

CONGRESSWOMAN PRAISES N. C. MEN

Miss Alice Robertson Says
North Carolina Produces
Very Large Men.

FIGHTS MILK SUBSTITUTES

Miss ROBERTSON. Mr. Chairman, few months ago I crossed over to the other side of the House to inquire of gentlemen from North Carolina whether very much of this stuff (holding up the can of filled milk) was used in their State. You remember perhaps that statistics of the late World War showed that of men called to the colors the North Carolina contingent were nearer physically perfect, taller, and more free from disease than those from any other State.

Down in Oklahoma quite a number of our citizens were originally from North Carolina and they maintain this splendid standard. I have never known a North Carolinian who did not insist on good milk and plenty of it.

Just now as I was talking with those two tall North Carolina men over there, who had never made the acquaintance of "filled milk," we exchanged reminiscences of corn bread and buttermilk till we all felt half starved together. Do you know what sort of corn bread and buttermilk we meant? Corn bread made from hard white corn ground in an old-fashioned mill and buttermilk where the whole Jersey or Guernsey milk is put in a stone churn, with a dasher, and allowed to reach just the right point, and then when the butter is taken out after churning little golden flecks of it are left in the buttermilk. Out of pity I stop here without more reminiscences so tantalizing to those of us born and bred in Dixie.

Now, to consider this question by the Bible standard of milk for babies and meat for strong men. The Good Book says, "babes have need of milk and not of strong meat," for "strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age." The babies—are you going to feed them this stuff? Shall poor mothers, unable to read the labels, misguided by the looks of the container, and deceived by the retailer, starve the babies? I have used quantities of these milk substitutes in cooking. They make very good custards, the richness of eggs supplying to a sufficient extent the butter fat removed. In the same way they make very good gravies and very good sauces, where fats and thickenings are used in preparing food for grown people. But they are not fit for babies.

Shall we starve babies in America for commercialism? Piteous appeals come to us all the while for the starving children of other lands, to send preserved milk to children in the Near East, to children in Russia. I am positive no filled milk is sent from America to them. Did you ever think of comparing pictures of these starving children with pictures that might be among the helpless little children among the poor people of our great cities, who must depend upon the corner grocery and the tin can for food, whose mothers can not read the label on the can? Think of the babies whose mothers can not give them that wonderful sustenance—breast milk—and must give them instead some other food?

I think, too, of the Indian mothers of our country whose lives are so changed since to many of them a "farce" of civilization came, by which, instead of the old free, outdoor life, with its nature-provided food, they now have the same insidious dangers in the unbalanced foods of so-called civilization to meet, and their dark-eyes babies must be starved, too, the doomed race sooner passing away. Perhaps the greatest number of babies of any one class to be affected are the negro babies of the South.

There are so many would-be reformers in these days who are trying to push the legalizing of birth-control teaching. The sale of this milk should appeal to them, for surely it will dispose of many thousands of "unwanted babies"—not unwanted by their mothers, but unwanted in America, if we may believe the advocates of birth control.

I realize that in this bill there are very dangerous complications so far as possible infractions of the Constitution may be involved. I am not one who would do away with all substitutes. As I have said, filled milk will do for food for adults, but not for babies. For instance, from the vegetable oils of our great Southland, from cotton seed and from peanuts, there come some of the best foods in the fat elements necessary for balance diet that are available. For many years we paid fancy prices for our peanut and cottonseed oils which journeyed over-sea, as many good Americans go, to return with a foreign title, and receive an immediate recognition, where before their value had not been considered.

Even further north, in the corn belt, we have unexcelled vegetable oils that we find may be used more wholesomely than the same grains produced metamorphosed into animal fat by way of the hog.

So I do not wish to be understood as objecting to the sale of substitute products except where we shall starve our babies. I am speaking not as a wise interpreter of the Constitution or of commercial law, but as one who would call attention to the need, if it can not be done by national legislation, of State regulation that will care for the babies.

FOUR CASES BEFORE RECORDER'S COURT

Four cases in the Recorder's Court on Monday morning held the attention of defendants, witnesses and spectators.

The first case before "His Honor" was State against Tom Blacknall, charging him with having whiskey in his possession. The evidence did not justify going into the matter and the case was not prosessed.

The second case was against the same defendant charging him with larceny, and the same entry was made.

The third case was for resisting an officer. He was found guilty and fined twenty dollars and cost.

The fourth case was State against Early Christmas charging him with an assault. This was a "cutting scrape" between two colored boys at the carnival on Saturday night. The evidence was not sufficient to connect Early with the act, and he was found "Not Guilty."

The prize was a pair of shoes given by the Henderson Shoe Company. Corporal Connell also finished second in two other events.

Wrestling, boxing, relay races, company drills, foot races, a band concert, cup fight, and a sham battle were among the features of this big day for the National Guardsmen. The judges of the events were Adjutant-General J. Van B. Metts, and his assistant Major Gordon Smith, both of Raleigh, and former Capt. S. E. Burroughs of Warrenton.

At 7 o'clock all the visiting Guardsmen and Company C, with all officers and the distinguished visitors, and a few invited guests, were treated to a barbecue and banquet at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, where Major J. ## OFFICIALS SEND STRIKE BALLOTS

Senator Watson's Attack on Hoover Leads to Lively
Row in the Senate.

REPORT ON BONUS BILL

Officials of the United Brotherhood of maintenance of way employes and railway shop laborers on Wednesday began preparation of strike ballots to be sent within the next few days to 478,000 members of the organization throughout the country and to the approximately 75,000 non-union men of the crafts who would be effected by a strike.

The brotherhood members, with the non-union men, will be asked to vote on the question of accepting the wage cuts of from one to five cents an hour recently ordered by the United States Railroad Labor Board in Chicago. If a majority of the brotherhood votes in favor of a rejection of the decrease, E. F. Grable, grand president of the brotherhood, with headquarters here, is empowered to issue a strike order immediately, setting the date for the walkout.

Charges made against Secretary Hoover by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, led to a lively row on Wednesday between that Senator and Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, in the course of which the Georgia Senator was admonished by the Vice-President against violation of the Senate rules as to the use of language in the Senate Chamber.

The tilt was precipitated through presentation by Mr. Lenroot of a letter from Mr. Hoover denying assertions made by Mr. Watson that the accounts of the foreign relief organizations under the commerce secretary's direction never had been audited. Mr. Lenroot declared in presenting the letter that "so happens that senators sometimes make statements that are absolutely without foundation," adding that the statement regarding the relief accounts was of that character.

Senator Watson was on his feet instantly, declaring that it was the third time that Mr. Lenroot had attacked him personally and that he was not afraid of the Wisconsin senator "on the floor of the Senate or anywhere else." He then said the Wisconsin senator would have to settle with him personally.

The commonly known McCumber soldier bonus plan was order favorably reported on Wednesday by the Senate Finance Committee. The vote was 9 to 4.

The effective date of the bill was changed, however, from next October 1, to January 1, 1923, after Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, told the majority that it would take six months to get the bonus machinery in operation.

The Smoot plan providing for paid-up life insurance in lieu of all other forms of compensation was defeated by a vote of 8 to 5, the three Democrats present—Simmons, Walsh and

TAXI FLAPPERETTE MAKES HER BOW

Gerry—voting against it. Republicans supporting the Smoot proposal were Senators Smoot, McLean, Finghuysen and Calder. Republicans voting against it were McCumber, Curtis, Watson, Sutherland and LaFollette.

Senator McLean broke the tie which has existed among the Republican members on the vote to report the McCumber plan, which is the House bill with some amendments, including elimination of the land settlement or reclamation project.

Senator Simmons, ranking Democratic member, announced on behalf of the three Democrats present that they voted to report out the McCumber bill only to get action promptly and not because they favored the measure. The Democratic member expressed the belief that the McCumber bill would be of little benefit to the former service men and said the minority reserved the right to offer a new bill in the Senate or to present amendments.

This was enjoyed for two hours.

REV. MORGAN PREACHES BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Speaking from the text, "The Fear of the Lord is the Beginning of Wisdom," Rev. S. L. Morgan of Henderson, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the Warrenton High School Graduates on Sunday morning in the Baptist Church here. The church was filled to hear him. In the absence of Dr. Taylor, Rev. J. T. Gibbs of the Methodist church conducted the services.

Rev. Morgan asked the graduates to continue their education in the colleges. He gave statistics showing how the earning power of the individual was increased by a high school education, and still further increased by a college education. From the government figures he proved conclusively that the continuation in school paid in dollars and cents. He showed from the figures that the leaders of the country were chosen from among the educated men.

Continuing his remarks, he asked the students to get knowledge for knowledge's sake. "There is nothing," he said, "that will so take the conceit out of a person as the realization that he knows little. The more the student learns the more he realizes that he is insignificant besides the marvels of the universe. Any false idea as to his own importance is stripped away. As he constantly strives to improve himself and his surroundings he, through his training, becomes of real service to the world."

He then turned to the spiritual side of higher education. "And now I come to the most important side of higher education," he said. "Educate yourself that you may be of greater service in the advancement of the Master's kingdom. If your education does not teach you love for your Creator, it is in vain. If, as you learn of the marvels of His handiwork, you do not realize His omniscience, your training will be a menace to society. For 'The Fear of the Lord is the Beginning of Wisdom.'"

The address held the close attention of the crowded edifice, and abounded in wisdom, in knowledge and in power.
