RELIEF PROJECTS ARE SUSPENDED

Accord With Order Issued From the Governor's Office of Relief

GARDENS ARE STRESSED

Relief work projects throughout Warren county involving residents on farms have been indefinitely suspended, Jesse Gardner, head of the work in this county, stated yesterday. The suspension of work in this county is in accord with an order issued from the Governor's Office of Relief covering the en_ tire State.

This step is being taken in order to enable all farm families to more effectively devote their energies to gardening and farming, the an_ nouncement said. The suspension is said to be a logical development of the plan to require all persons living on the land to cultivate their own food and feedstuffs as a prerequisite to further relief.

Meanwhile highway maintenance and other essential public works will be carried on uninterrupted by employing non farming pecple. The work of distributing garden seed is now occupying the atten_ tion of Mr. Gardner and his office force. Some time back 1200 packages of seed, each package contain_ ing sufficient seed to plant a one_ acre garden with enough variety for both spring and fall gardens. were received here, and since their arrival applicants for these have been numerous.

The garden seed are for the needy only and if those to whom they are given fail to make a proper effort to raise a garden, a red card is placed opposite their names so they will not receive any more aid from charity. The gardens will be inspected periodically, it is und_ erstood

Mr. Gardner pointed out that since the relief organization has been functioning in the county that 2,877 individuals have been aided LITTLETON, April 14.-At meeting of the Board of Trustees of Littleton High School on Monday night Paul W. Cooper was elected superintendent for the com. ing year. Mr. Cooper has been superintendent of the Afton-Elberon School in Warren County for the past five years.

Due to the uncertainty as to the number of teachers to be employed next year, the election of the re. maining members of the faculty

Frank W. Davis, one time wealthy cil man and contributor to the cause of prohibition, was arrested at his home in the edge of Virginia Wednesday on a whiskey charge. Following his arrest he was taken to Boydton for a hearing. It is not definitely known, but it is thought that satisfactory bond was arranged. When called by telephone yes_ terday, John Keats, one of the members on the raiding party, said that he was under the impression that bond had been given for Mr. Davis. He thought that $500 bond was required.

In Virginia

Mr. Davis was taken into custody Wednesday about noon when a search of his home and premises revealed two stills, four and one_ half gallons of booze and a quantity of beer.

According to Mr. Keats, Mr. Davis said that he found the stills on his place and brought them to his home and stored them in an out_house. Carey Wilson, another member of the raiding party, said that Mr. Davis told them before the search was instituted that he had whiskey in his home but he had it there for his own use.

Prohibition officers of Virginia day morning and after contacting with Warren county officials organized a raiding party and drove the fifteen or twenty miles of red roads through Six Pound township nearly to the river where nestles the home of Mr. Davis, just a short distance from the North Carolina line over in Mecklenburg county. #### Decide To Hold Fiddlers' Meeting

"We're really going to have the Fiddlers' convention after all," R. W. Shaw, manager of the Macon baseball team which is sponsoring the entertainment, assured this week. Two weeks ago the Macon boys requested this paper to give notice that they were going to have a Fiddlers' convention for the benefit of the ball club. A week later they decided to call the convention off, but now they have ironed out their difficulties and have their plans shaped for a big evening on the night of April 14 when the con_ vention is to be staged, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Manager Shaw said that among the entertaining features would be the Louisburg string band and Nor_ nun Ball's band of Wise, each of them having broadcast over North Carolina and Virginia radio stations; Jack Riggan of Warrenton and the Shearin boys of Vaughan as clog dancers; several girl danc_ ers; and last but not least, two dancing prodigies, the Riggan boys cf Macon, age 2 and 4.

Clinic To Be Held At Elberon Today

A clinic will be held this after. noon at 2 o'clock at the Afton_ Elberon School for the purpose of vaccinating children for diphtheria. Parents are invited to bring their children between the ages of six months and ten years for vaccination, which will be done by Dr. Peete. If there are any without transportation means, it will be provided upon notification of the principal of the school. There will be two treatments administered, the second of which will be given about three weeks hence.

Diphtheria Clinic Begin Conducted

One hundred and nineteen pupils attending John Graham school were yesterday afternoon inoculat. ed with toxin_antitoxin as part of the diphtheria clinic which is being given in the various schools of the county by the Warren County Medical Society. The children will receive another dose of the serum two weeks from yesterday. While the physicians were at the school a pre_school clinic was given in connection with the vaccine treatment and 44 pupils were ex. amined.

The first children in the county to receive the serum were those attending the Macon school, The clinic was next started at the Wise school and the students of the Warrenton school were third to receive the preventive medicine. The clinic will be given in the Afton-Elberon school this after. noon, and it is expected that Norlina and other schools of the coun_ ty will fall in line.

The clinic is being given by the Warren County Medical Society, which is composed of Dr. C. H. Peete, Dr. T. J. Holt, Dr. W. D. Rodgers, Dr. G. H. Macon, Dr. F. P. Hunter and Dr. H. H. Foster of Norlina. The doctors rotate in giving the clinic, with two of them going to each school for both inoculations. The serum is given two weeks apart.

One of the stills was a 70_gallon In Warren Schools copper outfit and the other was one of the submarine type of booze manufacturing plants.

The raiding party included prohibition officers of Virginia, Town_ ship Constable John Keats of Boyd_ ton. Va., and the following from Warren county: Sheriff W. J. Pinnell, Constable Fate Weaver, John Carey Davis and Carey Wilson.

The officers encountered no trouble in the raid and arrest. Both Keats and Wilson commented on the genial manner in which Mr. Davis received them, even after the purpose of their visit had been explained, and the way he con_ ducted himself throughout the en_ tire affair.

Mr. Davis contributed funds to the Anti-Saloon League soon after that organization began waging a fight against whiskey in North Car_ olina. That was back in 1919 when he was living in Winchester, Ky., and rolling in wealth. He was re_ garded as being in the millionaire class and his contribution to the cause of prohibition was $5,000. He made his money in oil, and after losing his fortune returned to this state and begun farming operations near the Roanoke river.
