DAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1930

Warrenton, North Carolina

THE WARREN RECORD

PAGE 5

Birds That We Know RED-HEADED WOODPECKER

nd is a very important matter that as well as with girls and that as must have something to a they cannot live long. Birds a find their food during the an find their food during the around in this part of the around in this part of the ar will stay here, and if they ar will stay here, and if they ar ind it the only thing for a do is to go where they can. is why the red-headed inerser is to be seen sometimes et here in the woods during the Thise were years when the res had lots of acorns on and the red-heads had to last. They usually stay all in woods where there are tress for they like beech by are not often seen in cities mages from October to April. great they came back the very s day of March, but something soil brought them. They had de a nest in a large maple tree t d a school house. The girls t boys played around under the but they seemed to think of as a protection. At any rate the chiseled out a fine nestplace, working hard and making dips fly as they brought them the opening and shook their the real shook their took s and one worked as hard as ther. They had to leave that alter the young cnes had away, but it seems that they steed it such a fine place that manted to use it again the next a else they wanted to be near gis and boys and watch them Maybe they liked the noise. by came back more than a t earlier than they usually They may have had that nest minds all winter. But they nome early enough to avoid English sparrows did not the red-heads wanted their min for they usually make a me each year. But they did this one and they turned the nas out and held it for their sheaded woodpeckers are thi to look at and interesting ath They are red, white and the black is such a

The woodpecker has a red head, and it is a deep bright red. Only the male bird has a red head. He is on the right hand side of picture. His eye is black, the bill is dark warm grey. The breast is light bluish grey and the back, tail and wings are of a bluish black color. The spot in center of wings is a light grey, almost have ever seen to get any figures white.

The female bird is the large bird on the left hand side of picture. show the feathers. There is also a white patch on wings, same as on entire county. "You can get results from the voting booths. male birds.

The two smaller birds flying should be colored as described. The than you can in Warren," he added bird flying nearest the trunk of the tree is the male bird.

and inland fisheries laws were obtained by wardens during the months of August and September, according to a report made thisweek by State Game Warden C. H. England.

These violations, according to the State warden, cost the offenders $6,668 in fines and court costs. Of this amount $5,030 represents court costs and$1.638 fines.

Prosecutions on charges of viclations of the conservation laws increase more than 50 per cent in September over the number in the previous month, last month showing 386 and 226 being carried out in August. This increase, it is pointed out, came about largely through the opening of the first hunting seasons in September.

Fishing violations predominated in number auring August but with the closing of seasions on angling in part of the State, this type of violation dropped off in September. Fishing viclations were brought on a variety of charges including the employment of illegal means of taking undersized fish, and fishing without license.

Game law violations included hunting without license, hunting out of season, and others.

"There is nobcdy any gladder than I am," John W. Allen, Confederate Veteran of Warrenton, said Wednesday morning, referring to the Democratic landslide of Tuesday, Mr. Allen lived here during Reconstruction days and his cpinion of the Republican party is pretty low.

He was not the only citizen glad to hear the news. Many faces wore morning-and some of them have not worn off yet.

frcm all over the country easier than you can in warren, ne added and told of his trip to the court ton bonded me the following of Warren. If I choose to follow the fashion, the North Carolina State Fair.

One of the first official acts of Judge Edward S. Mathias, newly elected Commander-in-Chief of the United Spanish War Veterans was broad grins on the streets that to endorse the annual Forget-Me-Not Appeal conducted by and for the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. While attending the recent National Convention of the G. A. R. in Cincinnati, he was presented with a bouquet of Forget-Me-Nots by Mrs. Charles Wolf, Com-"This is the hardest election I mander of the D. A. V. Auxiliary in Cincinnati.

on," Edward Petar of Ridgeway Tuesday and Wednesday kept peo-Mrs. M. G. Taylor, and the poem commented Wednesday after I told ple from traveling and in some of will no doubt bring to many happy warm brown grey. The wings are dark brown with some black lines to him I did not have returns for the the precincts telephones are far remembrances of days when she FASHION

Unless you wish to help me out, when I have the bills to pay.

I'll have followers galore, when I lead the style this fall, With a pretty brown georgette gown, and no petticoat at all: Dcn't criticize my slit skirt, I care not if you do,

So if it's slit up to the knee-pray what is that to you.

My hose I'll have of silk; in brown. and the brownest little boot, That'll fit so snug and look so cute, on my dainty little foot. Then if you do not like the style, what can your reason be? I'll let you think just what you will; t'will be all the same to me.

I really wonder what you'll say, when I don my latest gown, The neck of which is cut so low; it's almost half way down, And if I choose to wear it so, and I surely think I do, If it's cut clear to the waist line, pray what is that to you. -M. G. 'Taylor.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

H. A. Manning to N. A. Manning, 6 1-2 acres in Judkins township; Hugh L. Coleman to John P. Neville, 1 acre in Hawtree township; J. E. Banzet, successor trustee, to Eliza J. Polk and others, two lots in Warrenton township, No. 1, 41 1-2 acres, No. 2, 52 7-8 acres; H. A. Manning to S. B. Wilson, 25 acres near Vaughan; Lucy W. Leete to C. C. Perkinson, 34 acres in Hawtree township; Fannie Basket and husband to L. O. Reavis, one acre in Nutbush township; H. L. Falkener and wife to Nannie J. Moseley, one lot in Warrenton.

Hugh L. Coleman and wife to Sophrania Dell Neville, two acres in Hawtree township; Thomas Connell to C. T. Bowers and cthers, filling station on Warrenton, Liberia and Macon Road; W. T. Polk et als to Eliza J. Polk and cthers, 51 1-2 acres in Warrenton township; S. G. Daniel, trustee, to J. W. Cook, 4 acres in Vaughan; H. F. Bonney to Jesse Bonney, two lots in Littleton; W. G. Egerton and wife to Henry Shearin, two acres in Sixpound township; H. F. Bonney to S. J. Barthclomess, lot in Littleton.

Five carloads of beef cattle have been shipped to Hyde County by Alieghany county growers to be wintered on the swamp reeds of that eastern county.

Ava Absher, 4-H club boy of Gaston County, had the best ten-ear sample of corn in the club show at

