BOARD VETOES

The representative said that if no full-time agent was employed by the county, the Department of Agriculture would send an emergency agent into the county, but that he would be a lower priced man and that he would be permitted to perform work of crop reduction only.

The work of Mr. Bright in the cotton reduction campaign was praised by the state man, who said that it had received special mention from Washington. The Commissioners said that they would be glad to have Mr. Bright as a county agent if it were possible, but that under existing circumstances they did not think the county was able to spend the additional sum required.

The contract for auditing the books and making settlement with the sheriff was awarded to Williams & Wall, accountants, at a cost not to exceed $225.

The Board ordered that William C. Wood, colored, be sent to St. Agnes hospital for treatment for one week only, cost not to exceed $2.00.

Upon motion duly seconded it was ordered that the Auditor make proper correction of acreage and adjustment of taxes on Mrs. J. W. Dowling's property for five years back, it appearing that certain parcels having been sold and being listed without any reductions.

NEW SALOON MUCH

Dr. Wilcox traced the fight on liquor from a personal angle and declared that it looked like for the present the enemies of whiskey were fighting a losing fight, but that the old battle would have to be fought over again and prophesied that the nation would again rise to outlaw whiskey. He said that he had always fought whiskey and that he would continue to do so.

The meeting was presided over by S. M. Gardner, head of the dry forces in Warren county. The Rev. R. E. Brickhouse, Baptist minister, introduced the speaker.

At the conclusion of the address, cards asking for contributions to the cause, and no convention cards were passed among the audience for signatures. While these cards were being passed, H. V. Scarborough of Macon gave a personal testimonial of observation upon the effect of whiskey in destroying the property and character of an outstanding citizen whom he once knew.

WARREN BUDGET

The only change made in the tentative budget, other than a seven cents increase in the Warrenton school district, was one of distribution rather than change of rate. The board voted to levy two cents on the $100 valuation for emergency relief and 13 cents for health and poor.

The change was ordered by the Commissioners after Tom Mattox, Emergency Relief field worker, had appeared before the board with Jesse Gardner, chairman of Emergency Relief in Warren, and told the members that Federal Funds for relief this winter would be handled on a different basis from that used heretofore. This winter, he said, the money sent into the county would be based upon the amount of funds that the county raised for emergency relief purposes, and that money raised for general relief purposes could not be applied for this purpose.

The rate of 66 cents approved by the Commissioners on Monday compares with 59 cents for the past fiscal year. However, valuations have been reduced one-fourth and the total tax bill for the fiscal year 1933-34 has been reduced around 20 per cent.

SEAMAN DECLINES

William R. Hunt Parker continued hearing upon the petition for a receivership for Hotel Warren for 90 days in order to give more time to work out re-organization plans and, if possible, save the cost of a receivership. A short discussion of the Hotel question followed but no action was taken.

A representative of the Barrett Company appeared before the Board asking that his company be awarded a contract for re-surfacing Main Street. Members of the board pointed out that the town was in hope that the State would repair this street with emergency funds supplied by the Federal government and would take no action until this matter was fully determined.

Other matters before the Board were of routine nature and adjournment came after a session of slightly more than one hour, the shortest regular meeting held by the new board since its induction into office.

Farm Questions and Answers

Question: What is the best treatment for the root fort TTTAAA tobacco?

Answer: A three year rotation of resistant crops such as peanuts, Laredo soybeans, and early Bradham cowpeas is the only sure cure for this disease. A two year rotation will sometimes give good results but the three year rotation is best. Where tobacco must be planted on infected soil year after year, early planting will aid in the control for one or two years.

Question: What causes liberneck in poultry and how can it be cured?

Answer: This disease is caused by poison coming from a germ which breeds in decayed animal and vegetable matter. Eating maggots from this material will cause the disease. Where the flock is infected, all birds should be put up until the source of infection is found and destroyed. While the flock is con-
