

NEARLY $200 IS RAISED IN TOWN

Results In Other Sections Of Warren Not Reported;
Drive To Continue

COUNTY QUOTA IS $700

Nearly $200 has been raised in the town of Warrenton for the Red Cross to raise its quota of $700. Results in other sections of Warren county have not been made known to the county. The county Roll Call Chairman Stephen Burroughs said yesterday. The Roll Call will proceed throughout the week.

Following a meeting of local Red Cross workers at the courthouse on Thursday night of last week, canvassers met at the Episcopal church on Sunday afternoon from which they went to the homes of the town soliciting memberships. The Roll Call at Warrenton was in charge of E. G. Allen.

As a result of the drive on Sunday afternoon $151 was collected. Young ladies of the town, dressed as Red Cross Nurses, collected $38 in the drug stores here on Monday. This amount, with donations from persons missed on the Roll Call on Sunday afternoon carried the total to $182. Other memberships are expected to be turned in within the next few days to carry the town's membership to the $200 mark. One-half of the money collected in the county will be turned over to the charity chest to be used by Lucy Leach, Welfare Officer, for relief work. The other half will be sent to National Headquarters at Washington.

Mixed Signals Cause Gridders' Defeat

By JIM POLK

In a shower of rain John Graham and Scotland Neck played through a game which seemed to Warrenton until the last few seconds when mixed signals were the ball to the wrong man, resulting in a fumble which Scotland Neck downed behind the Warrenton goal.

Scotland Neck scored the first touchdown but failed to kick the extra point, holding a 6-0 lead over Warrenton until Charles Lee Terrell crossed the line for Warrenton and passed to Gordon Halthcock for the dominating point practically insuring the victory for Warrenton. With the odds about 100 to 1 on Warrenton a miracle happened and the ball was presented to Scotland Neck without a struggle just eight seconds before the game ended.

This game was certainly the closest that Warrenton has played this season and also the first game played under the handicap of rain. By Halthcock and Jack Rigan also some nice running and the whole team played fine football especially after the first half. It is hoped that Warrenton will be able to get a game with the big Henderson team. Negotiations are under way and it may be that Coaches Mayfield and Bright will line up a team against the "A" Henderson team and we'll see the best game yet!

Deprive President's Appointive Powers

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Nov. 22.—Senator James F. Byrnes, of South Carolina, has launched an offensive which if successful will deprive President Hoover of his appointive powers immediately.

The Senator announced here he would ask the first Democratic caucus after the Senate convenes next week to refuse confirmation of any recess appointments made by the President, or any appointment between now and March 4, in order that Franklin D. Roosevelt may, as far as possible, fill every office, even down to the postmasterships, according to his own liking.

President-elect Roosevelt should have the privilege of appointing persons to serve in his administration, and on whom he will depend for the success of his administration, Byrnes said.

Fire Damages Ricks Home At Macon

Fire caused by an over-heated stove damaged the home of Miss Lucy Ricks at Macon on Tuesday morning. Although one room was badly damaged before the flames were extinguished, the home was saved.

The rumor reached Warrenton that the entire town of Macon was burning down and many from here traveled to the neighboring town to view the scene and lend assistance.

Skillman Joins In Search For Pilot Of Lost Mail Plane

J. S. Buckman, mail pilot who wings his way over Warrenton each night, was forced to jump from his plane early Saturday morning near Rock Hill, S. C., after he had flown off his course on account of heavy clouds and his gasoline supply being exhausted, according to a story carried in Saturday's Raleigh Times.

Word that the mail plane was lost was received here at 4:30 o'clock on Saturday morning by E. A. Skillman, local weather observer, when he was called from Raleigh and notified that the plane had failed to reach that point after leaving Richmond at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Skillman, thinking it possible that the plane had been forced down on the emergency field near Warrenton, made a hurried trip to that point only to find that such was not the case. He said that at 8:45 the night before that he had wired Richmond field that the clouds over Warrenton were 300 feet high, visibility three miles, that the temperature here was 47 degrees and that the wind was blowing from the Northeast at the rate of four miles an hour.

Mr. Skillman explained that in the daytime he had to estimate the height of clouds, but at night with the aid of a light beam and scale it was possible to obtain measurement of clouds within ten feet of actual distance. He also added that when the clouds were as low as 300 feet it was forbidden for passengers to ride in planes but that pilots could use their own discretion. He said that the pilot was afraid to fly under the clouds because of the danger of striking a hill or other obstacle and that when he arose above the clouds he was unable to see the beacon lights that marked his course.

The Associated Press account of the plane crash as carried in the Raleigh Times is as follows:

Rock Hill, S. C., Nov. 19.—J. S. Buckman, piloting the Eastern Air Transport mail from Richmond to Jacksonville took to his parachute 16 miles south of here early today when he became lost in a heavy fog, leaving his plane to crash somewhere in the vicinity. Buckman landed safely.

Buckman telephoned E. T. A. officials in Charlotte and then started out to search for the plane which was found wrecked but with the mail safe about three miles from where the pilot jumped.

Buckman said he drained his tanks of gasoline to prevent possibility of fire and then jumped, landing four miles from Edgemoor near the farm of A. G. Westbrook from whose home he sent word to Charlotte.

Buckman said he was far off his route and became lost when the radio beams from Spartanburg cut in on the beams from Charleston. He said he flew about until his gasoline gave out and then was forced to jump from 7,000 feet.

Buckman, who is from Jacksonville, was flying the coast route and said he attempted to head inland in order to escape a possible landing at sea.

Has 100th Birthday; Turned Down In 1861

WAMPVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 23.—John Smith, who couldn't fight for his county in 1861 because his health was "poor," was the guest of 57 relatives at his one hundredth birthday party. Mr. Smith tried to enlist three times in the Union Army during the Civil War. Each time he was told that his health was not good enough.

"I'm the biggest kid here," Mr. Smith commented energetically, as he waved his hand in a circle at his younger relatives.

Sterling Stanbury Dies On Monday

Funeral services for Sterling Stanbury, well known character of the county home, were held on Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment took place in the old Williams burying ground.

Mr. Stanbury died Saturday. He was about 75 years of age and had been at the county institution for the past twenty or twenty-five years.

9,258 Bales Cotton Ginned In Warren

There were 9,258 bales of cotton ginned in Warren county, from the crop of 1932 prior to Nov. 14, 1932, as compared with 15,426 bales ginned to Nov. 14, 1931, figures released this week reveal.

Economics Class Gives Entertainment

Members of the County Board of Commissioners, the Board of Education and the School Board were entertained by the Home Economics Department of the John Graham High School at a five course turkey dinner on Monday night.

Talks were made by Supt. J. Edward Allen and Principle J. B. Miller. Mr. Allen spoke briefly along the line of the practicability of vocational work in the high school, and Mr. Miller spoke of the efficient service the cafeteria is rendering the school.

Music was furnished by Miss Drusa Wilker of the Norlina school and Miss Elizabeth Rodwell. Miss Ruby Connell acted as host and Miss Frances Reid as hostess. The guests were called upon individually for speeches.

The financing, preparing and serving were entirely done by the Home Economics department, under the direction of Miss Annie Laurie Herring.

Anderson Kearny Dies On Wednesday

Anderson Kearny, well known and respected negro of Warrenton died at his home here Wednesday morning. He was 97 years of age.

"Uncle Anderson," as he was known to the white people of the community was formerly a slave of the late William Kearny Williams. A favorite story of the old darkey that he liked to recount was how he walked from Shady Grove neighborhood in this county to Raleigh in search of work making the trip in one day. His food consisted of hardtack dropped along the railroad tracks by Union troops. That night he slept in an empty box car and returned to Warren county the next day, remaining in the service of the Williams family the remainder of his life. He was unusually active for a man of his age until about a year ago when his health began to fail.

"Tip" Green Taken For Ride That Leads To Recorder's Court

"Tip" Green, Warrenton negro, was carried for a ride by Special Prohibition Enforcement Officer Edward Davis and Deputy John Carey Davis on Saturday afternoon. On Monday morning he was brought into Recorder's court to face trial on a charge of possessing and transporting whiskey.

Judge Taylor found Green guilty and fined him $5 and costs, and gave him a three months road sentence which was suspended provided he pay his fine and costs and remain in good behavior.

According to evidence Green was on his way home when he was offered a ride by the special officers. Special Officer Davis testified that bottles bulged out of his clothes. He was searched and a pint bottle and two quart bottles of booze were found. Arrest followed.

John Lee, negro, was found guilty of larceny and was sentenced to jail, assigned to work the roads for a period of three months.

C. A. Davis, white tenant, was found not guilty of disposing of property without notice.

A jury has been drawn for Monday to try Jewel Gray, white man arrested several weeks ago by special prohibition officers. He is charged with possessing and transporting whiskey.

Five "First Ladies" Are Still Living

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—While the strain of being President is apt to wreck the health of any man, no matter how robust, the task of serving as "First Lady," it would seem, is an assurance of long life.

There are now living five women who once presided over the Executive Mansion. Calvin Coolidge is the only living ex-President.

Mrs. Frances Folsom Cleveland Preston heads the list of "First Ladies" in seniority, but not in age. She was very young when she married President Cleveland in a White House ceremony.

Other living wives of ex-Presidents are Mrs. William Howard Taft, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Roosevelt who celebrated her seventy-first birthday not long ago. Except for Mrs. William McKinley and Mrs. Warren G. Harding the White House goes back nearly half a century.

Mrs. James H. Hicks Is Buried At Sharon

Funeral services for Mrs. James H. Hicks, 71, of Wise, were conducted at the Sharon cemetery on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Walker, Baptist minister.

Mrs. Hicks died at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning. She had been an invalid for a number of years.

Pallbearers were Fred Hicks, John Hicks, Glenn Perkinson, Holt Perkinson, Jimmie White, Evans Coleman.

Mrs. Hicks is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. E. D. Keykendall of Greensboro, J. E. and Emmanuel Lehman of Richmond, Va., and Lewis Lehman of Tyron, N. C.

Mrs. J. R. Alford Claimed By Death

Mrs. J. R. Alford died at her home near Palmer Springs on Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. She was 66 years of age.

Funeral services were conducted at Mt. Auburn church on Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Whitten, pastor. Pallbearers were E. T. Spain, D. A. Spain, C. H. Curtis, L. A. Moody, B. E. Moody, J. M. Moody.

Mrs. Alford is survived by her husband and nine children, J. B. Alford of Norlina, J. H. Alford of Tarboro, Mrs. E. T. Spain of Norlina, J. B. Alford of Norfolk, Mrs. R. M. Thomas of LaCrosse, Va., W. T. Alford and H. Alford of Roanoke Rapids, Mrs. R. D. Talbert of Hopewell, Va., and Miss Fannie Alford of Norlina.

Secretary To General Robert E. Lee Dies

SYLVA, Nov. 22.—Roland A. Painter, 94-year-old Confederate veteran who served during the War between the State as General Robert E. Lee's private secretary for seven months, died at his home here last night after an illness of many months.

"Uncle Role," as he was known to hundreds, served as a magistrate in Jackson county until two years ago. He was appointed justice of the peace by Governor Brogden 64 years ago.

Two years ago his condition became feeble and he declined to allow friends to elect him for a 63rd time. He had never sought office but always had been elected.

The veteran was married twice and is survived by 14 children and his widow of his second marriage by whom he had three children. He was many times a great-grandfather.

Painter, as a young Confederate soldier, attracted the attention of Captain Andrew Coleman of Company K of the 39th North Carolina regiment and when General Lee chanced to ask Coleman to select a man to act as his private secretary, Painter was chosen.

Signs of Time Point To A Cold Winter

Migratory birds, fur-bearing animals, and even the lowly prairie dog have all put their official stamp of approval on forecasts by the U. S. Weather Bureau that the snow will whirl thick and fast to the tune of howling winds this winter.

Ducks, geese and other migratory fowl started their flights southward earlier than usual this fall. From zoos all over the country keepers report that fur-bearing animals are growing unusually heavy coats. And, as if this formidable array of evidence were not enough, prairie dogs are building such high mounds as they have not constructed since the blizzard of '88.

Although these time honored authorities are not to be sneezed at, the U. S. Weather Bureau issued its forecast without consulting them, basing its prophecy on the law of averages. We have had, says the weather bureau, five consecutive mild winters, and can hardly hope for the sixth in a row. And so it seems that Mr. and Mrs. John Smith should fill the coal bin, dust off the snow shovel, and get the family chariot ready for a long, hard season.

Franklin County Man Arrested On Whiskey Charge

Sid Collins, white man of Franklin county, will face trial in Recorder's court on Monday on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of whiskey. He was arrested Tuesday morning by Deputy Lawrence Robertson a few moments after his car and a car driven by Mrs. Sam Davis wrecked at Liberia.

According to witnesses of the accident Collins was traveling on the left side of the road when he crashed into the automobile driven by Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Davis was traveling in the direction of Rocky Mount and Collins was headed towards Warrenton.

Neither Mrs. Davis nor Mr. Collins was hurt in the wreck. Mr. Collins' car was damaged from the force of the impact.

Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Robertson happened along immediately after the accident and upon investigation discovered a small amount of whiskey in the Collins car. Mr. Collins was arrested and brought to Warrenton where he was placed under bond of $200 to face trial in Recorder's court on Monday morning.

Miss Jones Becomes Bride of L. H. Cook

The marriage of Miss Robert Jemson Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Jones, to Mr. Lloyd Henderson Cook was solemnized at Emmanuel Episcopal church on Saturday, November 19, at eight o'clock. Rev. B. N. de Poe-Wagner, rector, officiated.

The ceremony was performed in utmost simplicity (there being no attendants). The altar and chancel were decked with chrysanthemums and candles. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Ed. Shaw of Henderson, cousin of the bride. The vows were spoken during the playing of "To a Wild Rose."

The bride was becomingly attired in a wool crepe suit of hunter's green, with hat matching, and a black fur cape which was matched by her slippers. She wore a corsage of orchids and lilies of the Valley.

Miss Jones attended North Carolina College for Women and Salem College, and is popularly known throughout the State. Mr. Cook is, originally, of Red Springs, North Carolina; he attended State College where he was a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. During the latter part of the war he served overseas, and returned to graduate as civil engineer.

The guests included only close connections of both families. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jones and Richard Jones Jr., of Henderson; Mrs. Cook and Miss Linda Cook of Red Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook will return here for Thanksgiving.

Davis Tells How To Plant Cabbage

Stating that every family should plant a few cabbage plants without delay, John S. Davis, well known farmer and former representative of Warren county in the legislature at Raleigh, this week recommends the manner in which the plants should be set out. His suggestion follows:

"Every family who has not done so should set out a few plants for early spring without further delay, certainly during November. They should be set in the bottom of trenches 3 inches deep and 16 inches apart, with the whole stalk in the ground to prevent frost killing. If you have never tried this plan do so now upon my responsibility and with favorable weather conditions you will be surprised at the uniform earliness and productiveness."

Teachers Defeated By Graham Girls

The girls' basket-ball team of the John Graham High School defeated the teachers in the third game of the season on Monday night in what was said to have been one of the fastest and best games of the year. The score was 31-15. Miss Rose Kimball starred for the teachers and outstanding playing on the part of the pupils was done by A. Short and Slim King. Another game is expected to be played in the near future, it was said.

ELECTED TRUSTEES

C. R. Rodwell, A. E. Jones and C. A. Tucker were elected members of the Board of Trustees of the John Graham High School at a meeting held in the school building on Monday night.

GARDNER NAMES 12 COMMITTEES

Director of Relief Work In Warren Appoints Township Assistants

FINDS WORK FOR MANY

Working with the view of giving aid where aid is most needed, Jesse Gardner, director of relief in Warren, this week appointed committees from the twelve townships of the county to assist in handling the fund sent here by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Each committee is composed of at least three citizens who are aware of conditions in their immediate vicinity and who will report to Mr. Gardner the needy cases in their locality.

Mr. Gardner said yesterday that by having the assistance of these citizens throughout the county that he was hoping to be in a position to relieve suffering and yet to avoid spending the money where it was not needed.

Each person that makes application for help is asked his or her name, address, age, whether he or she has had any help from the Red Cross, whether there has been a government loan, where he or she last worked, what manner whether there are any dependents, and numerous other questions. The answers are written down and placed on file.

Mr. Gardner said that he had been able to find work for many of those who had made application and at present he was making an effort to get some road work done in this county so there would be more opportunity to offer work to those needing assistance.

The committees in the twelve townships of the county are composed of the following:

River—C. E. Foster, S. D. King and Mrs. Will Fishel.

Six Pound—J. J. Nicholson, E. H. Russell, P. G. Agelasto.

Hawtree—Dr. T. J. Holt, Miss Rena Rodwell and Mrs. Ben Newell.

Smith Creek—Boyd White, Allen Hayes, Mrs. M. C. Johnson.

Nutbush—Will Kimball, J. C. Watkins, Mrs. Joe Jones, Albert Paschall.

Judkins—Jesse Shearin, Mrs. Dol Riggan, Joe Neal.

Shocco—Hunter Pinnell, Paul Cooper, Miss Sadie Limer.

Sandy Creek—Ed Turner, Sam Allen, Mrs. Marvin Aycock.

Fork—Stanley Powell, Ed Faulk Alston, Mrs. Frederick Williams.

Fishing Creek—R. I. Harris, Mrs. R. L. Capps, Mrs. J. F. Hunter, Mrs. Peter Davis.

Roanoke—S. R. Jones, L. N. Kidd, Mrs. Henry Wall.

Warrenton—Mrs. John Dameron, Sam Davis and Walter Hundley.

Record's Display Of Turnips Grows

The Warren Record's turnips display swelled this week when H. F. H. Reid, well known carpenter of Warrenton, brought in a sample of the fruits of his labor. Mr. Reid said that his turnip weighed around nine pounds and boasted that he had more like the sample he exhibited.

Yesterday afternoon three turnips grown by E. F. Alston of Ines were brought here and placed in the window by John Daniel. Mr. Daniel said that he did not know the weight of the turnips, but they stack up well beside the other six exhibited here.

The turnip display was begun last week when Jasper Shearin, farmer of the Churchill section, brought in three turnips, the largest weighing seven pounds. Later in the day C. C. Hunter brought in two turnips that weighed 4-1-2 and 5 pounds.

Stephen B. Mabry Dies At Middleburg

HENDERSON, Nov. 21.—Stephen Benjamin Mabry, 70, one of the best known citizens of Vance county, died rather suddenly at 12:15 p. m., Sunday at his home on Route 50, near Middleburg.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence, and interment followed at Middleburg cemetery. Rev. P. D. Woodall, pastor of Middleburg circuit of the Methodist Episcopal church, was in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. B. C. Thompson, of Norlina Methodist church. Mr. Mabry had been a member of Cokesbury Methodist Episcopal church about twenty years.

The deceased was born in Warren county July 23, 1862, but had been a resident of Vance county and lived at the country home where he died for thirty-seven years.
