WIND PRIMARY County Receives $59,926.76 From

The State Equalization fund for Waren county, as announced yesterday by Superintendent of schools J. Edward Allen, for the year 1930-31 is $59,926.76, compared with $58,-323.20 for the previous year.

The equalization fund is based upon the salary budget of $97,471.72 plus 10 per cent for supplies and $12,294 for transpotation. The state requires the county to provide $59,-586.13 to participate in the budget. This is based on the budget of two years ago, with the exception of money spent for transpotation.

Superintendent Allen said that the valuation for Waren county as determined for equalization purposes was placed at $16,684,224, when as a mater of fact the county valuation is $13,500,000.

Board of Health

RALEIGH, June 12. - Taking cognizance of 16 cases of typhoid fever reported in the State during the week ending June 9, officials of the State Board of Health are moving promptly to check or, if possible, stamp out this disease before it gains headway in the State this

The 16 cases of fever reported for last week compared with five cases for the week before and twelve for the corresponding week of last year, it was shown by figures released by Dr. A. B. Town officials and other interested citizens have been busy trying to locate a landing field as near Warrenton as possible since government representatives were here a few weeks ago and announced that Warrenton was on the direct airline of the proposed mail route to South America as surveyed by Col. Charles Lindbergh and that the government would want to establish an emergency field in this neighborhood. Government plans call for these fields every 30 miles of the route to be lighted by beacon lights. These fields require about 70 acres and the government plans to spend several thousand dollars in the establishment of each.

E. E. Gillam was named chairman of a committee to aid the government representative in locating a field at a meeting of the town commisioners on June 2. Other members of the committee were J. B. Massenburg and H. A. Moseley. Mr. Gillam accompanied Mr. Chapman to the proposed site yesterday. He said that he understood that the government proposed to lease the site if it proved to be suitable, and that Mr. Dameron had agreed to the
