will have to be given a more thorough test," the engineer said, "but I feel that it can be used, all right." Mr. Giles was accompanied by Mr. Mckerzie and P. L. Lacy, his assistants.

They left yesterday afternoon after visiting the quarry at Horse Branch and the one on the J. B. Davis plantation near Warren Plains.

Well Concealed.

Some people in peacetime will be interested in the young man who went into the Army. On enlisting, he expressed the fear that he would face ridicule on account of his religion. After three years in the Army he was asked how he had gotten along. "Fine," he replied; "they never found it out on me."—Christian Register.

FARM BLOC GETS DIRECT MARKETING

Here is shown President Harding signing the Capper-Volstead bill which makes legal, co-operating marketing by farmers. It is the first signal victory for the Farm Bloc in Congress. This new law permits farmers to pool their crops and sell direct to consumers, thus doing away with the middleman's profits.

MORRISON URGES "LIVE AT HOME" CAMPAIGN FOR CAROLINA FARMERS.

RALEIGH, March 1.—A definite start is being made this week in the work of putting over Governor Cameron Morrison's "Live at Home" campaign. John Paul Lucas of Charlotte, who has been secured to organize and direct the campaign, has opened an office in the State Department Annex, and the preliminary work is already under way. The work in prospect is not new to Mr. Lucas, who had active direction of the Food Production and Conservation Campaign in North Carolina during the war, first with the State Food Commission, and later with the United States Food Administration, and who is "loaned" to the State for this particular work by the Southern Public Utilities Company for which he is advertising and publicity manager.

During the campaign emphasis will be laid not upon the production of food supplies for the market, but upon the production by every family of food and feed supplies sufficient to supply its own establishment. More and better gardens, more poultry, one or more cows for each family, and sufficient hogs to furnish an all-year supply of pork will be advocated. The new movement has the wholehearted backing not only of the Department of Agriculture and the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, but also of the Department of Education, the State Board of Health and other agencies of the State government.

The campaign which is being inaugurated will be intensively conducted and will cover a period of eight to ten weeks. The organization to be built up will reach into every township of every county in the State.

"THE LOST COLONY" AND SIR RICHARD GRENVILLE.

Editor The Warren Record: Referring to the motion picture which the State Board of Education has been showing at the schools throughout the county. We may never know the fate of "The Lost Colony," but I thought it might interest hundreds of the school children and others who saw the picture to know the fate of one of the principal founders of the colony, Sir Richard Greenville. Sir Richard was in the English Navy, and Lord Tennyson tells of his last fight in "The Revenge," this being the name of Greenville's ship.

Warrenton, N. C., March 2.

THE REVENGE.

A BALLAD TO THE FLEET.

At Flores in the Azores, Sir Richard Grenville lay And a pinnacle, like a flutter'd bird, came flying from far away; "Spanish ships of war at sea! we have sighted fifty-three!" Then swore Lord Thomas Howard: "Fore God I am no coward; But I cannot meet them here, for my ships are out of gear, And the half of my men are sick. I must fly, but follow quick. We are six ships of the line; can we fight with fifty-three?"

Then spake Sir Richard Grenville: "I know you are no coward; You fly them for a moment to fight with them again. But I've ninety men and more that are lying sick ashore. I should count myself the coward if I left them, my Lord Howard, To these Inquisition dogs and the devildoms of Spain."

So Lord Howard passed away with five ships of war that day, Till he melted like a cloud in silent summer heaven; But Sir Richard bore in hand all his sick men from the land Very carefully and slow, Men of Bideford in Devon, And we laid them on the ballast down below: For we brought them all aboard, And they blest him in their pain, that they were not left to Spain, To the thumb-screw and the stake, for the glory of the Lord.

He had only a hundred seamen to work the ship and to fight And he sailed away from Flores till the Spaniard came in sight, With his high sea-castles heaving upon the weather bow. "Shall we fight or shall we fly? Good Sir Richard, tell us now, For to fight is but to die! There'll be little of us left by the time this sun be set." And Sir Richard said again: "We be all good English men, Let us bang these dogs of Seville, the children of the devil, For I never turn'd my back upon Don or devil yet."

Sir Richard spoke and he laugh'd, and we roar'd a hurrah, and so

MAN IS SLASHED AFTER CRAP GAME.

Price Sent To Jail Under $200 Bond Imposed By Justice John W. Allen.

VICTIM WILL RECOVER.

Failing to give bond of $200, Willie Price, young white man of Warrenton, was returned to jail yesterday by Sheriff Davis following a trial before Justice John W. Allen. The warrant charged Price with assault upon John Gardner last Saturday afternoon.

Gardner and Price, according to evidence yesterday, had been in a crap game near the mill. A row resulted and the game ended in a brawl. Price cursed Gardner repeatedly, ending with more vile language in the presence of Gardner's mother as they reached his home.

Breaking from his mother Gardner ran to Price who slashed him across the back of his head, on the hip, ripped his mouth, tore a six inch gash diagonally across the face, and carved his forehead.

John Liles brought Gardner to the Boyce Drug Co. where Dr. W. D. Rodgers Jr. took 20 stitches to stop the flow of blood. After leaving Gardner with the doctor Liles found Chief Green and with him went in pursuit of Price.

"We found him," Chief Green said, "in a colored man's house on the Ridgeway road, about a mile from town. I had no trouble arresting him. He handed over the knife."

Justice Allen continued the case Saturday afternoon until Thursday morning.

With his head swathed in bandages Gardner appeared yesterday with Mr. B. B. Williams as counsel. Hon. Tasker Polk represented Price. Much of the evidence was not brought out.

The case will be heard by Recorder T. O. Rodwell Monday.

The equipment was not found here by Chief Woodfin. He returned to Littleton yesterday afternoon with his prisoner.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY WILLIAMS RETURN FROM HONEYMOON.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams have returned to Warrenton County after a bridal tour to Washington. Mr. Williams and Miss Isabelle Davis were married at Shady Grove on Wednesday Feb. 21 by Rev. J. T. Draper.

Upon that occasion the church was decorated with running cedar, evergreens, hyacinths and potted plants. The bridal party entered the church at noon. Miss Annie Lee Powell of Inez, in white organdie, carried the wedding ring in a miniature silver basket. The bride entered with Miss Claudie Tant of Raleigh, as maid of honor, and they were met at the altar by the groom with Mr. Mark Williams of Rocky Mount as best man. Mrs. Mabel Tharrington played the wedding march.

The bride, in a dark blue suit, with gray hat and gloves, entered. She carried a sweet pea and lily of the valley bouquet. Immediately after the ceremony the couple drove to Norlina to catch a train.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams have numbers of friends in Warren who extend congratulations and who are happy that they will make their future home in the county.

Bury An "Unknown Soldier" of Roma Disaster; N. C. Wins Basketball Championship.

A GENERAL NEWS DIGEST.

An unnamed soldier from among the dead in the disaster to the airship Roma, was selected as representative of all those who gave their lives in the fatal flight for a public funeral which was held in Newport News on Friday. Resting in a plain casket on a grassy prominence in the center of a huge hollow square he received for himself and the 33 others who died in the disaster a last farewell from his comrades and from others among whom he had lived.

This method of honoring the dead was decided upon after many of the victims had been sent to their former homes in many widely separated parts of the country. Many thousands from eastern Virginia and from other parts of the country witnessed the ceremony.

Defeating Mercer University 40 to 3 in Atlanta Wednesday evening, the basketball team of the University of North Carolina won the championship of the South. The University quint came through the preliminary games with other Southern universities in good form and clinched the championship with superb work by defeating Mercer.

Charles W. Morse, New York shipbuilder, his three sons, Ervin, Benjamin and Harry Morse, and eight others alleged to have been associated with him in connection with war-time shipping contracts, were on Monday indicted by the Federal grand jury on charges of "conspiracy to defraud" the United States and the emergency fleet corporation.

Two indictments were returned charging a conspiracy to defraud the United States and the other a conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States by defrauding the United States Shipping Board.

The contracts between the emergency fleet corporation and the Grotton Iron Works and the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, on which the charges resulting in the indictment were based, involved an amount said to approximate $40,000,000.

The constitutionality of the Woman's Suffrage or nineteenth amendment was sustained on Monday by the Supreme Court in a unanimous opinion handed down by Justice Brandeis.

The challenge came from the State of Maryland, where Oscar Leser and others sought to prevent the registration of two women as qualified voters in Baltimore. Leser and his associates contended that the constitution of Maryland limited suffrage to men; that the legislature of Maryland had refused to ratify the woman's suffrage amendment, and that the amendment had not become a part of the federal constitution. The Maryland State courts sustained the amendment.

The contention that an amendment to the federal constitution relating to additions to the electorate can not be made without the consent of the State, the court disposed of by reference to the fifteenth or equal suffrage amendment, declaring that "one can not be valid and the other invalid." It pointed out that the validity of the fifteenth amendment had been recognized for half a century.

Henri Desire Landru, "the Bluebeard of Gambais," France, convicted of the murder of ten women and one youth, gave his life on Saturday in exchange for the eleven he had taken. Mysterious and collected, Landru went to his death on the guillotine without having made a confession or uttered a word of regret. Thus ended a criminal case which had engaged the attention of the public since his arrest in April, 1919.
