SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Christianity and Patriotism. Lesson for May 13th. Matthew 22. Golden Text: Matt. 22:37-39.

"Pay therefore what is Caesar's to Caesar and what is God's to God." In these famous words Jesus advises obedience to both God and the state. It is possible, He says, to serve both. But it is perfectly clear that loyalty to God, in the Master's back salaries of teachers in mind, must take precedence over the Littleton and Macon loyalty to Caesar. It was for His districts will come as good excess of faith in God that our Lord was crucified.

Now we live in a day when this fundamental issue is very much to demnation to the citizens of the fore. The agitation aroused by the state, who have prob-demands of an absolute character, ably done their best, but in made by the state in opposition to Christian principles, has reached an acute stage. The lines are clearly North Carolina we point out drawn. On the one hand are the that their salaries have been nationalists who, in the name of cut to a deplorable level and patriotism, insist upon an unqualified conformity to the edicts of the state. Maybe the shortest verse in the scriptures was not apropos but of ing tax rate, the end of debt its own volition it came into my mind as a man and woman came before the Board of County Commissioners on Monday asking for a place to shelter them. Both of a subnormal type, the man, a secthe woman in her late thirties, said that they had been evicted from their home after they had failed to pay any rent for 15 months, and that they had no place for themselves or for their eight children. The commissioners made arrangement to rent a home and move them in, and Jesse Gardner, Relief with a team in order that they the county. might raise sufficient food to take care of themselves through the approaching winter.

It was reported that the woman had been in trouble in Granville county and that instead of sentencing her to the penitentiary the the June Primary. Your support presiding Judge had banished her from that county and that she, with her troubles had been dumped on Warren.

From evidence submitted to the commissioners it would be hard to find in the county a more unworthy case, but there were the children to be considered; there are always the children. It seems that the lower the type mentally, almost invariably, the larger the number of

It was not any feeling of sympathy for this man or woman, nor even for helpless children in this case, that would drive one to tears. Rather it was the plight of a people afflicted with such people, and there are hundreds of similar cases in the county and thousands in the state.
