

VIEWS DIFFER ON SENATORIAL RACE

Warm Campaign Promises In Bailey-Simmons Fight For U. S. Senatorship

OTHER NEWS OF STATE

By M. L. SHIPMAN

RALEIGH, Jan. 13.—Just as the top event in news of the week last week was the announcement of J. W. Bailey that he would seek the Democratic nomination as United States senator, so the big news of this week-end is the statement from Senator Simmons that he will go after re-election. The senior senator has been expected to do this, but of late there had been a lot of discussion over whether he would carry out his previously announced intention. He now has removed all doubt on the matter, and there will be a bitter fight this spring and summer.

In the meantime, political circles were greatly interested in the reaction to the Bailey candidacy from all sections of the state. A summary of what various leading newspapers had to say is highly interesting. The Winston-Salem Sentinel believes that Bailey will have a task "of colossal proportions" in fighting Simmons. The Fayetteville Observer looks on the Bailey candidacy as tantamount to saying that a man must submerge his convictions when the party is in danger. The Hickory Record expresses a similar thought and has fears for the future of the Democratic party. The Raleigh Times boldly steps out in favor of Bailey while the Greensboro Daily News says the only indictment thus far brought against Simmons is his departure from party regularity after preaching it for 30 years. The Henderson Dispatch regrets the race because it sees a revival of the bitterness of 1928.

The Winston-Salem Journal can see nothing but a great Simmons majority if his friends stand by the senior senator. The Charlotte Observer is an out and out supporter of Simmons, but says that if he is not re-elected it will be because a Republican will take his place. The Wilmington Star feels that the decision to place party loyalty above principle is unwise. The Durham Herald feels that Bailey is a good man and will get great support. The Greensboro Daily Record says that another opportunity is presented to smash the Simmons machine which many hoped was smashed in 1928 when the Senator "bolted," but this paper, which was probably the most outspoken supporter of Governor Smith in 1928, refrains at this time from taking any side in the Democratic primary race. The Wilson Times thinks the primary will iron out the wrinkles within the party. The Charlotte News evidently does not think highly of the Bailey candidacy but The Rocky Mount Telegram is outspoken in its approval of Mr. Bailey's entry. The Washington Daily News thinks Simmons is going to be greatly surprised by the strength of the opposition to him, while the Kinston Free Press does not welcome Mr. Bailey into the arena.

Gardner Serves First Year
During the week Governor Gardner passed the first milestone of his four years in the executive chair, and a review of what has been accomplished was printed. The Governor believes the greatest contribution of his administration thus far has been increase in the equalizing fund for public schools. News writers think the greatest problem has been the labor situation in textile areas. It is generally agreed that the governor handled it in a fair manner, though not at all satisfactory to extremists of either side, which was to be expected.

The executive committee of the North Carolina Bar association had a meeting to plan for entertainment of the executive committee of the American Bar association, which will meet in Asheville, January 20-21. There will be a big dinner for the lawyers. The meeting of this past week also planned for the annual meeting of the State bar association to be held at Pinehurst May 1-3 and Henry London was sent to Washington to try and get a speaker of national prominence for the meeting. During the week Governor Gardner let it be known that he would extend executive clemency to Foster L. Parsons of Richmond county, who killed two negroes in 1920 and received a 20-year sentence. Governor Gardner reduced the penalty to fifteen years and with time off for good behavior the prisoner will receive his freedom in a few months. John P. Stedman, a local man, is one of those promoted in the recent annual meeting of the North Carolina Bank and Trust Company. He goes from the post of cashier to that of vice-president

Girl Communists Storm Embassy

This group of girls was arrested, but later released, for participating in a Communist demonstration in front of the Mexican embassy in Washington recently. They were among a group of 50 young Communists who demanded the release of 30 members of the Communist party claimed to be prisoners in Mexico. Want More Livestock
Livestock dealers of the south had an inspiring meeting here during the week, the idea being to press for greater livestock activities in the south. The new tobacco co-op got to a start when the organizing committee for the entire state was named. This will immediately begin to get members

SARGON'S FAME SPREADING OVER ENTIRE WORLD

People Of This Country Sending Famous Medicine To Relatives and Friends In England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Canal Zone, Norway, Sweden, Cuba and Many Other Distant Lands.

If you had found a medicine that was of such benefit to you that you would go to the trouble of sending it to relatives and friends in distant countries, you would have to be convinced in your own mind that it possessed real merit, wouldn't you?
That's just what thousands of people throughout the United States have been doing with Sargon.

From all over America and wherever Sargon has been introduced, thousands of letters have been received from grateful users telling of the gratifying results that have been accomplished by this celebrated medicine.

THOUSANDS EXPRESS GRATITUDE
On November 27th, a letter dated November 23rd, was received at the Sargon offices advising that in one week one drug firm alone had received orders for Sargon to be shipped to Cavite, Philippine Island; Coca-Solo, Canal Zone; Belem, Brazil; and Paris, France.

Only recently a well-known resident of Denver, Colorado, who had been restored to health by Sargon, sent a full treatment to London, England, to his sister, who is the wife of an executive of one of the greatest retail drug firms in the British Empire.

During the past month there appeared in the Toronto papers the statement of a well-known World War veteran whose health had been greatly impaired while in the service, who stated among other things, that he owed his restoration to health to two bottles of Sargon sent him by a friend in Minneapolis.

LETTERS RECEIVED FROM THE NORTHWEST
From the Northwest, many letters of this kind have been received advising that users of Sargon are sending it to relatives back in their old countries of Norway and Sweden.

Many such letters and endorsements have been received from men of prominence, including former governors, business and professional men, mayors, state and county officials, and even Ministers of the Gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell what Sargon has done for them.

These are only a few of thousands of such cases and not a day nor a week passes that does not bring hundreds of statements from the people concerning the good this medicine is doing, and reciting case after case that would convince the most skeptical.

Sargon's fame is built on actual results—not empty promises, and only those who have put it to the test know its real powers.

Sargon's aim is not mere temporary relief, but new and abundant health. No wonder it is now called the medicine with a million friends.

a proposal to establish a branch of the textile school at Charlotte. A group of them will go to Charlotte this week to meet with a committee and canvass the matter. In addition closer co-operation between the school and the textile industry will be considered. The Wake county health department has started a drive having for its purpose the greater drinking of milk by all citizens of the county, but especially by the children. It is believed success in such a move will mean a great deal for the health of the entire county.

Efforts are being continued to have locks placed in Currituck sound for the protection of hunting and fishing. The locks would prevent the salt water from rising into fresh water, said rising being responsible at the present time for widespread destruction of birds and fish using the fresh water.

Political Prophecies
Political gossip arriving here reported to the Raleigh Times that J. W. Bailey will defeat Senator Simmons in Eastern North Carolina and probably will carry the great Fifth district but that he will have a hard battle on his hands to win the other Piedmont and Western territory. At the same time the name of the man who will carry the Republican standard is still in doubt, although Judge I. M. Meekins has been mentioned. A general reduction in crime in Raleigh was reported for the last year when compared with 1928, according to figures released. There was a marked drop in arrests for drunkenness.

There are now 861 public high schools operating in North Carolina, according to the latest report of educational authorities; 708 of these are in rural communities while the balance of 153 are in the cities. Last Monday Mrs. Neva Paris, nationally known aviatrix, made a speech before the American Business Club of Raleigh. She described in vivid terms her profession and was received enthusiastically by the men. After the meeting she took a couple of young ladies of the city on a ride in her plane. Last Tuesday she crashed and was killed in Georgia. The North Carolina engineers society will meet here January 24-25 and plans are now being made for their entertainment.

Agent Recommends Ample Pasturage

"We urge that sufficient pasturage be sown to care for all farm animals, using good land conveniently located," W. O. Davis, county agent, said yesterday in discussing a farm program for Halifax county. "See your county agent for a mixture for your particular land. "Wherever practical some form of livestock should be added to the present system of farming, such as dairying, sheep, beef cattle, hogs or poultry.

"We urge that all feeds for livestock be grown on the farm. As a spring hay crop sow oats or barley with vetch or clover. As a summer crop sow soy beans of a hay variety such as Laredo, etc.

"For certain communities we recommend co-operative shipment of hogs grown and marketed according to the Shay Method. Pork producers should be careful to watch timely breeding, sanitation and parasites.

"Where suitable pasture lands for summer grazing and cover crops for winter grazing are available, sheep production proves profitable, especially the production of early lambs for mutton. We recommend either Shropshire, South-down or Hampshire breeds as best adapted to our county. Great care must be taken as to timely breeding, control of parasites and diseases.

"We recommend that 50 to 100 hens of a standard meat breed kept on each farm. They must be properly fed and housed.

"We recommend that 4-H Club work be encouraged in order that interest in farm life among the boys and girls be developed.

"Since the Federal Government has taken such a decided stand towards co-operative marketing of farm products we urge that farmers, bankers, and all interested in agriculture support co-operative selling for the mutual benefit of all.
