Main Headquarters For Four Counties Located At Henderson; Two Go There

GARDNER ENDS WORK

Jesse Gardner, who for the past 25 months has served as director of relief for Warren county, yesterday ended his duties and will return to his farming interests at

The Warrenton office of relief has ties with headquarters at Henderson, where J. Edward Rooker Jr., and Miss Christine Felts, formerly with the Warrenton office, are now employed.

A branch office will be maintained at Warrenton to carry on the relief work in Warren county. Mrs. van Davis, Mrs. Joe Jones, Mrs. W. L. Harris and Miss Susie Rooker have been retained to look after work in Warren and for the present will retain the same office in the Dameron building that they have been using for several months.

Such was not the case.

Mr. Skinner's motion, after stating that the commissioners had made an investigation of grand jury charges relative to conditions at the County Home, said among other things that "We (the board) find that the evidence does not warrant any censure of the present administration of the County Home. . . . We respectfully asking the incoming Grand Jury for further instructions.'

Monday two of the commissioners called the attention of this newspaper to the fact that the motion had not been passed with a request that a correction be made.

Gains of Seventy Millions Seen For Two Major Crops

Raleigh, Dec. 13.-The AAA in its first year has been worth approximately $70,000,000 to producers of North Carolina's two major crops alone, estimates based on State Department of Agriculture statistics

Including benefits from the AAA, in addition to the higher prices created by acreage controlled production, tobacco growers in the State have received $122,000,000 so far and are expected to receive a total of $140,000,000 for their weed. This is an increase of nearly $57,-000,000 over last years' approximate $83,000,000 total.

Also including benefits from the AAA, but exclusive of the yield the State, likewise benefiting from acreage controlled production, are expected to receive about $47,000,000 $33,000,000 brought by the 1933 from the two.

The State is expected to produce 650,000 bales of cotton this year, the State and Federal Crop Report-(Continued on page 10)
