Our Policy As To LOANS

This bank's policy is very definitely and clearly stated as to loans.

Our Directors do not assume to dictate the business of our customers, but they do take the position that it is their duty to pass upon the credit worth and financial strength of every borrower of the bank's funds.

Experience has demonstrated, especially since the advent of the boll weevil, and the uncertainty of seasons and crops, that loans should not be made, no matter how good the security, if we think the proceeds of such loans will be used in a way that will require us to realize on the security pledged to repay the loan.
