That Justice May Ever Have A Champion; That Evil Shall Not Flourish Unchallenged.

Entered at the Postoffice at Warrenton, North Carolina, under Act of Congress of 1879.

It is good that a man should both hope and quickly wait for the salvation of the Lord.— Lamentations 3:26.

It is better to live forever in the grateful memory of one true heart than to float for a little hour on the highest crest of fame.—Charles C. Albertson.

We extend to Editor J. C.
Hardy of the Norlina Headlight our sincere sympathy in the loss of his wife. It was not our privilege to have known Mrs. Hardy, but for years she had been a loyal helpmeet in the vicissitudes of life of a country newspaper editor.

EUGENE S. ALLEN, A TRIBUTE

Fewer men have left a deeper impression in the life of the town than did Eugene S. Allen.

For nearly 50 years he made Warrenton his home.
A conservative, in his business life he built soundly and so conducted his own business that his services were eagerly sought in other enterprises as a director. He lived so unostentatiously that often his name was omitted from the list of Warrenton's wealthy, and yet no doubt he was one of the wealthiest men of the town.

While Mr. Allen was a conservative, he was in no sense a pessimist. He built a reputation for sound business judgment and many a young man starting in business obtain the habit of dropping in on Mr. Allen to talk over his affairs and to ask advice. If Mr. Allen did not know, he frankly said so. When he did advise, it was sympathetic, never dogmatic.

For more than 20 years he conducted a Bible class at the Warrenton Baptist church, and even as his influence will live in the business life of the town, so will he live in the hearts and in the conduct of the hundreds that he instructed toward a higher life.

WHILE THE PUBLIC PAYS
Greensboro Daily News.

Thanks to the big-hearted, although somewhat mysterious, cooperation of Senator Burton K.
Wheeler, the oratorical masterpiece prepared by Dr. Joseph I. France for delivery at the Republican convention, where he aimed to place Calvin Coolidge in nomination for the presidency but was thwarted by an obstepserous chairman and sergeant-at-arms, has been given to the public, or at least that portion thereof fortunate enough to be included on a select mailing list.

The France speech which was never uttered is now going out as a reprint from the Congressional Record and under the frank of the Democratic senator from Montana, although there is a notation, in bold type, that the leaflet was "not printed at government expense." The element of mystery enters in, however, with the revelation that the document, although emanating from Washington, bear a Hyattsville, Md., postmark. Naturally wonderment centers around the question as to whether they were issued at the instance of Senator Wheeler or Dr. France, who is recalled as a one-man campaigner for the G. O.
P. nomination which was accorded Mr. Hoover. But let the Baltimore Sun, speaking through its Washington bureau, take up the speculation here:

If issued by Dr. France, the question arose as to how he was able to make use of Senator Wheeler's franking privilege. It is sued by Senator Wheeler, recipients wondered if he bore the expense of publication and why the documents were posted at Hyattsville.

Senator Wheeler was reported to be in Montana and attaches of his office said they knew nothing about the matter beyond the fact that the leaflet had gone out, and under the senator's frank. They said they learned this only when some of the undelivered copies were returned to the senator's office at the capitol.

There is no particular point in citing the incident other than to reveal the sort of burdens which the postal service has to carry gratis while a public which has long since learned to count its pennies is compelled to pay three cents a letter in a herculean effort to get the department out of the red.

Retrospective

The Warren Record five years ago said:—Quite a number of relatives of Miss Lucy Cole Powell attended a reception given Miss Powell by Miss Lucy Cheatham of Henderson on Thursday afternoon. Miss Powell is to wed Mr. Armstead Burwell, in October.

Mrs. Katherine P. Arrington sailed Friday on the George Washington for Europe. She is expected home October 1st.

Mr. Fred Royster of Henderson was in town yesterday.

Flames wrecked three wooden stores, formerly occupied by N. P.
Marks, the Warrenton Shoe Shop, and Powell's Cafe here on Saturday. Fire raged for virtually three hours following an explosion around a dry cleaning roof in the House and Harris pressing shop around 10 o'clock.

Mr. Boyd Davis returned Monday night from Washington, D. C., where he has been undergoing treatment for seven weeks at Veterans' Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Porter, Misses Elizabeth Stuart, and Lucy Marshall Johnson of Raleigh visited in the home of the Misses Hall and Mrs.
L. T. Johnson recently.

Mrs. Gid Macon returned from a visit to Mrs. Moses Winston of Greensboro.

IN LITTLE OLD
NEW YORK
CARL H. GETZ

There are tobacco shops in New York which sell cigars for women, made especially for them. And they sell 'em.

Now and then you will see on the streets of New York motor cars equipped with colored tires to match the colors of the bodies.

A shopper here in New York has been trying to get a parrot with an old-fashioned vocabulary and finds it impossible. Plenty of birds are available, and some of them are fine talkers, but none of them swear. Inquiry among pet shop reveals the cause. It is all the fault of the radio. If songs and patter are not coming from a radio in the pet shop, they drift in from adjoining stores or houses. The young birds, fresh from Mexico, cuth America or Africa, at first utter only the cries of their native jungle. But soon they pick up shop talk and radio music and a customer who wants a sailor's bird is disappointed when his prospective pet gurgles, "You'll just adore those love birds," or "Let's have another cup of coffee."

The vogue for keeping tropical fish in the home has developed recently to the point where these pets seem likely to vie with the cat and the canary. Pet shops here report that business is pretty good.

There is a department store in New York selling aluminum tea kettles with a whistle attached to the spout. As the water boils it whistles.

L. H. Wadsworth lives at 351 Wadsworth Avenue and his telephone number is Wadsworth 3-3096.

New York requires a daily supply of from 20 to 25 carloads of spinach.

There is a famous restaurant in New York known as Dinty Moore's.
It is operated by an Irishman but specializes in favorite Jewish dishes.

On a recent day when a certain New York department store advertised extensively a big bargain sale, 26,000 persons were carried in the elevators of the store every hour for four hours.

A New York newspaper reporter was given an assignment to learn whether there is a family on Manhattan Island which keeps live chickens. Only one has been found up in the Bronx.

MOSTLY PERSONAL

By BIGNALL JONES

We are downright sorry that Colonel William T. Felts went to the trouble and needless expense of buying us a watermelon, following our comment two weeks ago, but at the same time confess that it was an unusually good one. Upon opening this establishment early last week we found a nice melon lying at our door. We were going to mention it last week, but before going to press, Judge W. W. Taylor, of Recorder's court renown, dropped in on us complaining about buying a melon and the man delivering it at the wrong place. We decided to keep quiet.

Since our last paper, Colonel Felts saw us on the street and told us that he had left a melon at our door. Thus the mystery was cleared up and our conscience salved about eating Judge Taylor's melon. And now since it turned out that way, we suggest that the man that got Judge's melon, refund His Honor's money.

We are also sorry that we got Mr. Wirt Halthcock's name wrong in our last issue. It sounded like Worth to us and so Worth we wrote it.

"Put it in the paper that I have just returned to Warrenton after visiting in Bertie county for some time." Bruce Howell said yesterday as I met him on the street.

Bruce has been visiting his uncle, Mr. E. D. Spruill, at Windsor and his friends have missed seeing him on the streets driving his miniature automobile won in a popularity contest conducted by the Hunter Drug Co., several months ago.

"Bertie is all right," Bruce called as a parting shot, "but I am here to say that there is no place like Warrenton."

Catawba County poultry growers are capitalizing their cockerels instead of selling them at the prevailing price of ten cents a pound.

J. Gordon Blake, formerly assistant county agent in Beaufort county, has been appointed county agent of McDowell county.

Weekly Bible Lesson

By DR. J. T. GIBBS

The way of peace they know not and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made their own crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace.—Isaiah 58:80.

When one buys a complicated machine he has a man from the factory to show him how to use it.
The most delicate machine we have occasion to use is the human body, and in the body is a soul—the most wonderful of all God's creations. A reaper or a loom costing only a few hundred dollars must be carefully explained that no hurt may come in using it; but a human life above all price is often experimented with. And yet the owner of that life can never get another if he ruin
it.

The maker of this article of supreme value gives a book of instructions—the Bible—and ministers skilled in its use—complete instructions are easily available. The opened eye sees the way of peace.
They avoid "crooked ways" and take their place among the pure, the holy, the righteous.

It is the nature of the human body to be strong and free from pain when the laws of health are observed. And there are requirements to be met for the well-being of the soul. Those refusing to obey the law put themselves beyond its protection. Unwise in judgment they prefer the pleasures of sin for a season to the self-sacrificing life required by Him to whom Eternity is an open book.

How different the life of him directed by the great search life of truth. There may be mysteries of science he cannot fathom, perplexities of business he cannot untangle, but he follows divine instructions given him in the Bible. And he knows that some good day the blood of Christ will wash away the grime and sweat of his earthly journey, array him in robes of righteousness and that he shall be welcomed to a heavenly mansion.

Can intelligent men and women compare the way of the wicked that perisheth here to that of the righteous which endureth forever and be in doubt which they should choose?

Shall the choice for life's voyage be the babbling of a tiny brook or the majestic current of a mighty river?

The way of life, we are told, is so plain that even a fool cannot err therein. It is easy to see that the law of the land must be observed, and that the poor must be cared for.
It is not difficult to know that we are weak and sinful, and conceive of One outside ourself that is mighty to save, and of the increase of whose government and peace there shall be no end.

There are those who turn aside to enjoy each passing pleasure, sip each sinful sweet and unremember-ed fall asleep. Grasping in the dark for roses they are sure to encounter thorns. It takes alertness to avoid pain. Besides, our sensibilities may be deadened but the breath of sinful pleasure cannot bestow the peace which the world can neither give nor take away.

Christ says, "Peace, my peace, I give unto you." When the world went utterly wrong and the church became utterly corrupt, God interposed with a marvelous redemption He sent His message: "Peace on earth, good will toward men." God

This Woman Lost
64 Pounds of Fat

Mrs. H. Price of Woodside, L. I. writes: "A year ago I weighed 190 lbs.
I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 126 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 yrs. old than the mother of 2 children, one of 19 and the other 18. My friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."
To lose fat SAFELY and HARM-LESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but—don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen.
If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

so loved the world, and so loves it yet, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. And so Christ is not only the way, he is also the truth, warrior are determined by those of his enemy. Each attack must be met and repulsed, if possible. To flee the combat is to allow the enemy to destroy unopposed. But in peace one centers on the most re-sirable and plans to attain a fixed goal—and that the best.

Thus God offers to befriend, to guide, to renew—to make us willing to minister to others. Those who accept this offer, and those who know "the way of peace."
