Red Cross Roll Call To Begin On November 11th

By W. W. TAYLOR JR.
Roll Call Chairman

The annual Red Cross Roll Call drive takes place in a little over a week, starting on Nov. 11, Armistice Day, and lasting until Nov. 30. Naturally when a movement of this importance occurs, there is much argument both for and against it. Many who have been loyal contributors in the past say that they are opposed to the Red Cross this year because in many instances food and clothing have been unwisely distributed in this and other counties during the past year; that many who were not actually in need profited by this generosity.

Perhaps in some cases this was true, that some unworthy persons did share in the food and clothing that were turned loose in this part of the country. However, those who put up an argument of this nature overlook the fact that for every person not in need who received articles given away by the Red Cross, at least ten persons in dire necessity also received food and clothing. It is absolutely impossible to use the wisdom of a Solomon in affairs of this nature. Mistakes will naturally occur whenever it is necessary for human beings to exercise judgment. However, the mistakes, if any, were far more than offset by the good that was done. Many who were aided would have gone without clothes, would have starved to death, but for the Red Cross. It is far better that ten unworthy ones should be benefited than that one who is actually in want should suffer.

The food and clothing that was given away was furnished by the Federal Government. When the Government first decided to enter this wholesale relief work, those in charge of the project figured that it would cost the Government $10,000,000 to set up distributive bases all over the nation. They realized that this was a larger burden than the taxpayers would be willing to carry. They therefore appealed to the Red Cross to take charge of the work of distributing the supplies to the needy of the country. (Continued on Page 2)

Norlina Man Held Account Accident

GREENSBORO, Oct. 31.—Two McLeansville school teachers, Miss Ora Jones, 27, and Miss Ethel Swanson, 22, were fatally injured on state highway No. 10, about eight miles east of the city, about seven o'clock Monday evening when the Ford coupe in which they were riding was struck by a truck as the former machine was making a left turn from the highway.

Miss Swanson, whose home was at Lenoir and who was owner of the coupe, was reported instantly killed, while Miss Jones, whose home was at Ossipee, died while enroute in a Hanes ambulance to a local hospital. It was learned that Miss Jones' neck was broken and that Miss Swanson's skull was fractured.

An investigation by county officers resulted in a formal manslaughter charge being preferred against the truck driver, P. L. Bobbitt, of Norlina, who told the officers that his machine crashed into the left rear of the coupe as the automobile started to make a left turn from the highway. Both machines were traveling east on the highway, and Bobbitt said that the driver of the coupe failed to signal for the left turn as he started to pass on (Continued on Page 8)

Automobile World Sees First Streamline Queen

You may not see the exact car design above at the automobile shows this winter or on the roads at an early day but it is a design shown by the Briggs Company at an early Detroit show this month. It marks a radical change in design to eliminate every possible ounce of wind resistance: get stream line; increase seating space by having no running board; and, amongst other things, a front wheel drive with engine in rear of car.

Charge Highway Robbery Preferred Against Negro

A charge of highway robbery has been preferred against Jack Blackwell, 19 or 20-year-old negro, who is alleged to have held up B. W. Wynn and robbed him of a pair of second army shoes and $2 in cash.

Fred Bobbitt who arrested Blackwell and recovered the shoes and money, said that Wynn accused the negro of holding him up with a gun, but that Blackwell had denied having a weapon.

Wynn, it was stated, was traveling down the road on foot with his shoes in his hand when he was robbed. The crime is alleged to have taken place on a public road near Ridgeway.

The negro was given a hearing before Magistrate J. C. Hardy of Norlina and bound over to Superior court under bond of $100.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. Bobbitt was in the clerk of court's office seeking an order from William Newell to allow him to return the shoes to Wynn. Mr. Newell stated that he hated for anyone to have to go barefooted these chilly mornings but his office did not give him authority to order the shoes returned.

Nearly 200,000 Quarts Of Food Canned In Warren

One hundred and seventy-eight thousand and eighty-six quarts of food were canned in Warren county for relief families, it was learned yesterday from Jesse Gardner, chairman of the relief organization in this county. In addition, Mr. Gardner pointed out, 41,169 pounds of fruit were dried, and 1,113 quarts were canned by the Wise Training School.

In giving out this information, Mr. Gardner stated that it hardly was possible to put a value on the instruction and assistance given the more than two thousand families in Warren county. "This constructive work should prove of value in the years to come as well as the present time," he said.

In addition to the thousands of quarts of food that are available for future use, the gardens which were made available in this county through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation gave the needy families of Warren vegetables during the spring and summer months.

In each township there were representatives of the relief organization to give assistance in canning, but the actual work of preserving the food was done by the producers, it is understood. "The canning supervisors," Mr. Gardner said, "did some great work in this county and it is to them that special credit is due for putting the program over." A list of them follows:

Mrs. W. A. Connell, Mrs. H. Evans Coleman, Mrs. W. F. Mustian, Mrs. Alice Rooker, Miss Eleanor Capps, Mrs. Simon Gardner, Mrs. Willis Neal, Miss Miriam Best, Mrs. Sam D. King, Mrs. S. R. Jones, Mrs. J. F. Hunter, Mrs. Peter Davis, Miss Mamie Burroughs, Miss Eula Allen, Mrs. W. H. Ayscue, Miss Anna Ridout, Mrs. Will Harris.

Two Negroes Face Judge Taylor In Recorder's Court

Disturbing public worship and possessing whiskey were the charges that brought two defendants, both of them negroes, before Judge W. W. Taylor in Recorder's court on Monday morning. A plea of guilty was entered in each case.

Marion Watson was arrested by Sheriff Pinnell and Deputy Robertson as he was leaving the upstairs of Ramsey's cafe. A search of his clothes revealed several pints of booze. Judge Taylor sentenced him to four months on the roads, suspended on the condition that he pay a $25 fine and court costs.

Genie Rodwell was sentenced to 30 days on the roads for disturbing public worship. Evidence was that he attended church in a drunken condition and interrupted services by his conversation. The road sentence was suspended on the condition that the defendant pay the court costs.

J. W. Carroll, white man charged with possessing whiskey, will be tried by a jury next week. When his case was called this week, William Taylor, his attorney, notified the court that his client desired a jury trial.

Fagg Says He's No Tame Turkey Shot

"I haven't shot a gun in fifteen years," Judge W. C. Fagg stated yesterday when questioned in regard to a rumor that is going the rounds about a warrant being out for him shooting a turkey down to Halifax county several days ago. "It's nothing to that—just a case of mistaken identity," the Warren magistrate stated and then gave the following account of what happened:

Some fellow was riding from Littleton to Hollister when he espied three turkeys along the roadside. "See those wild turkeys? Have you a gun?" he asked of his companion.

"They look like tame turkeys to me," his companion replied. "No, I can tell by the way they hold their heads," he assured and then drove off some distance to borrow a gun.

Coming back to the scene, he found the turkeys and fired. One turkey fell to his shot and another was wounded. Picking up his game, he drove back to a lady's home to return the gun. There she greeted him with the remark:

"I wish I could get me a wild (Continued on Page 8)

VOTERS TO GO GO POLLS TUESDAY

Warren Record To Receive
Returns From County On Tuesday Night

QUESTION IS IN DOUBT

Marking the end of a rather listless campaign, voters of Warren county will go to the polls on next Tuesday, November 7, to cast their votes for or against the repeal of the 18th Amendment to the Federal Constitution.

Two questions are to be determined. One of these is whether or not a convention shall be held. The other is whether a repeal or anti-repeal delegate shall be sent to the convention in the event that it is held. Two ballots will be used. One will bear the wording, "Convention" and "No Convention." The other ballot will contain the names of C. R. Rodwell and W. T. Polk. Voters desiring to vote for repeal will place a cross mark opposite Mr. Polk's name; those voting against repeal, will place a cross mark opposite Mr. Rodwell's name.

The listlessness of the campaign, and the lack of vocal expression on the part of citizens has made the job of prognosticator rather difficult and just how the county will go can not be determined until all the votes are in.

Returns will be received from over the county at the office of The Warren Record on Tuesday night as soon as results are tabulated. Interested citizens are invited to come to this office for information.

Thirty-three states have already voted on the repeal question, all of them voting repeal. Six others will vote on next Tuesday. Three out of the six are necessary for repeal; extreme anti-repealists concede that the majority of the six will vote for repeal.
