The question of who is to pay the bill caused the hitch in the proceedings. Bob Paschall, representing Wise, and J. C. Johnson, Director of A warrant charging kidnapping Local Government, in a letter to has been changed to white slavery John Clay Powell, read to 'he audit would have to be paid by the

In the event that these districts must pay for the audits, it will mean a 5 cent increase in their tax rate next year, Superintendent J. Edward Allen stated when asked the questioned by Commissioner John L. Skinner.

A motion by Commissioner Skinner that the audit be ordered and to be paid by the county or the districts, as shall be determined by authoritative official, and seconded by Commissioner Capps, struck a snag when Commissioner Fleming of Norlina and Commissioner Burroughs of Warrenton stated that taxpayers from these districts had told them they did not want such an audit if the cost had to be borne by the districts.

It was pointed out that charges of misappropriation and misuse of funds and talk of grand jury action had gone so far that in justic to Superintendent Allen and the board of education such audit should be held. Chairman Powell stated that he realized this fact but that inasmuch as the representatives of the payment by the districts, he felt it a shame to put any more tax on the citizens of these districts.

Stating that he did not believe taxpayers of the Norlina district wanted the books audited, if they had to pay for the same, Commissioner John H. Fleming cast his vote against Commissioner Skinner's motion.

Commissioner Burroughs requested that the County Attorney be asked to give his opinion as to who would have to bear the cost of the audits. Mr. Banzet held that the Norlina and Wise districts would be taxed with the cost, holding that it would not be fair for the county as a whole to pay for audit for a special district.

Commissioner Burroughs added his vote for the audit upon condition that action be delayed until after the first Monday in May in order that taxpayers might have an opportunity to make their position upon this matter clear to the board. Unless strong protest is raised by the taxpayers on the first Monday in May the audit will begin on Wednesday following.

The minute ordering the audit of the Norlina and Wise special school district books reads, "Motioned by Commissioner Skinner that the affairs of the Norlina special school district and bond account and the Wise special school district be audited; and that this audit shall be made from the beginning of the respective special tax levies or Norlina and Wise, or to such point that the authenticated disbursement vouchers can be located; that the audititor be requested to begin May 4. 1932."
