

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

The Risen Lord and the Great Commission.

Lesson for June 17th. Matthew 28. Golden Text: Matt. 28:19,20.

The Golden Text proclaims the Great Commission for the promotion of the missionary enterprise. It constitutes the marching orders of the Christian Society.

I wonder if we realize to what an astonishing extent the missionary spirit and method are glorified by the pages of our New Testament. Every book in the New Testament was written by a foreign missionary. Every New Testament letter written to a church was directed to a foreign missionary church. Every New Testament letter written to an individual was directed to a convert of a foreign missionary. Of the twelve apostles, every one, save Judas, became a missionary.

The language of the New Testament, moreover, is of a missionary character.

Now striking changes have taken place in recent years in the areas where missionaries labor, and in the conduct of their work. Consider how marvelously the world has shrunk! The automobile, the airplane, the radio, and the telephone have made the whole world a neighborhood. Geographic frontiers have thus been eliminated, and the traditional distinction between home and foreign missions abolished.

Think, too, of the way in which the ideal of a self-governing, self-sustaining native church is being approached. The days of western supremacy are passing. To an increasing extent missionary work is being taken over by the nationals of the various countries.

Another notable change is the intense emphasis upon the social gospel.

Still another change is the advance in missionary co-operation. There are about forty foreign mission boards in the United States and Canada, all working together in harmony. Denominationalism is thus breaking down on foreign soil. Truly we are living in stirring days!

HEAVY DOCKET

(Continued from Page One) he was good to her. The defendant said that he used the whiskey to ease the pain which he suffered as a result of being gassed.

James Williams, negro, was found guilty of an assault on his own premises and received a suspended sentence on the condition that he pay the costs in the action.

Zeb Collins, white man who left the Warren County Prison Camp without permission and remained a fugitive from justice for more than a month, was brought before Judge Taylor to pay the penalty of escaping from the road force. He was sentenced to 30 days in prison, his sentence to begin at the expiration of the term he is now serving.

A charge of assault was booked against Ernest Stanley, white man, but trial was postponed until next week when the evidence will be presented before a jury. Likewise, the case against Tom Corroll and Pauline Buret, white people charged with assault, was postponed until May 18.

A charge of assault with deadly weapon written opposite the name of Walter Collier, was continued until next week, and the case against Clifton Jones, negro charged with bastardy, will not be heard before July 2.

The large docket gave Recorder Taylor one of the busiest days that he has had in the court room in months. Court was in session until 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

KELLY-PINNELL

Of widespread interest was the wedding of Miss Addie Pinnell and Mr. Ralph Kelly of Broadway, N. C., which took place at Providence church at 12 o'clock on Tuesday, May 29. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Kenneth Tucker, classmate of the bridegroom.

The church was banked with pine with tall baskets of pink and white peonies. Prior to the ceremony a musical selection was rendered by Mrs. J. C. Burwell of Warrenton, and Mr. Malcolm McCloud of Broadway sang "I Love You Truly."

Ushers were Mr. Howard Daniel and Mr. Walter C. Burroughs Jr., who were the first to enter and take their places. They were followed by Miss Maria Pinnell, as maid of honor. She wore a beautiful dress of ashes of roses with white accessories and carried an arm bouquet of white roses showered with white sweet peas. Next to enter was little Miss Josephine Pinnell, sister of the bride, dressed in pink organdie, strewing rose petals in the path of the bride, and little George Fleetwood Bowden, cousin of the bride, dressed in white linen and carrying the ring on a pillow.

The bride was escorted by her father by whom she was given in marriage. The bridegroom had as his best man Rev. J. T. Joyce of Henderson, also one of his classmates.

The bride was lovely in a navy blue ensemble with blue accessories and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses showered with lilies of the valley. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pinnell, and is a popular member of the younger set. She received her education at E. C. T. C., Greenville, and has taught several years at the Broadway and Battleboro schools.

Mr. Kelly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kelly of Broadway. He holds a position in Washington, D. C. After a brief bridal tour they will make their home in Washington.

Aspen Notes

By C. R. DAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Pitchford have returned from Florida. They found their home in A-1 condition with the exception of the well, which needed repairs.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Cheek and little daughter, Vivian, spent Sunday, June 3, at the home of Mrs. Cheek's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Best of Airle.

Mr. R. T. Cheek has recently moved from Aspen to Embro. He is employed by Mr. Willis Neal as miller, mechanic and farm overseer. Mr. Cheek has an extraordinary talent for invention. The first of August he expects to be able to present to the public a new invention called perpetual motion, which I feel sure will be a great success.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheek have an educated dog, named Trixy. When they go to feed him he will lie on his back and "die" for food. On one of their recent trips they forgot the little dog and left it at home to play the radio. When they returned he was lying playfully on a rug listening to his Master's favorite old songs, "The Spinning Wheel in the Parlor," and "Get Along Little Doggie, Get Along."

In place of an egg-beater, rim a fruit jar with cold water to prevent sticking, break your eggs into the jar and shake. It's simple and satisfactory.

Take the vinegar and spices from your sweet pickles and preserve them until you are making a salad dressing. You'll find it gives your dressing a new and delicious flavor.

Ask your butcher to cut off the long end pieces of your porterhouse steak, leaving the tissue intact. Have him put this section of the meat through the meat grinder twice and then replace it in the place with the tissue he kept intact. This part of the steak is tender and attractive when served.
